Islam and Iman

Both the words, Islam and Iman, are used synonymously. Allah Ta’ala says: “Verily (the true) Deen by Allah is Islam.” (Aayat No. 19 Surah A’ale Imran) “Whoever searches for a Deen other than Islam, never will it be accepted from him. (i.e. His adoption of any other religion will never be acceptable to Allah Ta’ala). And, in the Akhirah he (the one who chooses another religion) will be ruined.” (Aayat No. 85, Surah A’ale Imran) “Whoever among you turns away from his Deen (Islam) and then dies being a kaafir, his good deeds will be ruined in this world and the Aakhirah. Such people are the inmates of the Fire; therein will they remain forever.” (Aayat 217, Surah Baqara)

The ruin of one’s deeds in this world is the nullification of one’s Nikah. By renegading from Islam, the renegade’s (murtad’s) wife falls out of his Nikah. He is also deprived of inheritance. He will not inherit in the estate of any Muslim. After death there is no Janaazah Salaat for him. The ruin of one’s deeds in relation to the Aakhirah is the everlasting residence in Jahannum.

If a murtad (one who renounced Islam) returns to the fold of Islam, he will have to renew his Nikah with the woman who was previously his wife. This renewal will be with her consent and approval. If she refuses, it cannot be imposed on her and she cannot be compelled to marry him. Allah Ta’ala says: “O People of Iman! Believe in Allah, His Rasool, in the Kitab which He has revealed to His Rasool and in those Kitabs which were revealed before (Rasulullah sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Whoever commits kufr (i.e. disbelieves) with Allah, with His Angels, with His Books, with His Rasools and with the Day of Qiyaama, verily, he has gone far astray. Undoubtedly, those who were (first) Muslims then became kaffir; then again Muslims; then again kaafir (and remained so to the last), have gone multiplying in kufr. Allah will never forgive such people nor will He show them the Road (of Jannat).” (Aayat No. 136-137 Surah Al-Nisa)

Allah Ta’ala says: “Verily, those who have rejected Our laws, soon will We enter them into a dreadful Fire. Therein (there condition will be such that) when their skins have become scorched (and burnt out), We will immediately replace the skin so that they suffer the punishment (forever). Verily, Allah is most Powerful and the Wise. (Aayat No. 56, Surah Al-Nisa)
Those who have adopted Iman and practiced righteousness, soon will We enter them into such Paradises under which flow rivers. They will dwell therein forever. Therein will be pure wives for them. We will enter them into a dense shade (of coolness).

(Aayat No. 57 – Surah Al-Nisa)

In these aayaat some of the bounties of Jannat for the people of Islam and some of the terrors and hardships of Jahannum are mentioned for the rejectors of Islam. Other aayaat and ahadith explain these in greater detail.

O Muslims! The life of this world is insignificant. If you remain steadfast on Islam irrespective of whether you have to suffer some hardship, the comforts and luxuries which you will experience and enjoy immediately after death, will obliterate the memory of any difficulty or hardship which you had undergone here on earth.

If due to some baneful motive, greed, fear or hardship you turned away from Islam Allah forbid! You will experience and suffer such terror and punishment immediately after death that you will forget whatever comfort and luxury you had enjoyed here on earth. You will never be able to escape that misfortune and dread which will overtake you after death. Hence, a person with the least amount of understanding will not renounce Islam for the sake of even the kingdom of the whole world.

O Allah! Guide our brethren and straighten their intelligence.
Acquisition of and imparting Deeni knowledge

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The acquisition of (Deeni) knowledge is compulsory on every Muslim.” (Ibn Majah).

This hadith proves that it is obligatory upon every Muslim, male and female, rich and poor, city dweller and villager, to seek Deeni knowledge.

Acquisition of Deeni knowledge is not confined to the medium of the Arabic language. The teachings of the Deen are to be required through the medium of either Arabic books or non-Arabic books or by enquiring from reliable Ulama or by listening to lectures of reliable and qualified lecturers. Women who are unable to read and cannot reach any Alim, should through the agency of their men-folk enquire from the Ulama about their Deeni requirements. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “O Abu Zarr (a Sahaabi) if you go anywhere to learn one aayah of the Qur’aan, it is better for you than a hundred rakaats (Nafl) Salaat; if you go anywhere to acquire one law of the knowledge (of Deen), it is better for you than performing a thousand rakaats (Nafl) Salaat, irrespective of whether you practised on it (the knowledge) or not.” (Ibn Majah)

The immense value and significance of Deeni knowledge are manifest from this hadith. Some people contend that knowledge without practice is futile. This view is erroneous because the hadith states with clarity the great merit of acquiring Deeni knowledge even if one did not practise in accordance. There are three reasons for this great significance of knowledge even if one does not practise according to what has been acquired. These are:

1. Knowledge prevents one from going astray because of the realization of the truth. This in itself is a great treasure.

2. Knowledge of the Deen will, Insha’ Allah, induce one to act in accordance with it sometime or the other. Insha’ Allah, a man of knowledge will someday obtain the taufeeq to make amal (to practise according to the demands of knowledge).

3. Knowledge enables one to instruct other in the truth. One in possession of Deeni knowledge is in a position to impart that knowledge thereby disseminating the law of Allah Ta’ala. This too is of great merit and of tremendous thawaab.
Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The noblest charity is that a Muslim acquires some knowledge (of the Deen), then imparts it to a brother Muslim.” (In Majah).

This hadith urges the impartation of Deeni knowledge in whatever measure one has acquired. Its thawaab is greater than all acts of charity. Subhaanallah! How gracious is Allah! He bestows the greatest of thawaab for slight effort of the tongue. Such huge amount of thawaab can never be attained by expending even large sums of money in charity.

Allah Ta’ala says: “O people of Iman! Save yourself and your families from the Fire.” (Aayat 6, Al-Tahreem)

Explaining this aayat, Hadhrat Ali Rasulullah (radiallahu anhu) says that it means: “Teach your family acts of virtue (i.e.) Deeni acts."

It is manifest from this aayat and hadith that teaching the Deen to one’s wife and children is compulsory. Failing to discharge this obligatory duty will result in the punishment of the Fire as stated in the aayat.

(All ahadith mentioned so far have been taken from the kitaab, Targheeb)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that among the good deeds of believers, which will continue to build up (as capital) after one’s death is Deeni knowledge which was imparted to others. This applies to even a single mas’alah (rule) shown to another. Among such deeds. Is the dissemination of the Deen for example by means of writing or purchasing books and distributing these or by assisting students pursuing Deeni knowledge. Also among the virtuous deeds, the thawaab of which will be perpetuated after one’s death are pious children. The hadith mentions some other acts of virtue as well in this regard. (Ibn Majah and Baihaqi)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “No one has given his children anything better than adab (which in this context refers to Deeni knowledge).” (Tirmizi and Baihaqi)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala makes Jannat a surety for a man who looks after three daughters or three sisters.
He imparts knowledge to them; is kind to them until such time that Allah Ta’ala relieves him of their responsibility (i.e. until they get married).”

Someone then enquired regarding two daughters and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) mentioned the same reward for caring for two daughters. Another person enquired in regard to one daughter Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that this thawaab and significance are for caring for even one daughter. (These ahadith have been extracted from Mishkaat).

Acquisition and teaching of Deeni knowledge being fardh (compulsory) and the considerable thawaab therefore are established by these ahadith (cited above) as well as by many other Ahadith. The highest degree for such knowledge is that which qualifies one as an Aalim of the Deen. However, all people do not have the ability, determination and opportunity to become Ulama. Nevertheless, Deeni knowledge is incumbent upon all, hence a simple method of acquiring such knowledge will be explained. This simple method enables the general public to acquire Deeni knowledge, thereby discharging their incumbent duty and obtaining the thawaab promised in this regard. This simple way is as follows:

1. Those versant with the Urdu language should study authentic Urdu books of the Deen, e.g. Beheshti Zewar, Taleemud Deen, Qasdus Sabeel, Tableegh-e-Deen and Tasheelul Mawaaiiz. These books should be studied in lesson form from a reliable Alim. If the services of such a teacher are not available then read and study these books on your own until you find someone able to teach you. Wherever you do not understand, make a marks; seek clarification whenever you meet someone of knowledge. Whatever knowledge you acquire in this way, impart it to others also. Make a special effort to teach such knowledge which you have acquired to your wife and children.

2. Those unable to read Urdu should endeavour to enlist the services of one who is versant in Urdu. The instructor should read and explain the books to his class. At the same time they should refer their Deeni questions to him for explanation. It is best and most beneficial if such a knowledgeable man can be engaged permanently. If necessary, he should be paid a salary which should be the responsibility of the community. All can contribute towards this salary. To raise a salary for an Ustad is not at all difficult. People squander considerable amounts of money on unnecessary and unlawful worldly luxuries. Contributing a bit towards one’s own Deeni life which in reality is the capital and means of one’s everlasting life in the Aakhirah, is no sacrifice.
In appointing a teacher and selecting the books for the syllabus do not be directed by personal opinion and choice. Seek the advice of a pious Alim.

3. Refer your affairs to some pious Alim so that you may know and understand if your affairs and activities are in conformity with the Shariah. Whenever you wish to embark on a venture, Deeni or worldly, and you are not certain of the Shar'i ruling and requirements pertaining to that venture, then seek the advice and guidance of a pious Alim. What you learn in this way, impart it to others as well. Should you not have the opportunity of going personally to such an Alim then seek his counsel and guidance by means of a letter. To ensure a quick reply and to make it easy for the Alim, enclose a self-addressed and prepaid postage envelope in your letter.

4. Occasionally endeavour to meet pious Ulama; sit in their company and listen to their talks and advice. It is very beneficial to go specially to meet them. However, if you lack the means of going to meet them or the opportunity does not arise and no such pious Alim is nearby, then whenever such an opportunity comes your way take advantage of it and spend some time in their company. When in the company of such an Alim ask him about your Deeni affairs.

5. Another important duty is to occasionally invite a reliable and good Deeni lecturer to your town or neighbourhood. When contemplating to invite a lecturer, seek the advice of a pious Alim. Do not invite just anyone. When listening to his wa’z (lecture) do so with great attention so that the love and fear of Allah enter your heart. Practising in accordance with the commands of the Deen will then be a simple matter.

The above is a brief explanation of several simple ways of learning and teaching Deeni knowledge. Determination and steadfastness will result in the easy acquisition of the essential teachings of the Deen.

In addition to the adoption of the aforementioned methods, it is essential to abstain from two harms:

a. Never attend or participate in the gatherings and functions of the kuffaar and those who have gone astray. Firstly, words of kufr and dhalaal (deviation) produce darkness in the heart. Secondly, at such gatherings there is the possibility of a Muslim being provoked; his Imaan may become inflamed because of haraam acts being committed or statements of blasphemy uttered. His anger may lead to dispute and strife. On the other hand, if one is unable to voice one’s anger, one will be overtaken by depression and frustration. One’s peace of mind will be wrecked.
b. Refrain from disputes. In the majority of cases debates produce darkening of the heart, ill-feeling and frustration.

Another very harmful effect of attending such gatherings and functions and engaging in debates is doubt and confusion. A statement of falsehood or kufr may throw the unqualified one, the one with insufficient knowledge into great mental confusion. One may be influenced by the baatil and due to insufficient knowledge the doubt will linger and not be dispelled. Thus by attending such functions one unnecessarily invites great spiritual calamity upon oneself. One attends at the peril of one’s Iman. Should anyone attempt to goad you into a debate, refuse firmly and refer him to the Ulama.

Adherence to these instructions and methods, will Insha’ Allah, ensure Deeni and Imani health. You will be fortified spiritually and morally; you will be saved from the diseases which attack the Deen. May Allah Ta’ala assist you and grant you Taufeeq.

The Revolution of the Ummah

"Ummat, Ummati")

The revolution of the Ummah in relation to this cry of "Ummati" does not have for its goal, worldly revolution. Thus the term ‘revolution’ must not be understood in the context of worldly change and revolution. Although a discussion regarding the mundane revolution of the Ummah is not futile, nevertheless, the dimension of change falling within the purview of our discussion here is Deeni Revolution. The change or revolution which is the aim and goal of Islam has no affinity and no relationship with the kind of mundane changes which have overtaken the Ummah.

A study of the life conditions of a disobedient Ummati in relation to the detailed laws and rules of the Shariah will produce the stunning revelation that there is absolutely no affinity and connection between the Ummati and the Shariah.

The following are the constituent parts of the Deen: Aqaa’id (Beliefs) Diyaanaat (salaat, Saum, Nikah, Talaaq, etc.), Muaamalaat (Transactions, contracts, trade etc), Muaasharaat (social life, e.g. food, dress, speech, salaam, etc.) and Akhlaaq (Moral character).

Regarding Aqaa’id, it is indeed fortunate that the ‘revolution’ of rejection has not yet overtaken the Ummah. Beliefs are not outrightedly rejected although some changes have taken place under cover of the Deen. The type of changes affected under cover of Deen fall within the scope of bid’ah (innovation).
It is for the sake of bid’ah that the Ahl-e-Baatil (People of falsehood) have become the opponents of the Ahle-e-Haq (People of truth) because of the latter’s endeavour to rectify the error of bidah. In short the NUSOOS (Quran & Hadith) have not been refuted. But they have been subjected to baseless and erroneous interpretation (Ta’weel Baatil).

The evil condition of baseless interpretation is the malady which has overcome the Ulama. But the modernists (i.e. the self-styled reformists, luminaries and western-educated Muslims-Translator) have transgressed further by having adopted the revolution of rejection as well. They not only baselessly interpret the Nusus, but outrightly reject these as well. In fact, they at times mock and jeer at the beliefs of Islam. As a result of their mocking and jesting at the Deen, the Guardians of Islam (the Ulama-e-Haqq) have labeled them with kufr. The modernist reactionaries in turn retaliated with epithets such as ‘bigots’ against the Ulama. But those aware of the nature of kufr will not be deluded. They will know that the Ulama had no choice in the matter. They are under Shari compulsion to proclaim such kufr. They will therefore be in agreement with the Ulama.

This, then, is the state of the ‘revolution’ which has overtaken the first constituent part of Deen, viz. Aqaaid.

Regarding the revolution in the second part, viz, Diyaanaat (Salaat, Saum, etc.) the masses have not wrought a ‘revolution; of bid’ah in it, i.e. they have not changed the actual acts and laws pertaining to the teachings in this department of the Shariah, but they have subjected it to neglect and omission. Their attitude of neglect towards this part of Deen is so marked that it conveys the impression that Salaat, Saum, etc., are not obligatory acts of worship. The same attitude of indifference has been adopted in regard to maters pertaining to Nikah, Talaaq, etc. While accepting these issues to be integral parts of the Deen, as well as accepting the exposition and explanation of these issues given by the Ulama, the general public act on the basis of desire. In a conflict between a Deeni demand and the nafs, the latter asserts its domination. For example: the commission of fornication; living together as man and wife inspite of having administered three Talaaq.

This condition of neglect, indifference and omission regarding the second constituent part of Deen applies to the masses. However, the modernists (the products of western education) have no hesitation in denying the validity of even these teachings and practices of the Deen.
The change which the remaining three parts of Deen, viz., Muaamalaat, Muaasharaat and Akhlaaq, have suffered is by far graver than the revolution which has overtaken the first two departments of Deen. Even the masses, due to ignorance, have excluded these three constituent parts from the Deen. These three departments are regarded as mundane affairs matters applicable to only the world and as such to be decided upon and chosen by opinion and fancy. Thus, impure motives and corruption of the heart have played havoc in these three fields of the Deen. This attitude of crookedness and corruption in understanding have brought into existence a new practice, a new custom and a new habit in opposition to almost every rule and demand of the Shariah in these three departments. A conglomeration of practices, customs and habits having no affinity and sanction in the Shariah now constitutes the way of life of the Ummah.

In having chosen an un-Islamic innovated way of life, the masses do not feel the slightest inhibition because they do not consider themselves to have erred in this respect. On the contrary, they proudly regard their newly adopted (un-Islamic) way of life as progress. In fact, they regard their personal practices, customs and ways which they have introduced in opposition to the Divine rules and etiquette of conduct to be superior to the Shariah. This fact their attitude is amply demonstrated by the server and unbridled opposition they offer those who call them towards the true Law and Way of life of a Muslim, viz., the Sunnah.

This has indeed been a drastic change in the Ummah. In the first two departments of Deen (viz., Aqaa'id and Diyaanaat) the constituent parts were not exercised from the Deen nor were other beliefs and devotional acts of worship introduced in opposition to those of the Shariah. In other words, in so far as belief and practice are concerned, no Muslim considers any act or practice (which may have been innovated) to be superior to Salaat, Saum, etc. The changes in these two departments are in relation to baseless interpretation (Ta’weel Baatil), neglect, omission and addition to the existing valid practices of Ibaadat. But, the gravity and magnitude of the changes in the latter three departments are so great that these, viz., Muaamalaat, Muaasharaat and Akhlaaq, have been actually detached and expelled from the Deen. After this excision, new rules and norms of conduct have been adopted in diametric opposition to the Shariah’s conduct and culture. To aggravate the issue, the newly adopted un-Islamic culture has been assigned superiority over the original culture of Islam.
Thus the change wrought in the latter three departments of the Deen are vastly greater and more drastic than the ‘revolution’ which the first two departments of the Deen have suffered.
The external manifestation and occurrence of the changes in the latter three departments are both abundant and conspicuous. Aqaa’id, although compulsory, are not externally conspicuous. The change wrought in beliefs is therefore less discernable. The occurrence of Diyaanaat (e.g. Salaat, Saum) is in specific times, hence the change in this department too is relatively less in abundance and conspicuousness. But, the last three departments of the Deen (viz. Muaamalaat, Muaasharaat and Akhlaaq) are applicable at all times and in abundance since they govern every facet of man’s life and movement. Therefore, the change which these three departments underwent is abundant and very conspicuous. Indeed a great revolution of detriment has overtaken the latter three avenues of the Deen.
Due to the abundance and conspicuousness of this change, an observer will at all times witness the transition the great change in the members of the Ummah. The observer (acquainted with true and original Islamic culture) when witnessing this profound change constantly in a member of the Ummah who simultaneously sends up the slogan of(I am of the Ummah of Muhammad sallallahu alayhi wasallam) will indeed be astounded. He will be struck with surprise and wonder. He will ask: “On what does the claimant bases his slogen? In which respect and in what does he agree with Muhammad (sallallahu alayhi wasallam)? On what does he stake his claim”?
O Muslims! You are again being warned of your condition of degradation. You have to be alert. You must awaken from your slumber. If even now you fail to wake up, then may Allah help! If you have realized your fallen state your fall from the pedestal of glory then have you not realized that its reformation and its restoration to its former lofty state are incumbent upon you? If it is incumbent in other words, if indeed you do acknowledge this incumbency then what are you waiting for? When will you commence with your spiritual reformation which will bring about your restoration to your proper pedestal of glory? Are you awaiting some obstacle, some incapacitating disease or death or some new wahi (revelation)? For a certainty, there is no hope of any new wahi coming. The Qur’aan therefore asks you: “Then, which revelation after it (Qur’aan) will they believe?”
Obstacles and diseases which will render you helpless are not impossible. But Maut (death) is a certainty. If you are then awaiting the certainty of Maut, what do you think you will then achieve?

O Muslims! Regarding this very ‘revolution’ which the Ummah has undergone and is still undergoing in this age, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) predicted” “Mankind is like a hundred camels among which you cannot find mount (i.e. one worthy of riding).”

“And, Allah knows best and He is the One to grant Taufeeq.”

How to rectify this change - How to perform

Revolution of the Ummah

UMMATI – “My Ummah” (This is the call and slogan of love of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam); his deep love for his Ummah caused him to always call out in dream – “Ummat, Ummati”)

How to rectify this change how to perform

In the previous question, it was asked:“Is reformation of the change (or the degradation brought about by the change not incumbent)“

It is not expected of any Muslim to answer that there is no need to reform and reverse the detrimental process of the evil change which has and is presently gripping the Ummah. No Muslim can say that there is no need to reform the degraded and stagnant condition of the Ummah. We shall now, Insha’ Allah, indicate the way by which the Ummah may achieve the incumbent reformation.

At the every outset it should be understood that the change or ‘revolution’ which the Ummah has suffered is a spiritual ailment. Like physical ailments have causes, so too have spiritual ailments. Like the cure for physical disease is the elimination of the causes, so too, the cure for spiritual disease is the elimination of its causes. Once the causes of the spiritual disease have been eliminated, spiritual health and vigour will be the result. There are two factors to be dealt with in this regard:

1. Diagnosis to establish the causes.

2. Ways and means of eliminating these causes.
A careful and thorough study and examination will reveal that the cause of the Ummah’s disease of change and decadence consists of two parts:

a. Death of Islamic knowledge, i.e. widespread ignorance prevailing in the Ummah.

b. Lack of determination.

In the absence of knowledge, the essential laws of the Deen remain hidden. Lack of determination impedes practice even if one possesses knowledge.

Ways and means of eliminating the causes of our degradation

This is the most important factor which demands the greatest attention and the firmest resolution. It has been stated above that the cause of the Ummah’s fall consists of two parts. Now, each of these two parts has to be attended to and eliminated in different ways. Both the Ulama and the seekers of knowledge have a role to play in the elimination of ignorance and for each group the programme of action is different.

The laymen, i.e. those who have to seek knowledge, fall in two categories, viz., the wealthy who have sufficient means and those with lesser means, who have to spend their times in earning their livelihood. The wealthy who have the means should liberate their sons and dedicate them to the purpose of acquiring Deeni knowledge. Although worldly knowledge may be pursued, this should be only to the degree of necessity and be kept subservient to the Deen. The pursuit of worldly learning should never be allowed to eclipse Islamic knowledge. In this way the new generation the offspring of the present generation will be reformed.

The elders themselves should engage in the acquisition of knowledge. Arrangements must be made with an Alim or one well-versed in Deeni knowledge. Ilm should be acquired from such a person systematically. If possible acquire the knowledge through the medium of the Arabic language, for Arabic is the medium of greater insight. If this is not possible, then acquire through the medium of Urdu. On the advice of an experienced Alim, a set of Urdu books should be studied. The books prescribed should comprehensively explain the various branches of the Deen, Viz., Aqaa’id, Diyaanat, Muaamalaat, Muaasharaat and Akhlaaq. Each book should be studied twice or thrice under the guidance of an Ustad. If this is not possible, then complete each book at least once by an Ustad. Thereafter study it several times to your own.

Those not in position to devote much time to the acquisition of knowledge because of involvement in earning of livelihood should also study a set of Urdu books. These books should be prescribed for their children as well and should be studied repeatedly. This system of self-study should be adopted until arrangements could be made to enlist the service of an Ustad who can teach the books. The studies should proceed systematically and with regularity. Should any section in the books not be clear then make a mark and when meeting a person of knowledge seek clarification from him regarding the relevant section. But, never from your own opinion, for this can be very dangerous.

Those who are unable to read and for some reason cannot dedicate their children to the acquisition of knowledge academically, should initiate among themselves classes for Deeni knowledge. They should make an effort to obtain the service of a qualified Alim who will teach them the authentic books of Islam. If a qualified Alim is not available then enlist the service of one who has benefited from the company of Ulama. If such an instructor is not available free, the community should make arrangements to pay him. The classes should be conducted with regularity, preferable daily. If not daily, then at least once a week.

The teacher who is a non-Alim should not explain anything in the books which he does not understand. He should mark the relevant parts and seek clarification from the Ulama.

If a suitable teacher cannot be obtained locally, introduce one from outside and pay him a salary. Do remember that when collecting funds, employ only means which are Islamically lawful.

The various categories of seekers of knowledge should, in addition to their respective ways of study, adopt another two obligations:

These are:

1. Whenever you are not aware of the Shariah’s ruling regarding any of your affairs worldly or religious immediately approach the Ulama-e-Haqq for guidance. If locally no such Alim is available, write to such Ulama who will be able to guide you. If one mas’alah (rule) is asked every day, after a year one will have acquired the knowledge of over 350 masaail. After ten years this number will have grown to 3500. This is not a difficult task.

2. The second necessary duty is to visit frequently the gatherings of Ulama, be such gatherings public or private occasions.
Acquisition of knowledge by women

Now remains the question of knowledge for women. Endeavours should be made to obtain the service of a pious uprighteous female teacher to impart the Qur’aan Majeed and other basic Islamic teachings to minor girls. For this purpose, the kitab, Beheshti Zewer will suffice. If a pious female teacher is not available then the minor girls too should be included in the programme for study of adult females consists of two ways.

a. If at home any male (father, husband, brother, son etc.) is versed in Islamic knowledge, he should daily and at fixed time conduct a class for the ladies of the house. The same kitabs prescribed for men (especially beheshti Zewer) should be taught to ladies at home. These books should be taught to them several times over.

b. Occasionally ask some pious Alim who is steadfast on the Sunnah to call at home and lecture to the ladies. (Such lectures will be from behind a screen, fully observing all Shar’i requirements of Purdah). This method is wonderfully efficacious in ingraining the Deen into the hearts of females.

The aforegoing is the program of study and for acquiring knowledge for all seekers of knowledge of the Deen. We shall now discuss the program for the Ulama.

Program for the Ulama

The Ulama should have it foremost in them to deliver the ahkaam (laws) of the Shariah to the people. There are a number of ways in which the Ulama can execute this duty. Among such ways and means to be adopted by the Ulama for the dissemination of knowledge are:

1. DARS: Dars or teaching the knowledge of the Deen. In such teaching, the basic parts of the Deen must be accorded priority. Students should be equipped with Deeniyaat as soon as possible. After having acquired Deeniyaat, if the student wishes to study further, and time is available, the Ulama should never refuse. When conducting dars, the Ustad should not answer nonsensical and futile questions put by students. On the contrary, the Ustad should draw the student’s attention to the futility of the question and forbid him from indulgence in such futility.

2. WA’Z: Wa’z or lecturing is directed to the public in general. When lecturing, the Ulama should take into consideration the time factor. The main topics of lecturing should be the ills of society and the untoward practices prevalent during the time. Although other subjects too may be introduced, these should be given less time and treated with secondary importance. The essential topics should not be confined to Aqaa'id and Deeniyaat, but should cover Muaamalaat (Dealings and contracts, etc.) Muaasharaat (social behaviour and conduct) and Akhlaaq (Morals and Character) in detail. The lecture given should be clear without ambiguity. The audience should understand what is being said. The lecturer should refrain from adopting a style of incitement and animosity and he should never accept any remuneration for delivering a lecture. However, if one is employed specifically for this purpose, then accepting wages will be permissible.

3. ANSERING QUESTIONS: Such answering pertains to questions whether asked verbally or by letter. In this field the Alim should bear in mind the following:

(i) As far as possible do not delay in answering.

(ii) Do not answer nonsensical question. On the contrary, draw the questioner’s attention to the futility of his question.

(iii) If the question has two or more possibilities, do not answer all possibilities. First ascertain from the questioner, the possibility which is applicable to his question. Sometimes, after having been apprized of the answers of the various possibilities, the questioner chooses the possibility which is conducive to the furtherance of his motive. He thus opts for that answer. In this way he harms himself spiritually and worldly. By choosing an answer which furthers his motive he puts his adversary at a disadvantage.

(iv) Do not make it a normal policy to furnish the reasons or dalaa’il (proofs) of the ahkaam (Laws) to laymen. In most cases such dalaa’il are beyond the comprehension of laymen. Furnishing proofs is beneficial for the Ulama.

(v) If there is reasonable cause to believe that the questioner will not fully understand the answer, then after furnishing him with the written answer advise him to request an Alim to explain the written answer to him.
(vi) If there is reason to suspect that the questioner intends to create a dispute and controversy, then do not answer his questions. In short, do not withhold from those who deserve, but refrain from those who are undeserving.

4. COMPILING BOOKS: In this field as well, the times should be taken into consideration. The writings should embody clarity and comprehension. If Allah Ta’ala has blessed the writer with an income, he should not sell his own books.

5. AMR BIL MA’ROOF: Amr bil Ma’roof (Commanding righteousness), Nahyi anil Munkar (Prohibiting evil) is also one of the ways in the program for the Ulama. In some cases non-Ulama also come within this scope. The non-Ulama also come within this scope. The non-Ulama have to discharge this duty in regard to their subordinates and relatives over whom they exercise control and authority. Such particular Amr bil Ma’roof, Nahyi anil Munkar is not exclusive with the Ulama. However is relation to the general public, the duty of Amr Bil Ma’roof is exclusive with the Ulama.

In most cases it is detrimental for non-Ulama to engage in general tableegh to the masses because laymen are not generally versant with the limits of propagation. They, therefore, commit excesses in the Deen. Furthermore, since most laymen are not spiritually reformed, their propagational activities are clouded with base motives of the nafs.

Pointing to the fact that propagation to the general public is the exclusive duty of the Ulama, some Mufassireen have said that the word mien in the aayat. “Let there be among you a group calling to virtue.” Is ‘mien’ tab’idhiyah’, which sets aside some out of the whole’ the meaning here being that some and not all should execute this duty. The particular Amr Bil Ma’roof of the Ulama is Waajib in the following cases:

1. A person does something and is not aware of the Shariah’s ruling in regard to his doing.
2. The Alim has full control and authority over the one who does the act.
3. The Alim is confident that the one doing the deed will heed his (the Alim’s) statements of Amr bil Ma’roof.
In cases other than the three abovementioned, the Amr bil Ma’roof will be Mustahab (preferable and meritorious), but not obligatory.

Among the etiquettes of Tableegh is to exhort and explain the one concerned in privacy and with kindness. Thereafter, if necessary, in public and with emphasis and severity. On the other hand, if there seems to be no hope of the audience heeding one’s call, then ignore them and make duaa.

Among the branches of Amr bil Mar’oor, Nahyi anil Munkar is to propagate to the kuffaar as well. Such propagation may be either verbally or by means of literature distributed to them. Tableegh to the kuffaar should be to the non-Muslims of one’s own land as well as to those of other lands. Although tableegh to the kuffaar is no longer Waajib, nevertheless, since the Shariah is universal, it will be highly meritorious if this branch of tableegh is also undertaken. Defending Islam against the onslaught of the forces of battil is also a branch of Tableegh. To save the seekers of truth from adoubt, confusion and deception, the Ulama should counter and neutralize the criticism, attacks and false allegations of the kuffaar and the Ahle-eBid’ah. In achieving this goal all awful means should be utilized.

The aforementioned discussion pertained to the ways and means of dispelling ignorance. We shall now proceed to outline the ways and means of overcoming lack of courage and negligence.

How to eliminate the lack of courage

Experience has proven that the following ways are highly efficacious in strengthening one’s resolve and in overcoming weakness and lack of courage.

1. Association with a Kaamil (expert and qualified) Shaikh of Tasawwuf (Spiritual Mentor or Guide). The following are the signs of a Shaikh-e-Kaamil.

   (a) He possesses sufficient knowledge of the Deen.

   (b) He is a firm adherent of the beliefs, practices and morals of the Shariah.

   (c) He is devoid of worldly greed.

   (d) He lays no claim to perfection and excellence.
(e) He had lived a while in the company of a Shaikh-e-Kaamil.

(f) The contemporary uprighteous Ulama and Mashaa-ikh hold him in esteem.

(g) Comparatively, more intelligent persons than ignorant ones incline towards him.

(h) The condition of the majority of his mureeds in relation to obedience to the Shariah and reduction in worldly greed, is good.

(i) He is alert and is concerned about the conditions of his mureeds. He reprimands and admonishes them for their wrongs and defects. He does not permit his mureeds to be the slaves of their desires.

(j) After having been in his company several times, one feels a reduction in worldly love while at the same time discerns progress in the love for Allah Ta’ala.

(k) He engages in thikr and shaghl (spiritual exercises). Without such practice there is no barkat in ta’leem (instruction and teaching).

Kashf (a form of revelation which comes to the Auliya), Karaamat (miracles), istijjabat-e-duaa (acceptance of duaa and tasarrufaat (metaphysical acts) are not requirements of a Shaikh. The companionship of a Shaikh-e-Kaamil is wonderfully efficacious. However, for achieving the benefits of a Shaikh, the mureed’s intention must be sincere.

The mureed, himself must desire spiritual progress and obedience. He must desire to be imbued with a detestation for sin. It is essential that the mureed keep his Shaikh informed of the changing conditions of his heart. Whatever the Shaikh prescribes, the mureed should accept and practise accordingly.

2. The second way will apply when the company of a Shaikh-e-Kaamil is not available. In this case, read and study the life – conditions and spiritual strivings of the Ahlullah (the Saints of Allah). But, never engage in the mystical practices of Tasawwuf which are written in relation to the lives of the Sufis. Yes, readily follow their advices and statements regarding spiritual purification.

3. The third way in which to eliminate weakness of heart and lack of courage is Muraaqabah (meditation) of Maut and Muraaqabah of the period which will follow maut. This form of meditation consists of setting aside at least twenty minutes daily.
Meditate in solitude about the events which will occur from the time of Sakaraat (pangs of death) until entry into Jannat or Jahannum. Think about these future events, e.g. the questioning in the grave by the two Angels, the punishment and comforts of the grave, resurrection, the scaling of deeds, reward, crossing the Siraat, etc.

The attributes of excellence, e.g. zuhd (being abstemious of the world), khashiyat (fear of Allah), etc., which are influenced by the development of courage, will attain perfection by means of this form of Muraaqabah.

SUMMARY

Thus far, the factors and causes of the harmful change which the Ummah has undergone as well as the ways and means for rectifying the situation and for reforming the degraded condition of the Ummah have been fully discussed and explained. All praises unto Allah Ta’ala. The prescription presented for the reformation of the Ummah is very simple and universally applicable. If the Ummah adopts this prescription, its reformation will be possible swiftly within a very short while. It now remains upon those who are desirous of acquiring benefit and success to act.
Reciting & teaching the Qur’an

1. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The best of you are those who learn the Qur’aan and teach it. (Bukhaari)

2. “Why do you not go to the Musjid and learn to recite two ayaat of the Qur’aan, for this is better for you than two camels; three ayaat are better than three camels four ayaat are better than four camels, and so on.”

Camels (and all vehicles of transport) are of use in only this world while the Qur’aanic ayaat are of use in both worlds. Here camels have been mentioned by way of example because of their great value and utility to the Arabs. This is merely an illustration.

Otherwise, in actual fact, the entire universe has no comparison to even a single aayat of the Qur’aan Majeed. (Mirkaat)

Another fact which emerges from this hadith is the great thawab of learning even a part of the Qur’aan Majeed. Even a portion of the Qur’aan Majeed acquired is indeed a great and wonderful Ni’mat bestowed by Allah Ta’ala.

3. Rasulullah (sallaallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “He who recites the Qur’aan well and clearly is equal in rank to the Angels who record creation’s deeds. These Angels are gracious, honourable and of lofty rank. He who finds difficulty in reciting the Qur’aan will obtain a double reward.”

A double reward means: One reward for reciting and another reward for the added effort. This hadith exhorts the one who recites with difficulty to continue reciting and not give up reciting thinking that poor recital is futile. On the contrary, such recitation is highly meritorious, hence a double reward.

4. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “A person who recites one harf (letter) of the Qur’aan, obtains one virtue; each virtue multiplies to ten virtues. I am not saying that (ALM) is one harf. But, Alif in it is one harf; the Laam in it is one harf and the Meem in it is one harf. (Tirmizi and Daarami)

One example, viz., (ALM) has been given. Similarly, when the reciter says, (ALHAMD), he obtains fifty virtues. Allahu Akbar! What tremendous significance and reward! It is, therefore, most deplorable if one, because of neglect fails to take advantage of this great offer by not acquiring the wealth of the Qur’aan.

5. “A person whose breast is devoid of the Qur’aan (i.e. he has not learnt anything of the Qur’aan Majeed) is like a desolate house.” (Tirmizi)

6. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “On the Day of Qiyaamah a crown of such brilliance will be placed on the heads of the parents of one who learnt the Qur’aan and practised on its laws, that its glitter will outshine the brilliance of the sun which penetrates your houses. What then do you think will be the position of the one who himself learnt the Qur’aan and acted in accordance with it?” (Ahmad and Abu Dawood)

This hadith mentions the great significance of teaching the Qur’aan Majeed to children. It is incumbent, therefore, upon Muslims to ensure that their children learn to recite the Qur’aan Majeed. If for some reason they cannot or do not gain the opportunity of committing the Qur’aan Majeed to memory (Hifz) then at least they should learn it by reciting from the text (Naatharah). However, wherever the opportunity exists for imparting Hifz to the children, advantage should be taken to acquire this great wealth. Indeed it is a wonderful bounty. If for some reason the child does not have the time for learning the whole Qur’aan, then even a portion should be taught to him/her. This hadith exhorts even the acquisition of a portion of the Qur’aan Majeed.

7. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “He who recites the Qur’aan, memorizes it, accepts its halaal (lawful things) as halaal and haraam (forbidden things) as haraam (i.e. his beliefs in these matters are correct), Allah Ta’ala will enter him into Jannat and accept his intercession on behalf of ten such persons of his family upon whom entry into Jahannum has become incumbent (i.e. Allah Ta’ala will forgive them because of his intercession).” (Ahmad, Trimizi, Ibn Majah, Daarami)

The significance of committing the Qur’aan Majeed to memory mentioned in this hadith is far greater than that mentioned in the earlier hadith. Among one’s family members, the closest to one are one’s parents. Hence, in terms of the assurance of intercession sated in the hadith the Hafiz’s intercession for his parents is a certainty.
Parents should now realize the tremendous importance and advantage of making their children Huffaaz of the Qur’aan Majeed.

8. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Hearts (of people) also corrode like steel rusts when exposed to moisture." Someone asked: 'O Rasulullah! (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) What is its polish? Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: 'Remembering Maut in abundance and recitation of the Qur’aan.” (Baihaqi Shu’bul Imaam)

9. Hadhrat Jabbir (radiallahu anhu) said: "Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) once came to us while we were engaged in reciting the Qur’aan. Among us were some village-folk and non-Arabs (i.e. some people who were not able to recite the Qur’aan properly). Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: ‘Continue reciting. All are reciting well.’ (Abu Dawood, Baihaqi)

From this it will be realized that even if one lacks the ability to recite superbly, one should continue reciting so that the heart becomes adorned. Those who have the ability to recite superbly should not be scornful of those who lack the ability. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) encouraged all to recite the Qur’aan Majeed even if the recitation is not up to the correct standard.

10. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "He who listens to even a single aayat (being recited by another) obtains such a virtue which perpetually multiplies (it increases in thawaab continuously). The one who recited the ayaat will on the Day of Qiyaamah find the recited ayaat in the form of a Noor (which will be of greater value and significance than the virtue which accrued to the one who had listened to the recitation.)” (Ahmad)

If one is unable to recite, one should always listen to the recital of others. Such listening is rewarded with considerable thawaab. There is absolutely no difficulty involved in the obtainal of such great thawaab by such a simple method.

11. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Continue reciting the Qur’aan because on the Day of Qiyaamah it will appear as an intercessor for the reciter.” (Muslim)

The intercession of the Qur’aan will result in the reciter being pardoned.
12. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "On the Day of Qiyaamah the Qur’aan will petition Allah to cloak the one who had recited it with garments of honour and respect. A crown of honour will then be placed on the head of the reciter. The Qur’aan will then petition Allah Ta’ala to shower His pleasure on the reciter. Allah will then become pleased with him. The reciter will then be asked to recite the Qur’aan, thereby attaining higher ranks of elevation. In reward for each aayat a virtue will accrue to him. (Tirmizi and Ibn Khuzaimah)

Another hadith as well describes the elevation of ranks by means of reciting the Qur’aan in the Hereafter. The hadith states: "Continue climbing (higher and higher in rank) with your recitation in the same way as you recited with care and concern on earth. Your abode (of residing) is located (at that rank attained) with the last aayat recited. (Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Ibn Majah, Ibn Habbaan)

One should now reflect and take advantage of this great treasure in store in the Aakhirah, by striving in the recitation of the Qur’aan. Effort should be made to secure this wonderful wealth for one’s offspring. If one experiences difficulty in memorizing or in reciting, one should never lose hope and give up the recitation. Even reciting in such circumstances is highly meritorious as has been explained earlier. If unable to commit the Qur’aan to memory, then merely recite it (by way of Naatharah i.e. looking inside and reading). Impart this recitation to others as well. The significance and thawab are indeed great.

The acquisition of the ways and means of a practice or act which is incumbent and rewardable is also incumbent and rewardable. Like it is essential to render the act or practice so too is it essential to acquire its ways and means. This is a simple and self-evident fact. It is therefore incumbent to make the necessary arrangements for learning and teaching the Qur’aan Majeed. The ways and means of rendering this duty is to establish a maktab (or madresah) in your locality so that children can be taught to recite the Qur’aan Majeed. Adults too should devote some time towards this acquisition. If a free instructor or teacher is not available, the community should engage a salaried teacher.

Boys who have acquired the knowledge of reciting at the madresah should teach it to the females at home. In this way all males and females will be able to recite the Qur’aan Majeed. If anyone is unable to recite the Qur’aan, he/she should at least memorize a few surahs.
Besides the above, there are some other Huqooq (rights and demands) of the Qur’aan Majeed. These are:

A. Once the Qur’aan Majeed has been learnt it should never be forgotten. Whatever part/s have been learnt should always be remembered.

B. A person who wishes to learn the translation of the Qur’aan majeed should not undertake the task by means of self-study. In self-study of the Qur’aan’s translation is the grave danger of misunderstanding. Its translation should be studied under the guidance of an Alim.

C. The Qur’aan Majeed demands the utmost respect and reverence. Never stretch the legs in its direction nor turn your back to it. Do not sit higher than the Qur’aan Majeed and do not place it on the ground. Place it on a desk or pillow or any high place.

D. Torn, tattered and unuseable pages and copies of the Qur’aan Majeed should be wrapped in a cleans cloth and buried in such a spot which will not be trampled underfoot.

E. When reciting the Qur’aan Majeed contemplate that you are conversing with Allah Ta’ala. The spiritual light with which the heart will then become imbued will be vividly perceived.

Love for ALLAH and Love for RASULULLAH (SAW)

1. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever has in him three things, will experience the sweetness of Imaan.” (These are):
   i) His love for Allah and His Rasool is more than that for all and everything.
   ii) His love for another (person) is motivated by only the love of Allah. i.e. His love and friendship with people are not for worldly motives. He befriends people because they happen to be pious men of Allah).
   iii) A man who, after having been saved by Allah from kufr, abhors returning to kufr as much as he abhors falling into a fire.” (Bukhari and Muslim)

2. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “You cannot have total Imaan as long as you do not love me more than your father, children and all people.” (Bukhari, Muslim-Mishkaat)

3. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “A man cannot be perfect of Imaan as long as his love for me is not more than his love for his whole family and for all people.” (Muslim)
Also in Bukhari Shareef it is recorded that Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) said: “O Rasulullah! Most assuredly, I love you more than all things, but my own life.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: ‘I swear by The Being in Whose Power is my life! One is not a perfect believer until one loves me more than one’s own life.” Hadhrat Umar (reflected and) exclaimed: ‘I now love you more than my own life.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: ‘Now you are a perfect Muslim.”

Initially, Hadhrat (radiallahu anhu) did not reflect and thought that since one is affected more by difficulty on oneself than difficulty on another, one’s life must be dearer than another’s. However, upon reflection he realized that for the sake of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) every Muslim will readily sacrifice his own life and the dignity and honour of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), even the ordinary Muslim will be prepared to lay down his life at the altar of sacrifice. Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) thus realized that in actual fact his love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was greater than his love for his own life. And, so it was and remained until the end Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) remained steadfast on the Deen never turning his face away from the Deen by the slightest degree.

4. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Love Allah Ta’ala because He nourishes and sustains you; love me because Allah Ta’ala loves me.” (Tirmizi)

It is not to be inferred from this hadith that we have to love Allah Ta’ala only because He nourishes us. This hadith merely implies that should one be unable to comprehend the limitless and vast favours and bounties of Allah Ta’ala, then at least contemplate and understand this one great Ni’mat of nourishment (Rizq). No one can ever deny or ignore this obvious fact of Allah Ta’ala being the sole Nourisher and Sustainer. Hence, understanding even this single fact will induce in one love for Allah Ta’ala.

5. Hadhrat Anas Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) narrates that a villager came to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and said: “O Rasulullah! When will it be Qiyaamah?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “What preparations have you made for it?” He replied: “I have no much Salaat nor Saum, but I have love for Allah and His Rasool.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “On the Day of Qiyaamah every person will be with the one whom he loved.”
This meant that on the Day of Qiyaamah those who had loved Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) will be with him. Along with this great fortune, they will be in close proximity to Allah Ta’ala. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) then commented: “After having heard this good news, Muslims became exceedingly happy. After having embraced Islam nothing else (besides their embracing) made them as happy (as this statement of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).” (Bukhari, Muslim) The glad tidings conveyed in this hadith are of great significance. Even if one has no great stock of acts of Ibaadat, the love of Allah and His Rasool (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) will secure the treasure of Divine Proximity for one in the Aakhirah.

6. Hadhrat Abu Zarr Ghiffaari (radiallahu anhu) narrated that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) performed Salaat (Tahajjud). The whole night in his Salaat he recited a single aayat until the morning. The aayat is: “O Allah! (If you punish them, they are your servants (i.e. You have all the authority over them). If You forgive them (it is within Your Power), for You are All-Powerful and the One of Wisdom.” (Nisaai and Ibn Majah) Shaikh Dehlwi (rahmatullah alayh) commenting on this hadith, says that the Qur’aanic aayat which was recited the whole night by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) is the statement of Nabi Isaa (alayhis salaam), which he will be making (on the Day of Qiyaamah) in regard to his Ummah. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) presented his Ummah’s case for Maghfirat (forgiveness) to Allah Ta’ala in the same manner. This loving attitude of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) bears testimony to his great love for his Ummah. For the sake of this love, he sacrificed the comfort of whole nights, petitioning and appealing to Allah Ta’ala to forgive his Ummah. It will only be a callous and a heartless one whose heart is not moved when he hears of the great love which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had for the Ummah.

7. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “My similitude with you is like a man who strives to prevent moths falling into a fire. The moths plunge into the fire while the man makes great attempts to save them. Inspite of his efforts, they continue to fall into the fire. Similarly, I relentlessly grab hold of you and divert you from the Fire (so that you do not plunge into Jannah by commission of evil), but you continue with your plunge into the Fire.” (Bukhari) This hadith too indicates the tremendous love and concern which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had for his Ummah. His profound concern to save his Ummah from the calamities of the Aakhirah is a manifestation of his love for the Ummah. Which Ummati can ignore this love?

8. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas Mardas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) made dua of Maghfirat (forgiveness) for his Ummah in the evening of Arafaat. The Divine Answer came: “Your Ummah has been forgiven, excepting huqooqul Ibaad (i.e. the rights of others which were usurped and plundered and for which no proper amends were made).” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) then petitioned Allah Ta’ala: “O Allah! If You wish, You can award the rights (which were plundered here) of the oppressors with Jannat and forgive the oppressed.”

However, this dua was not accepted on that night. During the morning at Muzdalifah, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) repeated the dua. On this occasion the request was granted. The acceptance of this dua induced Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to laugh with delight Rasulullah (Sallallahu alayhi wasallam) then said to Abu Bakr and Umar (radiallahu anhumaa): “When Allah Ta’ala accepted my dua and forgave my Ummah, Iblees rubbed hand in his face and cried in despondency and defeat. I laughed on seeing his discomfort.” (Ibn Majah, Baihaqi)

This hadith must not be misconstrued. The inference should not be drawn that usurped, plundered and unfulfilled rights of creation (Huqooqul Ibaad) will compulsorily at all times be waived, without any punishment nor does it mean that the performance of Hajj cancels out such rights. The interpretation of this hadith consists of two possibilities:

1. The possibility of remaining in Jahannum forever as punishment for the usurpation of huqooqul Ibaad.
2. Definite punishment for huqooqul Ibaad although such punishment will not be everlasting residence in Jahannum.

When Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) made the due, two Divine Promises were the result:

1. Everlasting residence in Jahannum (the first possibility mentioned above) as compensation for plundering huqooqul Ibaad was cancelled. After serving one’s sentence of punishment in Jahannum, one will emerge therefrom and attain salavation.
2. Certainty of punishment for huqooqul Ibaad (the second possibility) cancelled. In fact, there will be cases where Allah Ta’ala will by the presentation of favours and ni’mat to the oppressed secure in return forgiveness for the oppressors. The oppressed will become pleased with the bounties and happily pardon the oppressors. Once again we must reflect and realize the tremendous and deep love which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) cherished for the Ummah. His concern for the Ummah was so great that he persisted in the supplication to secure forgiveness for even the oppressors of his Ummah. Is it yet possible that the heart of the Believer will not brim over with love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam)?

9. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Amr Bin Al-A’as (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), after reciting those verses in which are mentioned the dua of Hadhrat Ibraheem and Hadhrat Isaa (alahimus salaam) for their respective Ummats, raised his hands and supplicated to Allah Ta’ala as follows: “O Allah! My Ummah, my Ummah.”

Allah Ta’ala said: “Jibraeel, go to Muhammad (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) Your Creator is aware (of all things) and ask him the reason for his grief.” Jibraeel (alayhis salaam) enquired the reason from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for his grief and tears. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) informed Jibraeel (alayhis sallaam) of his concern for the Ummah. Jibraeel (alayhis sallaam) then brought the following message from Allah Ta’ala: “We shall please you in regard to your Ummah and We shall not let you grieve.” (Muslim)

According to Hadhrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahau anhu), Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that he will never be happy as long as there remains a single member of his Ummah in the Fire. (Durrul Manthur). In terms of this Divine Promise to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), Insha’ Allah, Ta’ala will not leave a single Ummati in Jahannum.

O Muslims! The wonderful treasures of the Aakhirah which you will be acquiring will be through the auspicious agency of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). If, therefore, you cannot love him, for who will you ever love.

10. Hadhrat Umar (radiallahau anhu) narrated that there was a man by the name, Abdullah and was known as Himaar. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had punished him for having consumed liquor. After having been punished he was once again brought to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for the same crime. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) ordered him to be punished. Someone cursed him (Himaar) for repeatedly committing the crime. Rasulullah (sallallahu alahi wasallam) commented:

11. “Do not curse him. I swear by Allah that I know he has love for Allah and His Rasool.” (Abdu Dawood)
One can from this incident realize the honour and love which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had for one who was imbued with love for Allah and love for the Rasool. Even after repeatedly having indulged in a major sin, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) forbade people from cursing the wrong-doer. It is now necessary that every Muslim fills every vein in his body with the love of Allah and love of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). The noble and priceless treasures of the Aakhirah are procurable by virtue of this love without difficulty.
Belief in Taqdeer and Tawakkul in ALLAH

The belief that everything which happened, happen and will happen and will happen is according to the knowledge, will and command of Allah Ta’ala is called Taqdeer. Belief in Taqdeer is compulsory. The advantages of belief in Taqdeer and Tawakkul (Trust in Allah) are as follows:

1. No matter what hardship or misfortune befalls one, it will be accepted without panic and the heart will remain strong in the face of such hardships. Strong belief in Taqdeer will indicate that Allah’s wish is in this occurrence and it cannot be opposed. The hardship will disappear only when so desired by Allah Ta’ala. Thus the man of Taqdeer accepts what comes his way with contented resignation.

2. One who has understood and accepted this conception of Taqdeer will not be overcome with frustration at the delay in the passing of the hardship. He will not become despondent and lose hope when the misfortune endures for any length of time. He will banish weakness.

3. The adherent of Taqdeer will not adopt unlawful ways and means of combating the difficulty, for he knows that the adversity has been brought about by Allah Ta’ala. He understands well that elimination of the hardship is not possible without the Will of Allah Ta’ala. He therefore realizes the futility of his efforts in trying to eliminate what Allah Ta’ala has willed. He will thus not unnecessarily court the displeasure of Allah by the adoption of unlawful measures. Why court Allah’s Warth when one’s purpose cannot be achieved even after having displeased Him.

4. The believer in Taqdeer and Tawakkul will not rely solely on material and mundane measures, but will resort to dua as well. He believes that nothing can be gained without His Will. He thus derives greater hope and strength by supplicating to Allah Ta’ala. An additional benefit of engaging in dua is the strengthening of one’s relationship with Allah Ta’ala. A strong bond of love with Allah Ta’ala is the basis of peace and all comfort.

5. The believer in Taqdeer will not attribute success, accomplishment and excellence to his efforts. He will attribute everything to the Will and Pleasure of Allah Ta’ala. He will thus be imbued with humility. Such a man will not be arrogant and haughty. The summary of what has been said above is:
The believer in Taqdeer and Tawakkul will be grateful (make shukr) in times and occasions of success and prosperity, and he will be patient (make sabr) when failure and adversity overtake him. This is the great advantage which Allah Ta'ala points to in the following aayat: “.... So that you do not lose hope over what you have lost nor do you become elated because of what you have gained.” (Surah Hadeed)

The Islamic conception of Taqdeer should not be misconstrued and the essential and correct ways and means for worldly affairs should not be discarded on the pretext of resignation to Taqdeer. Discarding the lawful means and agencies which Allah Ta’ala has created for worldly affairs is weakness as well as erroneous. Such error and weakness have been criticized in the hadith. Hadhrat Auf Bin malik (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once when Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) decided a dispute, the one against whom the verdict went, exclaimed: “Sufficient for me is Allah and He is good Protector.”

This exclamation was intended to convey that Allah’s Pleasure was the cause of the setback which he suffered. Hearing this, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala does not like weakness. Be alert.!”

Here Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) exhorted that one should harness the correct means for one’s case and activity. However, if inspite of instituting the correct measures, failure results, the one will be justified in saying: “Sufficient for me is Allah and He is good Protector.” This hadith appears in Abu Dawood.

Hadith on Taqdeer

1. Hadhrat Jabbir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “You can never be a Mu’min as long as you do not believe in Taqdeer in its good and its bad to such an extent that whatever is to happen will not be warded off and whatever is not to happen will not occur. (Tirmizi)

2. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “I was (once) behind Nabi (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) when he said to me: ‘O son! I shall inform you of a few things. Remember Allah and He will protect you. Remember Allah and you will find Him close to you. When you have to ask for something, ask of Allah Ta’ala. When you require aid, seek His Aid. Believe firmly that if all creation desires to benefit you in anything, they can never benefit you but that which Allah has decreed for you. If they all unite to harm you, they will not be able to harm you in anything, but that which Allah has decreed for you.” (Tirmizi)

3. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Allah Ta’ala has already predestined five things for all people, viz., age, sustenance (rizq), deeds, place of burial and final salvation or condemnation. (Ahmad, Bazzaaz, Kabeer, Ausat)

4. Hadhrat Muaawiya (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Do not advance to acquire something, thinking that you can acquire it by your efforts even though Allah Ta’ala has not predestined it for you nor retreat from something, thinking that you will be able to obviate it by your efforts even though Allah Ta’ala has predestined it for you.” (Kabeer and Ausat)

Whatever Allah Ta’ala has predestined, will come to pass no matter what efforts are made by man to gain or ward it off.

5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Strive to acquire what is beneficial for you; seek the aid of Allah; do not lose courage and if a setback overtakes you, do not say: ‘If I had done this then it would have happened like this (i.e. not what had happened).’ Instead, say: ‘Allah has ordained this. Whatever he has willed, has happened. (Muslim)

The above Ahadith have been extracted from jam’ul Fawaaid. These ahadith pertain largely to Taqdeer. The narrations which will appear hereunder pertain more to Tawakkul.

6. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan: “(After you have consulted) and when you have firmly decided, then have trust on Allah (and proceed to do what you have decided to do). Verily, Allah Ta’ala loves those who place reliance ( on Him).” (Surah Aale Imraan)

What greater wealth do one require than the love of Allah? Those whose trust and reliance are in Allah, have secured His love. There is no doubt in the success of such people. From this aayat it is also manifest that along with Tawakkul should be Tadbeer (i.e. employment of the correct agencies, means and ways). Consultation which is mentioned in the aayat is in fact a way for deciding an affair. However, one should not repose reliance on tadbeer. Even after having instituted the ways and means, reliance must be placed on Allah Ta’ala.
7. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef: “They (the Sahaabah) are such (sincere) people that when some persons said to them: ‘These people (i.e. the Kuffaar of Makkah) have made (great) preparation for you (i.e. for fighting you) You should therefore fear them. their (the Sahaabah) Imaan became stronger. Allah is sufficient and is best. Unto Him affairs are assigned. Thus these people (the Sahaabah) returned loaded with the bounties of Allah. No grief overtook them and they remained following the Pleasure of Allah. Verily, Allah is most Munificent.” In these aayaat is a reference to a particular incident from which the Sahaabah benefitted both materially as well as spiritually. Allah Ta’ala indicates here that both these benefits were the consequence of Tawakkul.

8. Allah Ta’ala orders Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) in the Qur’aan Shareef to say: “Say (O Muhammad!) Nothing can overtake us, but that which Allah has ordained for us. He is our King. All Believers should assign their affairs to Allah. Await for us one goodness out of two.” (Surah Taubah)

Since Allah Ta’ala is the King, the servant should be pleased with whatever the King chooses. This should be the condition of all Muslims. Both prosperity and adversity are beneficial for Muslims. Times and conditions of hardship prove beneficial for Muslims in relation to the end result. In enduring the hardships, ranks increase and sins are forgiven. Thus, it matters not which condition a Muslim is in Both conditions, viz., prosperity and adversity, are advantageous for believers. This shows that even if a Muslim is overtaken by difficulty and hardship, he is not reduced to despondency and frustration, for he considers the states of adversity also beneficial to him. If the benefits of adversity do not manifest in this world, then for a certainty, these will be manifested in the Aakhirah. The Aakhirah is our actual and original home and goodness and benefit there will be to our perpetual advantage.

9. Allah Ta’ala says: “Musaa (when he saw Bani Israaeeel in fear and suffering because of the cruelty of Fir’oun) said: ‘O my people! If you have (true) Imaan on Allah, then have trust in Him, if indeed you are obeying Him.’ They said: We have reposed trust on only Allah.’ (They then supplicated): ‘O Creator! Do not make us the target of these oppressors; save us by Your mercy from these unbelievers.” (Surah Yoonus)
From this aayat it is learnt that along with Tawakkul, duaa is very efficacious.

10. Allah Ta’ala says: “Whoever has trust on Allah, He is sufficient for him.”

Allah Ta’ala dispenses all affairs of those who have trust on Him, be the affairs of a physical or spiritual nature. This is indeed a wonderful promise made to those who adopt Tawakkul.

11. Hadhrat Sa’d narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The good fortune of a person is that he remains pleased with what Allah has ordained for him. The misfortune of a person is that he refrains from asking Allah for goodness and that he is displeased with what Allah has ordained for him.” (Ahmad, Tirmizi)

12. Hadhrat Amr Bin A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The heart of man lingers after everything. Allah does not care for a man who puts his heart at the disposal of everything; he may be destroyed in any place (and way – Allah, cares not for him). Who ever has trust on Allah, Allah suffices for him in all affairs.” (Ibn Majah)

This hadith points out that such a man whose trust is reposed in Allah does not become despondent and is not smitted by worry.

13. Hadhrat Imraan Bin Haseen (radiallahu anhu narrates that Rasulullah (sallallau alayhi wasallam) said: ”Whoever remains aligned to Allah with his heart, Allah will be sufficient on him in all his affairs. Allah will bestow on him sustenance from such quarters which he did not even think of. Whoever aligns himself with the world, Allah hands him over to the world.” (Targheeb Wa Tarheeb)

14. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to a man: “Tie your camel and trust in Allah.”

Thus, Tawakkul does not envisage the abandonement of the lawful means and agencies which Allah Ta’ala has created for the execution of activities. One has to trust in Allah and not repose confidence in the means and ways.

15. Hadhrat Abu Khuzaamah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that someone asked Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “Do incantation and medicine alter Taqdeer.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “This too is included in Taqdeer.” (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)
According to this hadith, the benefit which will result from medicine etc is also dictated by Taqdeer. The sum Total of this discussion is that Muslims should never become despondent and frustrated in difficult situations. Take lesson from what has been said in these ayaat and ahadith and do not become weak in your Deen. Repose all your trust on Allah Ta’ala.
Supplicating (To make DUA)

Dua or supplication is to petition Allah Ta’ala for one’s needs and requirements, be such needs mundane or spiritual – be they in regard to one’s worldly affairs or Deeni affairs – whether such affairs and needs are within one’s ability of acquisition or not. In all cases, the Muslim has to supplicate to Allah Ta’ala for the fulfillment of his needs.

Dua for unlawful desires and needs is not permissible. While making dua, all the lawful means and agencies for the requirement should be harnessed, e.g. the farmer while making dua for his farm to yield should at the same time engage in the means and ways of farming; one making dua for protection against an enemy should at the same time engage in the ways and means of warding off the enemy; the sick while making dua for recovery should resort to medicine and treatment as well; one involved in litigation should while making dua for success in his court-case, engage the proper means of achieving the success as well; one engaged in the acquisition of Qur’aani and Deeni knowledge should make dua for barkat and success while at the same time study properly and acquire whatever ways are essential for the correct acquisition of knowledge; one involved in ibaadat should strive against the lowly desires and the diversions of shaitaan and the nafs while at the same time make dua for aid from Allah Ta’ala for sincerity and steadfastness in his acts of ibaadat.

In affairs in which physical and material means and agencies have no role to play, one should entirely resort to only dua, e.g. rainfall, protection against plagues, the shaitaan and the deception of the nafs, protection from the oppression of cruel persons, etc.

Dua does not mean the mere recitation of some words and the mere ritual reiteration of words after Salaat. The nature of dua consists of petitioning in the Court of Allah Ta’ala. The earnestness and concern which people have when making appeals in the courts of the world should at least be adopted when making dua in the Court of Allah Ta’ala. When making dua, one’s mind and body have to be concentrated and directed into the purpose of dua. One should never lose hope in the event of fulfillment of the dua being delayed or if fulfillment is not discerned. One has to submit to the Will of Allah Ta’ala. Dua is an appeal to Allah Ta’ala. It is His sole prerogative to grant or reject the appeals of His servants. We have no right to become disillusioned and despondent if we cannot discern acceptance of our dua.

The times of dua are not to restricted to the time of Salaat. Dua should be made at any time, whenever one requires something although the time after Salaat is very efficacious for acceptance of the dua. Whenever and whatever one is in need of, immediately make dua with the heart as well as with the tongue. This then is the reality and nature of dua.

Now when supplicating, do so according to the reality and nature of dua as has been described. If you do so, you will discern the efficacy and barakat of dua. Barkat of dua does not necessarily mean that whatever you ask for will be granted. At times the very object sought for, is obtained, e.g. something in regard to the Aakhirat, because of favour or bounty of the Aakhirah is pure goodness for the servant. For the attainment of the fortunes of the Aakhirat, Imaan and Itaa’at (obedience) are conditions. Without these conditions, the blessings of Aakhirah are not attainable. Sometimes, the object asked for in not obtained, e.g. and object or requirement of the world. This is so because sometimes the worldly object supplicated for is harmful and sometimes beneficial. If it is beneficial in the Wisdom of Allah Ta’ala, He grants it to the servant and when it is harmful, He withholds it from the servant just as a father will deny his child an object which is detrimental to his interests.

The meaning of barkat in this context is that the Attention of Allah Ta’ala is directed to the servant. Thus, if due to some reason known to Allah Ta’ala, the object asked for is not granted, then too contentment. He is not overcome with frustration and weakness. This spiritual strength with which the heart is imbued is the effect of the Special Attention of Allah Ta’ala as a result of dua made by the servant. This Special Attention of Allah is indeed a great treasure. All other treasures pale into insignificance in its presence. This Special Attention is in fact man’s original capital which he has to strive for. It is the possession of this treasure which will bring him comfort and peace in this world and in the Aakhirah. The limitless bounties of the Hereafter are obtainable as a result of this Special Attention which Allah Ta’ala focuses on His servants. There is, therefore, never the slightest fear of being deprived. The one who makes dua is never deprived because of this inherent barakat of dua.

Some ahadith pertaining to the significance of dua will now be narrated.

1. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrated that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The servant’s dua is accepted as long as he does not ask for something sinful nor for something unkind for his relatives; and, as long as he is not impatient.”

It was asked: ‘O Rasulullah! What is the meaning of being impatient” “It means to say” ‘I have asked dua time and again, but it has not been answered. So saying, one gives up asking dua.” (Muslim)

This hadith stresses the continuous making of dua even if the dua seemingly is not accepted.

2. Hadhrat Ibn Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Nothing is more appreciable to Allah than dua.” (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

3. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Dua is beneficial in everything. It is efficacious in warding off misfortunes which have already descended as well as misfortunes which are about to descend. Therefore, the servants of Allah should be steadfast in making dua.” (Tirmizi, Ahmad)

4. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah becomes angry with one who refrains from dua.”

5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “You should continuously engage in dua and firmly believe that Allah is accepting your dua. Allah Ta’ala does not accept the dua of one whose heart is careless.” (Tirmizi)

Dua must be made with earnestness and concentration of mind and body while at the same time believing that the dua is definitely being accepted by Allah Ta’ala. Non-attainment of the object of the dua should not be misconstrued as non-acceptance. The dua is most certainly accepted but obtainable of the object sought after is subject to the wisdom of Allah Ta’ala as has been earlier explained.

6. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: ”Any Muslim who makes a dua and his dua does not contain a request for anything sinful or anything regarding the severance of family ties, Allah Ta’ala grants him one of three things most assuredly, viz.,
(i) What he has asked is granted immediately, or
(ii) What he has asked is saved for him as a treasure in the Aakhirah, or
(iii) Allah wards away some calamity from him in lieu of the object asked for.”

The Sahabah then said that they will resort to dua in abundance. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied that by Allah Ta’ala everything is in abundance. Thus, no dua is returned empty.

7. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that (Rasulallah sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Everyone should petition his Creator for all his needs.”
In the narration of Hadhrat Thaabit (radiallahu anhu) it is said: “Everyone should ask his Creator for all his need be it even salt of be it a shoe-lace when it breaks.”

(Tirmizi)

One should not consider it improper to make dua for insignificant items because by Allah Ta’ala even such things which are significant, great and valuable by us, are insignificant in His Gaze.
Association with the Pious

Wonderfully efficacious for spiritual progress is to join the company of the pious. One should endeavour to sit in the company of pious people so that talks of wisdom and piety as well as virtuous habits are acquired. The life-stories of the pious should be studied. This too serves the same purpose as association with the pious. Virtuous character is acquired by reading and studying the life-stories of the saintly men of Allah.

Allah Ta’ala has instilled in man the propensity to be influenced by others. Such influence is derived without any concentration and any special endeavour. The life and conditions of others generally influence people greatly. This acceptance of influence applies to both good and bad influence. The company of the pious is therefore extremely beneficial while evil company is extremely harmful. The company of the pious refers to association with such a person who has sufficient knowledge of the necessary laws of the Shariah, and whose beliefs are correct. The one with whom association is struck up should be a person who refrains from bid’ah (innovation) and evil customs and practices. He should be one who is steadfast in Salaat, Saum and the essential acts of Ibaadat. His relationship and affairs with others should be impeccable. He should be a man of humility, piety and abstemious. He must be one who takes precaution in matters pertaining to halaal and haraam. He must be of uprighteous moral character. He must be man who does not hold the poor and the needy in contempt. Both his external and internal character must be virtuous. The fear and love of Allah should imbue his heart. He must not be a man of worldly greed. For the sake of the Deen he should care for nothing, neither for wealth nor honour. He should be a man who prefers the life Hereafter to the life of this world. He must be a man of sabr and shukr. A man of these capabilities and characteristics is indeed an alchemy for one’s spiritual development.

These who lack the ability to discern or recognize the ability of a man whether he is a man of peity or not should take the advice of the pious people of the time described as pious will be worthy for company. Furthermore, by being in the company of a pious man a few times, one will discern in oneself an aversion for evil and an inclination towards virtue. A man whose company produces this effect on the heart is indeed a pious man.
Abstain as far as is possible from a man in whom evil qualities are discerned. Unless necessity compels one, do not enter into his company. Evil company utterly destroys one’s Deen. At times evil persons harm not only one’s spiritual life, but one’s worldly life as well. Such worldly loss could be sustained in a variety of ways, such as in one’s wealth, property, honour and life.

Then there are such people in whom one cannot discern good or bad qualities. Entertain good opinion about such people but do not cultivate their company. Experience has proven that pious company plays a great and effective role in one’s spiritual progress while the company of evil persons weakens the heart and ruins one’s spiritual life. Some verses of the Qur’aan and ahadith pertaining to pious and evil company will now be cited.

1. Allah Ta’ala says: “O people of Iman! Fear Allah and join the company of the truthful.
Joining the company of the truthful is to associate with the pious and follow their ways of rectitude.

2. Allah Ta’ala says: “When you see those conjecturing (finding fault and jesting) in our Laws then turn away from them until (such time) that they engage in some other talk. And, if shaitaan caused you to forget (and you remained sitting with them), then do not sit after remembering with an unjust people.”

The Qur’aan here very explicitly warns against association with those who jest with the Deen; with those who treat the Deen light-heartedly; with those who show no respect for the Laws of Allah.

3. Hadhrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was asked: “Among those with whom we associate, who is the best?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: “The one who reminds you of Allah when you look at him; his speech improves your Deen and his acts remind you of the Aakhirah.” (Abu Ya’laa)

Some of the important signs of a pious man, which have been mentioned earlier, are stated in this hadith.
4. Hadhrat Abu Umaamah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Luqman said to his son:

'O my son! Associate with the Ulama. Make this an obligation on you. Listen to the talks of the people of wisdom because Allah Ta’ala livens a dead heart with the light of wisdom in the same way as the dead earth is enlivened by abundant rainfull." (Tibraani)

Wisdom refers to the subtle points of the Deen. Such words of wisdom flow from the lips of truthful saints of Allah Ta’ala.

5. Hadhrat Muaaz Ibn Jabal (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Allah Ta’ala said: ‘My love becomes incumbent for such persons who love one another for My Sake and who associate for My Sake...’ (Maalik and Ibn Habbaan)

The meaning of “for Allah’s sake” is for the sake of the Deen or Deeni motives and not worldly motives.

6. Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "The similitude of a pious companion and an evil companion is as a man standing with musk (this is the similitude of a pious companion), and a man stoking a furnace (this is the similitude of an evil companion). The man with the musk will give you some or (if he does not give) then you will at least gain its fragrance while the stoker of the furnace will burn your clothing (if a spark of fire falls on you) or (if he does not burn you) then at least the smoke of the fire will reach you.” (Bukhari and Muslim)

Even if one does not derive the full benefit of the pious company, one will gain to a certain degree, and likewise even if the evil company does not fully harm, one will to a certain extent be affected by the evil.

7. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) saying: “Do not associate with anyone except with a person of Imaan.” (Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Daarmi)

There are two possible meanings to this hadith, viz.,
a. Do not associate with a kaffir.

b. Associate with only one of perfect Imaan. Do not associate with a man of imperfect Imaan.

In the light of this hadith, only a man of perfect Imaan a man who is fully pious is worthy of association.

8. Hadhrat Aby Razeen (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to him: "Should I not inform you of something which is a (great) pivot of this Deen and by means of which you can acquire the success of this world and the hereafter? Firstly, adhere to the gatherings of the people of Thikr (those who remember Allah much); secondly, when in solitude, keep your tongue moving with Thikrullah as much as is possible; thirdly, love for the sake of only Allah and hate for the sake of only Allah." (Baihaqi in Shu‘bul Imaan)

Experience too has established that pious company is the root or basis of the Deen. Among the various ways of strengthening one’s Deen and experiencing the sweetness of Deen, the most efficacious is the company of the pious.

9. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah narrates that once he was in the company of rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) who said: “In Jannat are pillars of Ya’qoot (a precious stone of Jannat). On these pillars are erected mansions of zabarjad (a material of Jannat). In these mansions are open doors which glitter like bright stars.”

The people asked: ‘Who will occupy these lofty mansions?’

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: “Those who loved one another for the sake of Allah; those who associated with one another for the sake of Allah and those who met one another for the sake of Allah.” (Baihaqi in Shu‘bul Imaan)

10. Hadhrat Samurah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Do not live with the mushrikeen nor be together with them. Whoever lives with them and associates with them is one of them.” (Tirimizi)

From these aayaat and ahadith it is abundantly clear that association should be with men of piety so that one may gain spiritually and be influenced by the virtue and statements of wisdom and piety of the pious men. The derivation of spiritual benefit from the company of the pious has been amply proven from the aforegoing references. Such aayaat and ahadith will now be cited by which it will be proved that this same benefit is also attainable by studying the life-conditions of the pious.

11. Allah Ta’ala says: “We narrate all these stories of the Ambiyaa (Nooh, Hood, Saalih, Ibraheem, Loot, Shuaib and Musa – alayhis salaam) to you so that We strengthen your heart.” (Surah Hood)

This then is one benefit of reading and studying the stories of the pious people. The heart is strengthened and imbued with comfort and contentment. The heart becomes fortified against falsehood just as the pious people were strong and steadfast against falsehood. As a result of such steadfastness, Allah Ta’ala bestows His Aid. In another aayaat Allah Ta’ala declares: “We aid Our Messengers and the people of Imaan here in this world and We will also aid them on that Day when these (Angels) bearing testimony will stand.” (Surah Mu’min)

It is evident that the Aid on that Day of Qiyaamah will be only for the obedient ones. They will be the successful ones while the disobedient will be met with failure. As a result of the stories of the pious people, one gains strength and firmness on the Deen while at the same time it is learnt that these pious ones will attain the loftiest states of the Aakhirah, hence one is encouraged to follow in their footsteps thereby also gaining the lofty ranks in the Hereafter.

12. Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu ahu) says: “Whoever wishes to adopt the path of piety forever, should adopt the path of those (pious ones) who have passed away.” There is no absolute certainty that a man who is living will remain firm on the path of piety unto the end. The danger always remains of him going astray. Hence, the path of piety of a living man could be adopted only as long as he remains on that path. The perpetual path of piety is the path of the Sahaban of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). It is also stated in the hadith that the character and habits of the Sahaabah should be established as a standard as far as is possible. (Jam’ul Fawaaid) It is quite obvious that the adoption of the character and ways of the Sahaabah can be possible only if one is aware of their life-stories. It is therefore essential to study books on the lives of the illustrious Sahaabah.
13. Like The Qur’aan Majeed, the Ahadith similarly narrate the stories of the Ambiya, Ulama and Auliya with a view of inducing in people the urge to follow the uprighteous and pious personalities of the past. This purpose is stated in the order: “Therefore, follow their guidance.”

The Ahadith are replete with the stories of pious and accepted personalities. These stories are an effective way of exhorting people towards piety and spiritual progress. It is precisely for this reason that we find the Auliya always making it a point to compile such books.

The following are some books in this regard. Do make a special effort to read these books or let someone read and explain the books to you. If the services of an Alim are available for this purpose then it will be most beneficial.

- Taarikh Habeebullah
- Nashrut Teeb
- Maghaazi-e-Rasool
- Qasasul Ambiya
- Futuhush Shaam wal Misr wal Ajam
- Futuhul Iraq
- Futuhaat Bhunsa
- Firdaus Aasiyah
- Hikayatus Saliheen
- Tadhkaratul Auliya
- Anwarul Muhsineen
- Nazhatual Basateen Imdadul Mushtaq
- Naik Beebiyan
N.B. Certain things in some of these books will be above the understanding of most people. Such difficult and incomprehensible sections should be omitted.
It is essential to inculcate in one the reverence and respect for the lofty character and habits of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). It is necessary that the morals of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) become established in ones heart so that love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) becomes dominant in the heart and eagerness to follow the holy character of Nabi-e-Kareem (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) is induced in the Believer. Some ayaat and ahadith will be mentioned in this regard.

1. Allah Ta’ala says: “Verily, you (Muhammad) are on a lofty character.” (Surah Noon)

2. Allah Ta’ala says: “The Nabi is inconvenienced by this act (but he does not make this known); he takes you into consideration (by his silence). But Allah speaks plainly and cares not (for anyone).” (Surah Ahzaab)

This is a reference to a particular incident. Some Companions stayed longer than what was proper on this occasion at the home of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) who was anxious to retire for the night. They continued in conversation. Although Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was inconvenienced by their late stay, he nevertheless, refrained from asking them to leave, not wishing to hurt their feelings. This reticence of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was in regard to his personal matters and not to such affairs which came within the purview of Tableegh.

3. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “I served Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for ten years, but never did he speak a word of rebuke to me; he never said to me: ‘Why did you do this and why did you not do that?’ (Bukhari, Muslim)

"Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was the kindest in disposition. Once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) asked me to do something, but I refused while in my heart I intended to go where ordered I then went on the errand. I passed some children playing in the market-place and I joined them. Suddenly Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) arrived there and laughing he took hold of my neck and said: ‘Are you going? I said yes, I am going now.’ (Muslim)

4. “I was walking with Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). He had on him a heavy shawl made in Najran. Along the way a Bedouin came. The Beduion grabbed hold of the Shawl and pulled it with such force that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was pulled forward close to the breast of the Beduion who said: ‘O Muhammad! Order that I too be given from the wealth of Allah, which is with you.’
Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) smiled and ordered that he be granted a gift. (Bukhari, Muslim)

5. Hadhrat Jabbir (radiallahu anhu) said that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) never refused to give anything which he was asked. If he had it, he would give it. If he did not have it, he would present an apology and make a promise to give it at another time. (Bukhari, Muslim)

7. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once a man asked Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for some goats which belonged to him (Rasulullah sallallahu alayhi wasallam). The goats were grazing in a valley. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) presented all the goats to the person who had asked for them. This man when he returned to his people, said: “O my people! Become Muslims. By Allah! Muhammad gives much.” (Muslim)

8. Jubair Bin Mut‘im said that once he was walking with Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) on the occasion of his return from Hunain. A group of Beduoins surrounded Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and were asking for gifts. They grabbed from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) everything which he had until finally they snatched even the shawl from his body. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “At least return my shawl … If I had camels as numerous as the trees, I would have distributed them among you; you would then not have found me to be miserly and small of heart.” (Bukhari)

9. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that after Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would complete Fajr Salaat, the servants of the people of Madinah would bring containers of water. Whoever presented a container, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would immerse his holy hand in the water. This was done for the sake of barkat. Sometimes the mornings were extremely cold, nevertheless, he immersed his hand in the water. (Muslim)

10. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was not harsh in disposition nor was he one who cursed. If someone had to be reprimanded he would (at most) exclaim: ‘What is the matter with him’ May dust settle on his forehead.’

This statement, viz., ‘May dust settle on his forehead. Is not a curse. Even during Salaat, dust settles on the forehead when in Sajdah by the head touching the earth. In a way, this was a dua for the betterement of the person. It implied that the errant attain rectitude by performance of Salaat, for Salaat prevents from evil and shameless deeds. This is one of the peculiarities of Salaat. This hadith is recorded in Bukhari Shareef.

11. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was more modest that a young Purdah-Nasheen girl (a girl who remains in seluion). Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi says:
“When he (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) saw something detestable, we would realize it from the effect on his auspicious face.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

He would not generally mention it due to excessive modesty.

12. Hadhrat Aswad (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he asked Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu): “What did Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) do at home?” She replied: “He would assist his wives in their housework”. (Bukhari)

Some examples of the type of housework done by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) are mentioned in the following hadith.

13. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would mend his shoes, sew his clothing, and do the work of the house as ordinary people among you do.”

She also narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) did not act like a master at home. He would milk the goats himself. (Tirmizi)

14. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) never killed anything with his own hands nor did he beat any servant. Yes, Jihaaad in the Path of Allah, was an exception. He never hit anyone in anger nor inconvenienced anyone unnecessarily or in revenge. However, when the prohibitions of Allah were violated, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) took appropriate action for the sake of Allah Ta’ala. (Muslim)

15. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “I was eight years old when I joined the service of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). I remained in his service for ten years. Whenever I damaged anything with my hands, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) did not scold me. Even if someone from the family of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) scolded me, he would prevent them, any say: “If anything else was decreed, it would have happened.” (Masaabeeh and Baihaqi)

16. hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) visited the sick and participated in the funeral (janaazah) service. (Ibn Majah, Baihaqi)

17. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that when making musafahah (shaking hands) with someone, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would not withdraw his hand before that person withdrew his hand; nor would he turn away his face until the other person did not turn away his face. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was never seen stretching his legs towards others. (Tirmizi)

18. In the Kitaab, Shamaail Tirmizi are two lengthy narrations from which some sentences will be quoted here. Hadhrat Hasan and Hadhrat Husain (radiallahu anhuma) narrate on the authority of their father, Hadhrat Ali (radiallallhu anhu):

"At home Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) divided his time into three periods. In one period he remained engrossed in the ibaadat of Allah Azza Wa Jal. In the other period he engaged himself in fulfilling the rights of his family. One period he reserved for himself. His special period was then further divided between others and himself. The benefits and barkat of this special period were spread among the people at large through the medium of the special companions of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). In this special period, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) granted certain distinguished Sahaabah (the Ulama among the Sahaabah) permission to sit in his company. In this special time Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) preferred the distinguished Sahaabah above others. In this time Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) engaged the distinguished group of Sahaabah in matters of the Deen and the Ummah. All who attended came with the motive of acquiring benefit from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Besides the benefits of Knowledge they would also participate in meals with Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). When they departed from his company, they would leave as guides of the Deen."

This was the atmosphere of the special and distinguished gatherings of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).

Regarding the time Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) spent outside the home, Hadhrat Hasan and Hadhrat Husain (radiallahu anhuma) narrate on the authority of their father, Hadhrat Ali (radiallallhu anhu) that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was at all times pleasant and smiling. People would not quarrel in his presence. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) did not speak until another speaker completed and became silent. He overlooked the disrespect which was in the conversation of a stranger. He did not interrupt a conversation unless it exceeded the bounds of propriety. He would then intervene and bring it to an end either by his express prohibition or by leaving the company.
This was his attitude with the general public, i.e. with those with whom he had connection, viz., the Sahaabah. Regarding his attitude towards his enemies, something will be said about it now.

19. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once someone asked Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “O Rasulullah! Curse the mushrikeen.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: I was not sent as one who curses. “I was sent only as a mercy.” (Muslim)

Rasulullah’s (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) habit was to even ask for the betterment of his enemies. Occasionally he would supplicate to Allah for protection against enemies.

20. In a lengthy hadith narrated by Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha), regarding the incident of Ta’if, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) referred to the torture of the kuffaar on this occasion to have been severer than the hardship which he suffered during the battle of Uhud. On this occasion at Ta’if, Hadhrat Jibraeel (alayhis salaam) introduced Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to the Angel in charge of the mountains. The Angel greeted Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and said: “O Muhammad! I am the Angel of the mountains. Allah has sent me to you so that you command me. If you command, I will crush the people of Ta’if between these two mountains.”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: “No! I hope that Allah will create from among them such men who will worship only Allah and associate none with Him.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

At this critical time too, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) never thought of revenge. He only had to give the order and his enemies would have perished. But, he chose to forgive them and supplicate on their behalf. He confronted his opponents with love and affection.

21. In a lengthy hadith, Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates an incident about a Jew who at the time was a subject of the Muslim state in Madina. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) owed the Jew some money. Once, in demanding his money, he refused to allow Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to go home. He blockaded Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) in the Musjid from Zuhr until Fajr of the next day. When people started to remonstrate with the Jew, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) prevented them and said: “Allah has forbidden me to be unjust to those with whom I have a treaty and with those with whom I have no treaty.”
Late during the day, the Jew proclaimed: “I bear witness that there is no deity but Allah and I bear witness, that verily, you (O Muhammad!) are the Rasool of Allah.”

The Jew said; “I adopted this attitude (towards Rasulullah) because in the Taurah a description of the Nabi is given. The Taurah describes the Nabi to be Muhammad, the son of Abdullah. His birthplace will be Makkah. His place of migration, Madinah. His kingdom will be over the Land of Shaam. He will not be harsh. He will not be loud in the market-places. He will not commit acts of immodesty. I wished to ascertain whether this man is indeed the Muhammad stated in the Taurah. (Baihaqi)

If these few ahadith are read once daily, one will very soon realize the change towards piety, which will overcome one.
The Rights of Oneself

Man’s life is the property of Allah Ta’ala and He has imposed on us rights in respect to our own lives. Life has been bestowed to us as an Amaanat. (Trust). It is therefore incumbent to utilize and guard this Amaanat according to the Divine Command. Among the rights incumbent on us in respect of our lives are:

The protection of its health and strength.

- The guarding of its peace. This means to refrain from any such activity, which unnecessarily imposes strain and frustration. Neglect in these rights results in interference with one’s Deen. Peace of mind and courage are destroyed and in consequence one will fail to render service to others. At times, due to the frustration and weakness, one’s condition aggravates to the degree where one’s very Imaan is in danger of elimination. This grave state results because of impatience and ingratitude fostered by the frustration and depression which overtakes man who has failed in fulfilling the rights of his own body and soul.

Some aayaat and ahadith will now be mentioned in this regard.

1. Allah Ta’ala mentions in Surah Shu’raa, Nabi Ibraheem’s (alayhis salaam) statements in which he enumerates the bounties of Allah Ta’ala on him. Among these bounties, He states: “When I become sick, only He cures me.” The desirability of health is obvious from this aayat.

2. Allah Ta’ala says: “Prepare to the best of your ability power for them (the enemies).” (Surah Anfaal)

This aayat categorically commands the protection of strength and power. The hadith of Uqban Bin Aamir (radiallahu anhu) narrated in Muslim, mentions that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) explained the above aayat as a reference to martial training since this strengthens both the heart and the Deen. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) mentions specifically training with the bow and arrow in the Tafseer of the above aayat because the bow and the arrow were the weapons of that age. This Aayat and its Tafseer will be applicable to whatever weapons in vogue during any age.

3. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Shareef: “Do not be wasteful.” Waste leads to destitution, which in turn produces hardship, worry and frustration. Thus, this Aayat in actual fact commands abstention from frustration and despondency which one invites upon oneself by extravagance. Peace of mind is thus commanded by the Qur’aan.
4. Regarding excessive fasting and remaining awake at night in ibaadat. Hadhrt (Abdullah Ibn Amr A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Your body too has a right over you; your eyes too have a right over you.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Excessive striving and staying awake at night have a detrimental effect on the health and this is negatory of the rights which the body of man has.

5. Hadhrat Ibn Abaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “In regard to two bounties, most people remain in loss (deprived of their benefits). One is health and the other is peace of mind.”

Health and peace of mind are two bounties which are strong aids in the development of one’s spiritual and Deeni life. Peace of mind will exist when one has sufficient material possession. The worry of poverty and want will thus not overtake one. From this narration we realize that the two favours mentioned above are to be cultivated.

6. Hadhrat Amr Bin Maimoon Udi (radiallahu anhu) narrates that while admonishing a man, Rasulullah sallallahu alayhi wasallam said: “Consider (certain) five things as a treasure before (another) five things overtake you. (1) Youth before old age; (2) Health before sickness; (3) wealth before poverty; (4) peace of mind before worry; and, (5) Life before the event of death. (Tirmizi)

The five treasures mentioned should be valued and advantage be taken of them while they endure. These five treasure or bounties should expended in the interests of the Deen and one’s spiritual reformation and development. Once these treasures have ended, the great opportunity of rendering perfect ibaadat will have passed, hence Nabi (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) exhorted that maximum benefit be derived while these conditions last.

7. Hadhrat Ubaidullah Ibn Muhsin (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “He among you who arises in the morning with Imaan, health and sufficient food for that day, should consider himself as being in possession of the whole world.” (Tirmizi)

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever seeks lawful earnings so as to refrain from begging and to fulfill the rights of his family and neighbour, he will meet Allah Ta’ala on the Day of Qiyaamah with his face glittering like the moon of the fourteenth night.” (Baihaqi and Nuaim)
This establishes that the seeking of wealth for a valid reasons is exhorted and is full of significance. Lawful wealth too plays its part in the acquisition of peace of mind, which is an end desired by the Deen.

9. Hadhrat Abu Zarr (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Abstention from the world (which is ordered by the Deen) does not mean making unlawful what is lawful nor the destruction of wealth." (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

Destruction of the material bounties and means which Allah Ta’ala has created is not advocated by Islam since possession of material wealth is conducive for the attainment of peace of mind which is a desirable end. The overwhelming majority of people on earth cannot enjoy peace of mind without material prosperity.

10. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Allah has created both medicine and sickness. For every sickness there is a medicine. Resort to medicine and refrain from using haraam substances as medicine." (Abu Dawood)

This hadith clearly commands the protection of health.

11. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "The stomach is the fountain of the body. If it is maintained in a healthy state, one remains healthy. If it is despoiled, the health deteriorates." (Shu’bul Imaan, Baihaqi)

This hadith too refers to the guarding of one’s physical health.

12. Hadhrat Umm Munthir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu): "Do not eat of these dates, for you are sickly."

Umm Munthir (radiallahu anhu) then prepared some beet and barley. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu): “This suits you.” (Ahmad, Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

This hadith also pertains to the protection of one’s health.

13. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would make the following dua: “O Allah! I seek your protection from starvation .....” (Abu Dawood, Nisaai, Ibn Majah)

In Teebi it is said that the reason for asking protection against starvation is that starvation produces physical weakness and mental anguish. Again this hadith too implies the desirability of health and peace of mind.
Another hadith mentions the significance of hunger while the hadith cited above mentions the seeking of protection against hunger. Although there seems to be an apparent contradiction here, in reality there is no contradiction. The significance of hunger mentioned in the hadith is similar to the significance of sickness also stated in the hadith. Like sickness, hunger is not an end to be acquired. The significance in this regard refers to the thawaab one will receive by adopting patience when overtaken by the calamity of sickness or hunger. When this has been imposed on one, there is nothing but patience to adopt. Thus, the significance stated, is from that direction.

This hadith points to the maintenance of physical health and strength.

14. Hadhrat Uqbah Bin Aamir (radiallahu anhu) also narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say: “Whoever gives up arrow-shooting after having learnt it, is not of us ...” (Muslims)

The emphasis on physical strength and power is indeed great in this hadith.

15. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “A strong Believer is better than a weak Believer.”

This hadith speaks of physical strength as is clear from the explanation of the hadith by the authorities of the Deen. Physical power and strength are abilities which Allah Ta’ala loves in his servants. Physical strength has to be developed by Believers. Since this is desirable, it follows that it is a duty upon one to preserve one’s health and develop one’s strength while at the same time it will be un-Islamic to resort to such practices which are harmful and injurious to ones health. Excessive eating excessive sleeping, excessive indulgence in sexual relations are destructive to one’s health. In the same way excessive reduction in food and sleep produces physical weakness.

Physical training, martial arts and ways of defense are all included within the scope of this hadith. (This should not be misunderstood. The inference should not be drawn that the sports of the kuffaar also come within the purview of this hadith. Kuffaar sport is prohibited by the Shariah. – Translator)

Physical training and methods of defense should be practiced within the bounds of the Shariah and the law.
16. Hadhrat Amr Bin Shuaib narrates on the authority of his father the following hadith of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “One traveler is a shaitaan; two travelers are two shaitans while three travelers constitute a caravan. (Maalik, Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Nisaai)

This criticism of one or two persons undertaking a journey applies to times of danger. Three being a fair group, obtained the description of ‘caravan’ from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). By labeling one or two travelers as ‘devils’, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) discouraged traveling by single persons and even two people since they may not be able to adequately protect themselves along the journey during times of danger. Thus, we realize from this hadith that it is essential to make preparations for our protection and defense.

17. In one hadith narrated by Hadhrat Abu Tha’labah (radiallahu anhu), Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) forbade a traveling group breaking up and scattering at a place where the group halts on the journey. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) attributed such scattering and wandering about to the shaitaan. Travelling companions should remain together so that they may aid one another if some difficulty, calamity or emergency overtakes them. (Abu Dawood)

This hadith too stresses the need for arranging one’s protection and taking precaution against sudden calamities.

18. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to one man.

“Take along your weapons. I fear the Bani Kuraizah (who were Jews and the enemies of the Muslims) ...”

This man went home and brought along his weapons ...” (Muslims)

In times of danger, arming oneself in a lawful manner is stated in this hadith.

19. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “On the Day of Badr, three persons sat on a camel (i.e. due to the poorly equipped army of Muslims, each camel had three persons to carry). Abu Lubaabah and Hadhrat Ali were Rasulullah’s (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) partners on a camel. When it was Rasulullah’s (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) turn to walk, both these companions insisted that they would walk on behalf of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and that he the should remain on the back of the camel.

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to them: “You are not stronger than me; I depend on thawaab as you do.” (Sharhus Sunnah)
From this hadith we realize that one should not be accustomed to too much comfort. One has to be prepared for all exigencies and emergencies.

20. Hadhrat Fudhaalah Ibn Ubaidah (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) forbade us from becoming accustomed to much comfort and he would order us sometimes to walk barefooted.” (Abu Dawood)

Again, too much comfort has been depreciated. Muslim have to be alert and prepared at all times.

21. Hadhrat Huzaifah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “It is not proper for a Believer to disgrace himself.”

It was asked: “O Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam)! What is meant by this?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “To undertake something which you cannot bear.” (Tirmizi)

To assume a task beyond one’s capability is not proper for a Mu’min.

The consequence will be failure, disgrace, worry, and shame. Frustration will then overtake one. This hadith covers all such acts and tasks which are beyond one’s power. In all cases of difficulties and hardships adopt sabr (patience) and supplicate unto Allah Ta’ala for aid.

The aforegoing discussion establishes clearly that health, strength and peace of mind are desireable ends to be pursued. All such acts which interfere with the attainment of these ends are detestable. Such impediments are at times totally prohibited and sometimes they are reprehensible.

Sometimes these laudable aims (health, strength and peace) are wrecked, not by any voluntary action by man himself, but by an Act of Allah Ta’ala. In such cases of hardship sabr has to be adopted. Thawaab accrues in the wake of these divinely imposed hardships while at the same time divine aid is granted to enable one to withstand the difficulties and hardships. In this way frustration and despondency do not settle over one. Such divinely imposed hardships occurred to all Ambiyaa (alayhi sallam) and Auliyyaa Kiraaam. The Qur’aan and Hadith are replete with such episodes,
The Rights of Oneself

Man’s life is the property’ of Allah Ta’ala and He has imposed on us rights in respect to our own lives. Life has been bestowed to us as an Amaanat. (Trust). It is therefore incumbent to utilize and guard this Amaanat according to the Divine Command. Among the rights incumbent on us in respect of our lives are:

The protection of its health and strength.

- The guarding of its peace. This means to refrain from any such activity, which unnecessarily imposes strain and frustration. Neglect in these rights results in interference with one’s Deen. Peace of mind and courage are destroyed and in consequence one will fail to render service to others. At times, due to the frustration and weakness, one’s condition aggravates to the degree where one’s very Imaan is in danger of elimination. This grave state results because of impatience and ingratitude fostered by the frustration and depression which overtakes man who has failed in fulfilling the rights of his own body and soul.

Some aayaat and ahadith will now be mentioned in this regard.

1. Allah Ta’ala mentions in Surah Shu’raa, Nabi Ibraheem’s (alayhis salaam) statements in which he enumerates the bounties of Allah Ta’ala on him. Among these bounties, He states: “When I become sick, only He cures me.”

The desirability of health is obvious from this aayat.

2. Allah Ta’ala says: “Prepare to the best of your ability power for them (the enemies).” (Surah Anfaal)

This aayat categorically commands the protection of strength and power. The hadith of Uqban Bin Aamir (radiallahu anhu) narrated in Muslim, mentions that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) explained the above aayat as a reference to martial training since this strengthens both the heart and the Deen. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) mentions specifically training with the bow and arrow in the Tafseer of the above aayat because the bow and the arrow were the weapons of that age. This Aayat and its Tafseer will be applicable to whatever weapons in vogue during any age.

3. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Shareef: “Do not be wasteful.”

Waste leads to destitution, which in turn produces hardship, worry and frustration. Thus, this Aayat in actual fact commands abstention from frustration and despondency which one invites upon oneself by extravagance. Peace of mind is thus commanded by the Qur’aan.
4. Regarding excessive fasting and remaining awake at night in ibaadat. Hadhrt Abdullah Ibn Amr A’s (radhiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Your body too has a right over you; your eyes too have a right over you.”
(\textbf{Bukhari, Muslim})

Excessive striving and staying awake at night have a detrimental effect on the health and this is negatory of the rights which the body of man has.

5. Hadhrat Ibn Abaas (radhiallahu anhu) narrates: “In regard to two bounties, most people remain in loss (deprived of their benefits). One is health and the other is peace of mind.”

Health and peace of mind are two bounties which are strong aids in the development of one’s spiritual and Deeni life. Peace of mind will exist when one has sufficient material possession. The worry of poverty and want will thus not overtake one. From this narration we realize that the two favours mentioned above are to be cultivated.

6. Hadhrat Amr Bin Maimoon Udi (radhiallahu anhu) narrates that while admonishing a man, Rasulullah sallallahu alayhi wasallam said: “Consider (certain) five things as a treasure before (another) five things overtake you. (1) Youth before old age; (2) Health before sickness; (3) wealth before poverty; (4) peace of mind before worry; and, (5) Life before the event of death.
(\textbf{Tirmizi})

The five treasures mentioned should be valued and advantage be taken of them while they endure. These five treasure or bounties should expended in the interests of the Deen and one’s spiritual reformation and development. Once these treasures have ended, the great opportunity of rendering perfect ibaadat will have passed, hence Nabi (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) exhorted that maximum benefit be derived while these conditions last.

7. Hadhrat Ubaidullah Ibn Muhsin (radhiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “He among you who arises in the morning with Imaan, health and sufficient food for that day, should consider himself as being in possession of the whole world.”
(\textbf{Tirmizi})

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radhiallahu anhu narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever seeks lawful earnings so as to refrain from begging and to fulfill the rights of his family and neighbour, he will meet Allah Ta’ala on the Day of Qiyaamah with his face glittering like the moon of the fourteenth night.”
(\textbf{Baihaqi and Nuaim})
This establishes that the seeking of wealth for a valid reasons is exhorted and is full of significance. Lawful wealth too plays its part in the acquisition of peace of mind, which is an end desired by the Deen.

9. Hadhrat Abu Zarr (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Abstention from the world (which is ordered by the Deen) does not mean making unlawful what is lawful nor the destruction of wealth." (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

Destruction of the material bounties and means which Allah Ta’ala has created is not advocated by Islam since possession of material wealth is conducive for the attainment of peace of mind which is a desirable end. The over whelming majority of people on earth cannot enjoy peace of mind without material prosperity.

10. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Allah has created both medicine and sickness. For every sickness there is a medicine. Resort to medicine and refrain from using haraam substances as medicine.” (Abu Dawood)

This hadith clearly commands the protection of health.

11. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "The stomach is the fountain of the body. If it is maintained in a healthy state, one remains healthy. If it is despoiled, the health deteriorates." (Shu’bul Imaan, Baihaqi)

This hadith too refers to the guarding of one’s physical health.

12. Hadhrat Umm Munthir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu): "Do not eat of these dates, for you are sickly."

Umm Munthir (radiallahu anhu) then prepared some beet and barley. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu): “This suits you.” (Ahmad, Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

This hadith also pertains to the protection of one’s health.

13. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would make the following dua: "O Allah! I seek your protection from starvation ...." (Abu Dawood, Nisaai, Ibn Majah)

In Teebi it is said that the reason for asking protection against starvation is that starvation produces physical weakness and mental anguish. Again this hadith too implies the desirability of health and peace of mind.
Another hadith mentions the significance of hunger while the hadith cited above mentions the seeking of protection against hunger. Although there seems to be an apparent contradiction here, in reality there is no contradiction. The significance of hunger mentioned in the hadith is similar to the significance of sickness also stated in the hadith. Like sickness, hunger is not an end to be acquired. The significance in this regard refers to the thawaab one will receive by adopting patience when overtaken by the calamity of sickness or hunger. When this has been imposed on one, there is nothing but patience to adopt. Thus, the significance stated, is from that direction.

13. Hadhrat Uqbah Bin Amir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he hear Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say: “Practise arrow-shooting and horse-riding ...” (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah, Abu Dawood, Daarami)

This hadith points to the maintenance of physical health and strength.

14. Hadhrat Uqbah Bin Aamir (radiallahu anhu) also narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say: “Whoever gives up arrow-shooting after having learnt it, is not of us ...” (Muslims)

The emphasis on physical strength and power is indeed great in this hadith.

15. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “A strong Believer is better than a weak Believer.”

This hadith speaks of physical strength as is clear from the explanation of the hadith by the authorities of the Deen. Physical power and strength are abilities which Allah Ta’ala loves in his servants. Physical strength has to be developed by Believers. Since this is desirable, it follows that it is a duty upon one to preserve one’s health and develop one’s strength while at the same time it will be un-Islamic to resort to such practices which are harmful and injurious to ones health. Excessive eating excessive sleeping, excessive indulgence in sexual relations are destructive to one’s health. In the same way excessive reduction in food and sleep produces physical weakness.

Physical training, martial arts and ways of defense are all included within the scope of this hadith. (This should not be misunderstood. The inference should not be drawn that the sports of the kuffaar also come within the purview of this hadith. Kuffaar sport is prohibited by the Shariah. – Translator)

Physical training and methods of defense should be practiced within the bounds of the Shariah and the law.
16. Hadhrat Amr Bin Shuaib narrates on the authority of his father the following hadith of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “One traveler is a shaitaan; two travelers are two shaitans while three travelers constitute a caravan. (Maalik, Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Nisaai)

This criticism of one or two persons undertaking a journey applies to times of danger. Three being a fair group, obtained the description of ‘caravan’ from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). By labeling one or two travelers as ‘devils’, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) discouraged traveling by single persons and even two people since they may not be able to adequately protect themselves along the journey during times of danger. Thus, we realize from this hadith that it is essential to make preparations for our protection and defense.

17. In one hadith narrated by Hadhrat Abu Tha’labah (radiallahu anhu), Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) forbade a traveling group breaking up and scattering at a place where the group halts on the journey. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) attributed such scattering and wandering about to the shaitaan. Travelling companions should remain together so that they may aid one another if some difficulty, calamity or emergency overtakes them. (Abu Dawood)

This hadith too stresses the need for arranging one’s protection and taking precaution against sudden calamities.

18. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to one man.

“Take along your weapons. I fear the Bani Kuraizah (who were Jews and the enemies of the Muslims) …”

This man went home and brought along his weapons …” (Muslims)

In times of danger, arming oneself in a lawful manner is stated in this hadith.

19. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “On the Day of Badr, three persons sat on a camel (i.e. due to the poorly equipped army of Muslims, each camel had three persons to carry). Abu Lubaabah and Hadhrat Ali were Rasulullah’s (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) partners on a camel. When it was Rasulullah’s (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) turn to walk, both these companions insisted that they would walk on behalf of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and that he the should remain on the back of the camel.

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to them: “You are not stronger than me; I depend on thawaab as you do.” (Sharhus Sunnah)
From this hadith we realize that one should not be accustomed to too much comfort. One has to be prepared for all exigencies and emergencies.

20. Hadhrat Fudhaalah Ibn Ubaidah (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) forbade us from becoming accustomed to much comfort and he would order us sometimes to walk barefooted.” (Abu Dawood)

Again, too much comfort has been depreciated. Muslim have to be alert and prepared at all times.

21. Hadhrat Huzaifah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “It is not proper for a Believer to disgrace himself.”

It was asked: “O Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam)! What is meant by this?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “To undertake something which you cannot bear.” (Tirmizi)

To assume a task beyond one’s capability is not proper for a Mu’min. The consequence will be failure, disgrace, worry, and shame. Frustration will then overtake one. This hadith covers all such acts and tasks which are beyond one’s power. In all cases of difficulties and hardships adopt sabr (patience) and supplicate unto Allah Ta’ala for aid.

The foregoing discussion establishes clearly that health, strength and peace of mind are desirable ends to be pursued. All such acts which interfere with the attainment of these ends are detestable. Such impediments are at times totally prohibited and sometimes they are reprehensible.

Sometimes these laudable aims (health, strength and peace) are wrecked, not by any voluntary action by man himself, but by an Act of Allah Ta’ala. In such cases of hardship sabr has to be adopted. Thawaab accrues in the wake of these divinely imposed hardships while at the same time divine aid is granted to enable one to withstand the difficulties and hardships. In this way frustration and despondency do not settle over one. Such divinely imposed hardships occurred to all Ambiyaa (alayhi sallam) and Auliya Kiraam. The Qur’aan and Hadith are replete with such episodes
Steadfastness in Salaat

Salaat is of vital importance for the life of a Muslim. Some Qur’aanic ayaat and ahadith pertaining to Salaat will be narrated here.

1. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Majeed in regard to the attributes of those who fear Him: “They perform Salaat correctly ....” (Surah Baqarah)

This is a reference to proper performance of Salaat; performing Salaat regularly at appointed times and observing all the rules of Salaat. In numerous places in the Qur’aan Shareef, Allah Ta’ala commands the correct performance of Salaat. The large number of times referring to the correct observance of Salaat abundantly illustrates the vital importance of Salaat.

2. The Qur’aan majeed states: “O People of Imaan! Seek aid with Sabr (Patience) and Salaat.” (Surah Baqarah)

A special characteristic of Salaat is mentioned in this aayat. Everyone stands in need of assistance in both material and spiritual life. In terms of the Qur’aan Majeed, Salaat is a great and wonderful source of aid which a Believer can obtain by means of correct performance of Salaat.

3. The Qur’aan Majeed orders: “Guard (all) Salat ....” (Surah Baqarah)

Allah Ta’ala commands that we guard our Salaat diligently; that we do not delay or postpone the proper and due performance of Salaat, no matter what the exigency or emergency may be. The insistence on performing Salaat at the divinely-appointed times is so much stressed that the Qur’aan commands that Salaat be performed even in times of grave danger when engaged in fighting the enemy-in times of war. Even if the fighting is severe and heavy, the Qur’aan Shareef orders that Salaat be performed while mounted on one’s means of transport and facing any direction, even while in motion and even if one is unable to perform ruku and sajdah due to the extreme danger and awkward circumstances produced by the war. Indeed, we must ponder and realize the vital importance of Salaat from this command to perform Salaat at the appointed time even when one’s life is in grave danger. There is no permission to postpone the performance of Salaat. This is what is meant by “guarding” Salaat mentioned in the Qur’aan.

4. The Qur’aan Shareef also commands that if the danger of the enemy making a sudden attack is imminent, the Muslim army should split up into groups. One groups should perform Salaat while the other group fights on or guards. After the one group has performed Salaat, the other groups will come to Salaat while the first group will go into confrontation with the enemy. The Salaat to be performed on the battlefield under such dangerous conditions differs to some extent from the normal Salaat in method of performance of the raka’ts.

The methods of performing Salaat in dangerous circumstances is described in the books of Fiqh. The point to observe and reflect on here is that even in the most dangerous of times permission to delay the Salaat is not granted. This amply establishes the vital importance of Salaat in the life of a Muslim.

5. In certain circumstances, e.g. sickness, non-availability of water, etc., one is not able to utilize water to achieve the states of tahaarat (purity). However, not with standing such circumstances, the Qur’aan does not grant permission of Salaat until one is able to acquire the state of tahaarat by means of water.

For this exigency, the Qur’aan orders that Tayammum be made. By means of Tayammum, Allah Ta’ala bestows on us the states of tahaarat, hence Salaat has to be executed at its proper time. There is no permission to postpone the Salaat. The Qur’aan orders that if one is unable to stand and perform Salaat, due to illness or weakness, one has to sit and perform Salaat. If the sickness and weakness are such that even sitting is not possible, the Salaat has to be performed while laying down and Ruku, and Sajdah shall be made by means of signs. But, permission to delay Salaat is not granted. Salaat is the salient and most outstanding feature of Islam. It is the distinguishing factor between kufr and Imaan. All Ulama unanimously aver that if a kaafir whom none has heard proclaiming the Kalimah, performs Salaat, then it is incumbent to regard him as a Muslim. Zakaat, although of fundamental importance, is not a salient and conspicuous sign of Islam as Salaat is.

6. The Qur’aan Majeed while mentioning a group of Ambiyaa and the corrupt people who followed after them, says: "(After them) such corrupt persons were born who destroyed Salaat ... soon will they (in Aakhirah) see the punishment for their destruction of Salaat)." (Surah Maryam)

This aayat sounds a grave warning of terrible punishment for those who neglect and ruin the institution of Salaat.

7. The Qur’aan Shareef commands: “Order your family to perform Salaat, and you, yourself, also be steadfast on it.” (Surah Ta Haa)

In the first instance, this command is directed to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), and in general it applies to all Believers. From this Command we realize that when even the august and holy personage of Rasulullah (Sallallahu alayhi wasallam) is not excused from Salaat then to a very greater degree will the command be applicable to us. We also learn from the aayat that while we have to be steadfast in the observance of Salaat, it devolves as an incumbent duty upon us to ensure that we inculcate the proper observance of Salaat in our familes and our dependents.

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Will there remain any impurity on a person who baths five times a day in a river flowing in front of his house?”

The people said: “No impurity will remain on him.”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: This is the effect of the five Salaat. By means of it, Allah Ta’ala purifies the performer of all sins.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Indeed, a great significance of Salaat is stated in this hadith.

9. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (Sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The distinguishing factor between kufr and Imaan is the deliberate neglect of Salaat.” (Muslim)

Deliberate neglect brings one close to kufr. One who abstains from Salaat flounders on the brink of kufr

10. Hadhrat Abdur Rahmaan Bin Amr Bin Al-A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Salaat, on the Day of Qiyaamah, will be a light, a proof and a means of salvation for the one who guarded it. He who neglects Salaat, will have no light, no proof and no salvation (from the direction of Salaat). He (the one who neglected Salaat) will be in the company of Qaroon, Fir’oun, Haamaan and ubay Ibn Khalf on the Day of Qiyaamah.” (Ahmad, Daarami, Baihaqi, Shu’bul Imaan)

What greater punishment and disgrace can there be than to be resurrected in the company of such great unbelievers and to be flung into Jahannum along with them?

11. Hadhrat Bareedah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The subject of a pledge which exists between the people and us (the Ambiyaa) is Salaat. Thus, whoever, neglects Salaat has become a kaafir (i.e. in terms of practical life, not in terms of Imaan).” (Ahmad, Tirmizi, Nisaai, Ibn Majah)

The evil of neglecting Salaat is amply illustrated by this hadith. Those who deliberately neglect Salaat are likened to the kuffaar. They appear in practical life as kuffaar. Since there is no distinguishing feature between them and the kuffaar, Islamic law will treat them on par with the kuffaar. It is clear from this hadith that neglect of Salaat is a salient feature of kufr. Although a Muslim will not be proclaimed a kaafir if he neglects the performance of Salaat, nevertheless, the Shariah views his crime with the utmost of gravity. Persistence in the neglect of Salaat is punishable by death in Islam.

12. Amr Ibn Shuaib narrating on the authority of his father who in turn narrates from his father (radiallahu anhum) that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Stress on your children the performance of Salaat from the age of seven and beat them at the age of ten years (if they neglect Salaat).” (Abu Dawood)

13. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah states that two persons from the tribe of Abu Khuzaa’ah embraced Islam at the hands of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). One of the two was martyred and the other one died a natural death about a year or so later. Hadhrat Talhah Bin Ubaidullah (radiallahu anhu) says that in a dream he saw the one who died a year later entering Jannat first. Being surprised he mentioned his dream in the morning to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) who said: “What did not the one who died later (than the martyred one) keep the fasts of Ramadhaan and in the year perform thousands of Raka’ts of Salaat (if only the Fardh, Waajib and Sunnatul Muakkadah Salaat are taken into account, the number will be close to 10,000 rakaat? It is for this reason that he surpassed the martyr).” (Ahmad, Ibn Majah, Ibn Habbaan, Baihaqi)

The narrations of Ibn Majah and Ibn Habbaan further state that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) explained that the difference in rank between the two is as vast as the difference between the heaven and the earth. It is quite obvious that this greater ranks and significance acquired by the one who died later were due in particular to the Salaat which he performed in abundance after the departure of the martyr. This abundance of Salaat has in fact been mentioned by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Salaat, is an ibaadat which enables one to attain ranks higher than even the rank of martyrdom.

14. Hadhrat Jaabir Bin Abdullah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Salaat is the key to Jannat.” (Daarami)

This indicates the superiority of Salaat over other acts of ibaadat.

15. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Qart (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The first act about which one will be questioned on the Day of Qiyaamah will be Salaat. If Salaat is found to be proper, other acts too will pass as proper. But, if Salaat is found there to be despoiled, then all other acts too will fail (Tibrani, Ausat)

The influence of Salaat will permeate all other acts of ibaadat.
Salaat will be the criterion for the reckoning of one’s acts of virtue. Success in Salaat will bring about the success of all other acts of ibaadat while failure in Salaat will lead to the failure of other acts of ibaadat. This is a great proof for the significance and superiority of Salaat. Its vital importance for the success of a Muslim in both this world and the hereafter can never be exaggerated.

16. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “He who has no Salaat has no Deen. The relationship of Salaat with the Deen is like the relationship of the head with the body.” (Tibraani, Ausat, Sagheer)

Without the head, man is a dead body. So too, without Salaat, all other acts of ibaadat are lifeless. It is therefore, a fatal error to neglect Salaat and pin one’s hopes of salvation and success on other acts of virtue. Minus Salaat, one’s Deen lay utterly in ruin.

17. Hadhrat Hanzalah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say: “Whoever guards the five Salaat while believing that the Salaat is the Right of Allah, will enter Jannat.” (Ahmad)

The meaning of ‘guarding’ Salaat is the proper execution of Salaat at their appointed times, observing all rules (the Faraaidh, Sunan and Mustahabbaat) of Salaat and striving in performance of Salaat with concentration and humility.

The aforementioned Quraanic verses and Ahadith of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) illustrate the great importance of Salaat. No Muslim should bring calamity and ruin upon himself by neglecting Salaat. In fact, it is inconceivable that after having been informed of this tremendous significance of Salaat, a believer will persist in neglecting the proper performance of Salaat.
Erection of Mussajid

This section deals with the construction, caring, repairing and maintenance of Mussajid. The Huqooq (rights) of the Musjid are also discussed in this Rooh. Among the rights (huqooq) of the Musjid are:

- Performing Salaat in the Musjid.
- Establishing performance of Salaat in jamaat.
- Cleaning and maintaining the Musjid in good condition.
- Visiting the Musjid in abundance.
- Respecting and revering the Musjid.

Some Qur’aanic ayaat and Ahadith in this regard will now be narrated.

1. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Majeed: “Who is more unjust than the one who prevents (others) from the thikr of Allah in the Masajid and who prevents (others) from visiting the Musaajid (for purposes of ibaadat)? (And who is more unjust than the one) who strives to ruin the Musaajid?”

2. “In reality, construction and maintaining the Musaajid of Allah are the duties of only those who believe in Allah and the Last Day; who establish regular Salaat; who pay Zakaat and who fear none besides Allah. Such people shall attain their goal (Jannat and Najaat in the Aakhirah).” (Taubah)

This aayat conveys the glad tidings of Jannat and Najaat (salvation) for those who erect, administer and maintain the Musaajid.

3. They (the people of Hidaayat) are in such places (for purposes of ibaadat) in regard to which Allah has ordered respect. In these places the Name of Allah is remembered.” (Surah Noor)

The ‘places’ mentioned in this aayat refer to the Musaajid. The way of respecting the Musaajid is explained in the Ahadith which appear hereunder.
4. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “When you observe any person concerning himself with the Musjid, then bear witness that he is a believer because Allah Ta’ala says: ‘Verily, only those who believe in Allah, the Last Day, perform Salaat pay zakat and fear none besides Allah, erect (and maintain) the Musaajid of Allah.” (Surah Taubah)

Performing Salaat in the Musjid, visiting the Musjid in abundance, cleaning the Musjid, maintaining the Musjid, etc, all come within the scope of this hadith.

5. Hadhrat Utmaan (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever erects a Musjid purely for the sake of gaining Allah’s Pleasure, Allah will erect for him a mansion in Jannat.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Sincerity of intention is conditional for the obtainal of this thawaab. This promise of reward applies to the erection of new Musaajid as well as to the repair and renovation of existing Musaajid. This is clear from the fact that Hadrat Uthmaan (radiallahu anhu) narrated this hadith on the occasion of renovating Musjidun Nabwi. Other ahadith too confirm that this great reward is even for those who assist in the construction of the Musjid no matter how small their contribution may be. Allah Ta’ala rewards on the basis of the sincerity of one’s intention.

6. It is narrated that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) himself carried bricks on the occasion of the construction of Musjidun Nabawi. In the hadith it is stated that no matter how small one’s contribution may be towards the construction of a Musjid, Allah Ta’ala will erect a mansion in Jannat in return for the contribution. (Ibn Khuzaimah, Ibn Majah)

7. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever erects a Musjid for Allah Ta’ala (with sincerity), Allah Ta’ala will erect for him a mansion in Jannat, far greater than the Musjid.” (Ahmad)

The quality and size of the palace which Allah Ta’ala will bestow on the one contributing towards the erection of a Musjid will be commensurate with one’s sincerity.

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala will erect a palace of pearls and emeralds in Jannat for one who erects with halaal (lawful) earnings a house (Musjid) for Allah Ta’ala.” (Tabraani, Ausat)

The sanctity of the Musjid demands that only lawful and wholesome wealth and materials be expended in its erection. Lawful in this context applies to all things which go into the erection of the Musjid. Nothing haraam should be employed in the Musjid.

In some places, especially rural areas, people build Musjids on land which belong to others. When the owner objects, the builders of the Musjid take offence and brand him as being anti-Islam. If the owner happens to be a non-Muslim, the builders of the Musjid consider it a great act of thawaab in confronting him and refusing to hand over his land. When the owner happens to be a non-Muslim the errant Muslims responsible for the structure, consider their dispute and intransigence against the non-Muslim landlord as a conflict between kufr and Islam. This attitude of the Muslim is unjust and sinful. Remember well, that a structure reared on the land of a person without his consent is not a Musjid. The Shariah does not accept such a building erected on usurped ground as a Musjid.

9. Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “There was an African woman who used to sweep the Musjid. One night she passed away. In the morning Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was informed of her death. He said: ‘Why did you not inform me?’ Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) then accompanied by the Shaabah went to her grave and recited takbeer there (he made dua for her).” (Ibn Majah, Ibn Khuzaimah)

In one narration it is said that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) asked her (i.e. the dead woman who was buried – this was one of the miracles of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “Which act did you discover to be of great significance’ The dead woman replayed: “Sweeping the Musjid.” (Abu Shaikh Isbahaani)

This hadith indicates the great significance of caring for the Musjid. Even the simple task of sweeping the Musjid was an act honoured greatly by Allah Ta’ala and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). The importance and significance of this act of sweeping rendered by the little-known and forlorn African lady were such that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) voiced his displeasure at not being informed immediately of her death. Her service of sweeping the Musjid was so noble that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) specially went with a group of Sahaabah to her grave.

Allah Ta’ala and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) regard the service of sweeping the Musjid most highly. But, alas! Nowadays, people consider this task lowly and below their dignity.

10. Hadhrat Abu Qursaafah (radiallahu anhu) narrates a lengthy hadith in which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Removing dust particles and waste from the Musjid is the mahr (dowry) of large-eyed damsels of Jannat.” (Tibraani, Kabeer)

11. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever removes from the Musjid any offensive item, Allah Ta’ala will in return erect for him a palace in Jannat.” (Ibn Majah)

12. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) commanded us to build Musaajid in all neighbourhoods and he ordered us to maintain the Musaajid clean.” (Ahmad, Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Ibn Majah, Ibn Khuzaimah)

The existence of Musaajid in all neighbourhoods facilitates the regular and easy performance of Jamaat Salaat by all residing in the neighbourhood. In this way everyone can acquire the maximum benefits of Salaat and all other advantages attendant to Jamaat Salaat. Since Musaajid are places of sanctity, nothing impure should be taken in. Impure garments and people in the state of impurity should not enter the Musaajid. Regular cleaning of the Musaajid also comes within the scope of the command stated in the abovementioned hadith.

(It should now be clear that the practice of taking into the Musjid groups of kuffaar tourists on sight-seeing, is not permissible. Firstly, the kuffaar are constantly in the state of ceremonial impurity (the states of hadith and jananabat); secondly, the kuffaar’s attire is not in accord with the reverence of the Musjid; thirdly, the garments of the kuffaar are generally najis (impure); fourthly; the kuffaar visitors attend the Musjid in mixed groups of male and female. This in an act of the greatest immorality in so far as Islam is concerned. – Translator)

13. Hadhrat Waathilah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Perfume the Musaajid on Fridays.” (Ibn Majah, Kabeer, Tibraani)
This hadith does not mean that the act of perfuming the Musjid should be restricted to only Fridays. Friday has been mentioned because more people are present for Juma’ Salaat, hence the greater significance of cleaning the Musjid on Fridays.

14. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "When you see someone trading (buying and selling) in the Musjid, then say: ‘May Allah not grant you profit in your trade. When you see someone calling out in the Musjid for his lost article, then say: ‘May Allah not return your article’." (Tirmizi, Nisaai, Ibn Khuzaimah and Haakim)

In another hadith it is said: “The Musaajid are not made for this.” (Abu Dawood, Ibn Majah)

The Musaajid are not places for mundane activities. Musaajid are not places for mundane activities. Musaajid are erected purely for the thikr and ibaadat of Allah Ta’ala, hence worldly activities such as buying, selling and making announcements pertaining to worldly affairs are not permissible. The hadith mentions the prohibition of searching for lost articles inside the Musjid. By this is meant making an announcement inside the Musjid regarding an article lost outside the Musjid. The curse ordered by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for such announcements and worldly activities inside the Musjid is to serve as a warning. However, if there is fear of creating a commotion inside the Musjid by uttering the curse which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) has commanded for such occasions, then utter the curse (via., May Allah not return your lost article.) silently. The sanctity. The sanctity of the Musjid does not allow the perpetration of mundane acts in it.

15. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “There are several acts which are improper in regard to a Musjid. The Musjid should not be used as a thorough-fare (a short-cut to get to the other side of the road); weapons should not be borne inside the Musjid; raw meat should not to be taken in; punishment should not be meted out inside it; and, it should not be made a place of trade.” (Ibn Majah)

All such worldly acts are negatory to the sanctity and respects of the Musjid, hence forbidden. The prohibited activities are not restricted to those mentioned in this hadith. Everything which is in conflict with the sanctity and dignity of the Musjid is not allowed in the Musjid.
16. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrate that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Soon will there be such people who will indulge in (worldly) conversation inside the Musjid. Allah cares not for them.” \textit{(Ibn Habbaan)}

This hadith refers to the prohibition of worldly talk inside the Musjid. It mentions the displeasure of Allah Ta’ala. Such people are deprived of His Mercy and instead invite Allah’s Wrath.

17. Hadhrat Abudullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “For every step taken by one who proceeds to the Musjid for Jamaat Salaat, a sin (which he had already committed) is wiped out and a good deed is recorded. This happens in going to as well as in returning from the Musjid.”

The thawaab for proceeding to and even returning from the Musjid is indeed colossal. There is no limit to Allah’s mercy.

18. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever walks to the Musjid in the darkness of the night, will meet Allah with Noor on the Day of Qiyaamah.” \textit{(Tibraani)}

19. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say: “Allah Ta’ala will grant His Shade to seven (types) of persons on the day when their will be no shade besides His Shade. (Among the seven) one is a man whose heart is attached to the Musjid.” \textit{(Bukhari, Muslim)}

20. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Refrain from these foul-smelling (vegetables) before coming to our Musaajid. If you wish to eat these, then eliminate the bad odour with fire. (i.e. by means of cooking).” \textit{(Tibraani)}

This hadith prohibits the eating of raw garlic, onions and the like before coming to the Musaajid. Other ahadith specifically mention garlic and onions.

21. Hadhrat Abu Umaamah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever proceeds to the Musjid having only the intention of learning or teaching some goodness (something of the Deen), will receive the thawaab of a perfect Hajj. \textit{(Tibraani)}
From this hadith we learn that a Musjid while it is a place of Salaat is also a place of acquiring knowledge of the Deen. It is therefore highly beneficial and meritorious if in the Musjid there always remains a person who can impart teachings of the Deen. From all the aforementioned narrations, the following program of actions is established for Muslims:

a) In all places-cities, towns and villages-Musajjids should be built in accordance with the needs of the place.

b) All means and agencies employed in the construction of the Musjid must be halaal.

c) The Mosjids must be respected and honoured. They have to be properly maintained and kept free of all offensive odours and uncleanliness or any activity which causes offense and violates the sanctity of the Musjid.

d) Males must perform Salaat in the Musjid. They must not forgo jamaat (congregational Salaat) without valid reason. In addition to the increased thawaab for performing Salaat in jamaat in the Musjid, there is also the benefit of fostering good ties with Muslims. One remains informed of the condition of the community. This is clear from the ahadith.

e) The community should retain in the musjid the service of such a man who is competent enough to instruct the community in the teachings of the Deen.

f) Whenever one finds the opportunity, proceed to the Musjid and become engaged there in Deeni activity.

The ahadith make it abundantly clear that it is far better for women to perform Salaat at home. (In fact, it is no longer permissible for women to attend the Musjid for performance of their Salaat. – Translator)
The Qur’aan Majeed and the Ahadith are replete with commands to remember Allah Ta’ala constantly and in abundance. The thawaab and significance of Zikrullah are indeed great. Zukrullah is not difficult. It is indeed a most simple duty. One who is neglectful of such an important, yet simple, and most rewarding practice is most unfortunate. Indifference to Zukrullah is an invitation to calamity upon oneself. Zikr has been absolutely simplified. If is free from conditions and restrictions. Time, number, wudhu, place, etc. have not been made necessary conditions for Zikr. There is, therefore, no difficulty in making Zikr. There is absolutely no valid excuse for refraining from engagement in constant Zikr. For making Zikr, it is not necessary to have a Tasbeeh (rosary) in hand. The use of a Tasbeeh is permissible. One may therefore use it to facilitate the remembrance of the number of times one chooses to recite a particular form of Zikr. A Tasbeeh is also beneficial for inculcating in one the habit of constant Zikr. For this purpose the use of a Tasbeeh is therefore best. Some people who are not in the habit of making Zikr constantly, feel that by keeping a Tasbeeh in hand at most times, one will develop riya (show) since people will regard the holder of the Tasbeeh as a pious person, This thought prevents them from keeping a Tasbeeh at hand. The result of this attitude is that they do not develop the habit of Zikr. It should be realized that riya is an internal condition. If one’s niyyat is to attract people’s attention and to display piety then only will the question of riya arise. Riya is not what others think of one. One should not indulge unnecessarily in such suspicions which are merely traps of shaitaan to divert one from constant Zikr. Shaitaan also endeavours to deceive the Believer and divert him from constant Zikr by whispering into him that Zikr merely with the tongue when the heart in engrossed in worldly affairs is useless. Know that this is a trap of shaitaan to divert one from the remembrance of Allah Ta’ala. As long as one’s niyyat at the commencement of the Zikr was to obtain thawaab and the Pleasure of Allah, one will continue to acquire these benefits even if the heart does not accompany the tongue in the Zikr. However, during one’s free time, when making special Zikr, endeavour to control the attention of one’s heart so as to concentrate on the Zikr. Do not indulge in futility useless activities for this diverts the heart from the Zikr of Allah Ta’ala. Some aayaat and ahadith will now be mentioned in regard to Zikrullah.
1. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef: “Remember Me, and I will (as a favour) remember you.” (Surah Baqarah)

2. Praising those who constantly engage in Zikr, the Qur’aan Shareef says: “They are such people who remember Allah Ta’ala while standing, sitting and laying down.” (Surah Aale Imraan)

3. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef.

“Remember (make Zikr) your Rabb in your heart (i.e. silent Zikr) with humility and fear (and make Zikr) in a voice which is less than jahr (loudness), morning and evening; and, be not a among the indifferent ones. (Surah A’raff)

Zikr should be made at all times. This is clear from the command in the aayat to make Zikr morning and evening which means the whole day. Zikr should also preferably be made silently. The Zikr may also be made audibly, but not shouting and screaming. This is stated in the term, “less than jahr”. There is no merit in making Zikr by means of shouting. However, if some Shaikh of Tasawwuf who is steadfast on the Sunnah devises loud Zikr for his mureeds as some remedy for spiritual conditions, then such loud Zikr will be permissible. But, one should remember not to disturb the peace and sleep of others by one’s loud Zikr. Disturbing others is sinful.

4. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Majeed:

“(The people whom Allah directs towards Himself are) those who have Imaan and whose hearts find rest in the Zikr of Allah. Verily, in the Zikr of Allah do hearts find peace.” (Surah Ra’d)

Zikr creates and strengthens a special bond between man and His Creator. As a result of this divine bond, the heart becomes enwrapped in peace and tranquility.

5. (The people who narrate the glory of Allah in the Musaajid) are such men who are not diverted by commerce and trade from the Zikr of Allah, from establishing regular Salaat and from paying Zakaat. (They are such men) who fear a Day when the hearts and eyes (of men) will be upturned.” (Surah Noor)
6. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Majeed: “Verily, the remembrance of Allah is the greatest.” (Surah Ahzaab)

7. Allah Ta’ala says: “O people of Imaan! Remember Allah in abundance.” (Surah Ahzaab)

8. Allah Ta’ala says: “O People of Imaan! Do not allow your wealth and your children to divert you from the remembrance of Allah.” (Surah Munafiqoon)

9. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Majeed: “And, remember the Name of your Rabb and turn yourself in entirety towards Him.” (Surah Muzzammil)

10. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Majeed: “Verily, he who has purified himself (from evil beliefs and practices) and remembers the Name of His Rabb and performs Salaat has achieved the goal (of success) and salvation.” (Surah A’laa)

11. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah and Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhuma) narrate that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The angels surround those people who sit down to make the Zikr of Allah Ta’ala; the Rahmat of Allah decends on them and peace decends on them.” (Muslim)

12. Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The comparison between a man who makes Zikr of his Rabb and one who does not make Zikr is like the comparison between a living person and a dead person.” (Bukhari, muslim)

The one who engages in Zikr has been compared to a living person because the existence of the Rooh is in fact the remembrance of Allah. The one who refrains from Zikr has been compared to dead person.

13. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala says: ‘I am with My servant when he remembers Me. When he remembers Me in his heart, I too remember him in Me. When he remembers me in a gathering. I remember (and mention) him in a superior gathering (i.e. the assembly of malaa-ikah and Ambiya).” (Bukhari, Muslim)
14. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “When you pass by the gardens of Jannat, eat of its fruits.” People asked: “What are the gardens of Jannat.” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: Gathering of Zikr.” (Tirmizi)

15. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “Allah brings down loss on a man who sits in some place without engaging in Zikr and on a man who lays in some place without engaging in Zikr.” (Abu Dawood)

The exhortation in this hadith is to engage constantly in Zikr, in all conditions and circumstances.

16. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Busr (radiallahu anhu) narrates that a man said: “O Rasulullah! The ordinances of Islam are numerous for me (the reference here is to nafl practices). Instruct me in something I may easily adhere to.”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Maintain your tongue always fresh with the Zikr of Allah.” (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

The optional (Nafl) acts of thawaab in Islam are numerous. A very great variety of Nafl practices exists for procuring thawaab and the proximity of Allah Ta’ala. The Sahaabi was referring to these numerous practices which he found somewhat arduous. He therefore, wished for a simple practice which he could easily adhere to while at the same time not missing out on the great thawaab which is attendant to other acts of Nafl Ibaadat. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) informed him that constant Zikr of Allah was such an act.

17. Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was asked about the one who will be the noblest among people on the Day of Qiyaamah and the closest to Allah Ta’ala. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Those men and women who remember Allah in abundance.” Someone asked: “O Rasulullah! What about the one who wage jihaad in the Path of Allah?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: “The one who engages in (constant) Zikr of Allah is superior in rank to the one who wages jihad, even if he fights so vehemently against the kuffar and mushrikeen that his sword breaks and even if he is dyed red in blood,” (Ahmad, Tirmizi)
The reason for the superiority of the Zaakir (the one who makes Zikr) over the Mujaahid (the one who wages Jihaad) is obvious. Jihaad is waged purely for the sake of Allah Ta’ala – for the remembrance of Allah Ta’ala, much as Wudhu is performed for the sake of Salaat. In the aayat.

 “(The Believers are) those who establish Salaat ....... Wow We grant them power on earth.”

The basis of Jihaad is thus, Zikrullah. This being the actual aim, its superiority should be apparent.

18. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Everything has a polish, and the polish of the heart is the Thikr of Allah." (Baihaqi)

19. Hadhrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Shaitaan sits glued to the heart of man. When man makes the Thikr of Allah, shaitaan abdicates (moves off); when man is negligent of Allah’s Thikr the shaitaan casts evil whisperings in man.” (Bukhaari)

20. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Do not increase speech other than Thikrullah because much speech besides Thikrullah hardens the heart; the furthest from Allah is one with a hard heart.” (Tirmizi)

The essence of the latter three ahadith cited above, is that actual purity of heart is by means of righteous deeds and hardness of heart is the result of evil acts. The basis of both forms of deeds in the intention of the heart while the origin of iraadah (intention) is the mind. Reduction in Thikr brings about the introduction of satanic thoughts in the mind. This in turn leads to evil intentions. Pious intentions are the effaced. Instead of practicing righteous deeds, evil is committed. Abundance of Thikrullah blocks the entry of evil thoughts. This in turn does not allow evil intentions to assert themselves. One then abstains from sin and engages in righteous deeds. Hardness of heart is thus eliminated and purity inculcated.

This state of purity of the heart is not automatically acquired, but requires effort and striving. To be contented with only Thikr without striving. To be contented with only Thikr without striving against the lowly desires, is only self-deception.
21. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “There are many people reclining on comfortable beds and making the Thikr of Allah Ta’ala on earth. Allah Ta’ala will grant them elevated ranks (in the Aakhirah).” (Ibn Habbaan)

It should not be imagined that material possessions of comfort, wealth and luxury are negatory of Thikrullah. Such possessions too are favours of Allah Ta’ala. Those indulging in luxury should not abstain from Thikrullah. They too should be constantly engaged in the remembrance of Allah Ta’ala whilst enjoying the comforts of the bounties which whilst enjoying the comforts of the bounties which Allah Ta’ala has bestowed on them.

22. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi (radiallahu anhu) also narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Engage in the Thikr of Alah in such abundance that people comment that ‘you are insane’. (Ahmed, Abu Ya’la, Ibn Habbaan)

23. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Engage in the Thikr of Allah in such abundance that the munafiqen (hypocrites) comment: ‘You are a pretender’. (i.e. they accuse you of enging in thikr for creating the impression of piety).” (Tibrani)

24. Hadhrat Muaaz Ibn Jabal (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The people of Jannat will not grieve over anything but the moments in which they did not engage in Thikrullah (while they were on earth). They will regret for such (wasted) moments.” (Tibrani, Baihaqi)

This type of regret will not be similar to regrets of the world. It will not cause hardship or sorrow.

An explanation of Thikr in general has been given so far. In the ahadith are mentioned many special forms of Thikr as well. For such specific forms of Thikr, great thawaab has been narrated. Some simple forms of special Thikr are mentioned here.

1. LAA ILAHA ILLALLAH
2. LAA ILAHA ILLALLAHO – MUHAMMADUR RASULULLAH-E-SALLALLAHU ALAYHI WASALLAM.

3. SUBHANALLAHE

4. AL-HAMD-O-LILLAHE

5. ALLAH-O-AKBAR

6. LAA HAWL-A-WA-LA QUWATA ILLA BILLAH

7. ASTAGHEFIRULLAHA WA ATOOB-O-ELAHI

8. ALLAHUMMA SALLE ALA MUHAMMADIN

SUMMARY: Never be negligent of Thikrullah, be it a special form of Thikr or any thikr in general. Thikr can be made at any time or at a specific time fixed to suit one’s convenience. Any number of ties Thikr may be made. Thikr may be made by using either the fingers (to count the number of times) or a tasbeeh. Thikr may be also made at all times without the use of a tasbeeh. The main purpose is to be constantly engaged in the remembrance of Allah Ta’ala. There are certain duas which have to be recited on special occasions. Such duas should be learnt. May Allah Ta’ala grant you taufeeq to practise accordingly.
Payment of Zakaat

The wealthy are obliged to pay Zakaat. This too, like Salaat, is a fundamental of Islam. Numerous Qur’aanic ayaat command the payment of Zakaat and extol the virtues of Zakaat while warning of the dire punishment for refraining from paying Zakaat. There are numerous such ayaat which mention Zakaat along with Salaat. It is simple to locate these verses in the Qur’aan Shareef. Here only hadith pertaining to Zakaat will be narrated.

1. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Zakaat is the Bridge of Islam…” (Tibrani, Ausat)

Those who do not pay Zakaat are therefore comparable to those who are stranded, having no bridge to cross. The great rank and fundamental importance of Zakaat are apparent from this hadith.

2. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The one who pays Zakaat on his wealth, has purified his wealth.” (Tibrani, Ausat, Ibn Khuzaimah)

Impurities which have accumulated in one’s wealth are eliminated by Zakaat, hence the wealth is purified. It should be clear that wealth, the Zakaat of which has not been paid, is shorn of barkat.

3. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever among you believe in Allah and His Rasool, must pay Zakaat on his wealth.” (Tibrani, Kabeer)

This illustrates that Imaan is weakened by not paying Zakaat.

4. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Mauwiyah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “There are three deeds; whoever practices them will taste the sweetness of Imaan. (These are) Render ibaadat unto only Allah believing that none besides Allah is worthy of ibaadat; pay Zakaat on wealth wholeheartedly.…”

In this hadith Zakaat is coupled along with Tauheed. This brings out the significance and elevated ranks of the institution of Zakaat. The effect of paying Zakaat wholeheartedly as stated in the hadith is increase in experiencing the pleasure or sweetness of Imaan.

5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever owned gold and silver (i.e. wealth), but did not pay Zakaat thereon, will be punished with his gold and silver on that Day, the duration of which will be fifty thousand years (the Day of Qiyaamah). His gold and silver will be made into sheets and heated in Jahannum. His sides, forehead and back will then be branded with the heated sheets of gold and silver. When the sheets cool, they will again be heated and he will thus be punished continuously.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

6. Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasuullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “In the wealth of rich Muslims the amount which is sufficient for the poor among the Muslims has been made obligatory. The hardships of the poor regarding food and garments are because of the deeds of the wealthy (i.e. their refusal to pay proper Zakaat). Beware! Allah Ta’ala will demand a stern reckoning from them and mete out a painful punishment.” (Tibrani, Ausat, Sagheer)

In another hadith which further explains the above hadith, it is said that the poor on the Day of Qiyaamah will complain to Allah Ta’ala that the wealthy did not discharge ‘our’ (the poor’s) rights which Allah Ta’ala had ordained as obligatory. Allah Ta’ala will then reply.

“I take oath My Grandeur and Might that I will grant you proximity to Me and remove them (the wealthy) far from me.” (Tibrani, Sagheer, Ausat)

7. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates: “We have been commanded to establish Salaat and Zakaat. Whoever does not pay Zakaat, his Salaat too is not accepted.” (Tibrani, Isbahaani)

In another narration, Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates: He who establishes Salaat (performs it regularly) but does not pay Zakaat, is not a true Muslim. His good deeds do not benefit him. (Isbahaani)

This should not be understood to mean that such people (those who fail in Zakaat) should not perform Salaat. Neglect of Salaat is a sin apart from failure to pay Zakaat. The hadith merely means that one should not be neglectful in the discharge of such an important and fundamental ibaadat as Zakaat. Like being steadfast in Salaat so too, should one be steadfast in Zakaat.

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "On the Day of Qiyaama, the wealth of one who did not pay Zakaat will be converted into a monstrous and deadly poisonous serpent which will be strung around the neck of this person. The serpent will bite at the jaws of this person an exclaim: "I am your wealth; I am your treasure. (Bukhari, Nisaai)

In affirmation of this claim, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) recited the following Qur’aanic aayat:

WA LAA YAHSABANN ALLAZEENA YABKHALOONA BIMA AATAAHUM-ULLAHO MIN FAZLIHEE HOWA KHAIRALLAHUM, BAL HOWA SHARRULLAHUM, SAYUTAWWAOONA MAA BAKHILOO BIHEE YAOMAL QIYAMAH, WA LILLAH-E-MEERA’S-US-SAMAAWAATE WALARAZE, WALLAHO BIMA TAAMALOONA KHAABER.

This aayat refers to the wealth being made into garland which will be hung around the neck of the one who did not pay Zakaat.

9. Ammarah Bin Haram (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Besides 'Laa ila ha illallah', Allah Ta‘ala has decreed another four things compulsory. If he fulfils three, it will not fully benefit him as long as he does not discharge all four. These four are: Salaat, Zakaat, Fasting in Ramadhan and Hajj of Baitullah Shareef.” (Ahmad)

From this hadith we learn that for salvation it is essential that all four compulsory acts be practised. If one performs Salaat, fasts and performs Hajj, but does not pay Zakaat, it will not be sufficient for salvation (i.e. to be saved totally from the punishment of the Fire).

10. Hadhrat Anas Bin Malik (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The one who fails to pay Zakaat will enter the Fire on the Day of Qiyaamah.” (Tibraani, Sagheer)
11. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Salaat is a conspicuous act observable to all, hence it is rendered while Zakaat is inconspicuous (being hidden), hence it is devoured (i.e. withheld from the poor). Such people are hypocrites.” (Bazzaaz)

This hadith means that some people perform Salaat, not for the sake of Allah Ta’ala, but because people will hold them in contempt. Such people do not pay Zakaat because they know that people are not aware of their failure to render this obligation. Such is the attitude of the Munafiqeen.

12. Hadhrat Bareedah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala afflicts famine on a community which does not pay Zakaat.”

In another similar narration it is said that Allah Ta’ala withholds rain from such people (Tibrani, Hakim, Baihaqi)

13. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Zakat will destroy the wealth in which it is.” (Bazzaaz, Baihaqi)

The meaning of wealth in which there is Zakaat, is such wealth on which Zakaat is obligatory, but from which Zakaat has not been taken out. As a consequence of not paying Zakaat, one’s wealth is steadily depleted by way of Allah Ta’ala removing the barakat from the wealth.

14. Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Wealth is generally lost on the land and the sea because Zakaat has not been paid on it.” (Tibrani, Ausat)

This does not mean that wealth is lost or destroyed only because Zakaat has not been paid on it. If wealth is lost in spite of Zakaat having been paid, it should not be regarded as a loss since the reward for it will be obtained in the Aakhirah. Such loss is occasioned by the Wisdom of Allah Ta’ala and is in the interests of its owner. But, wealth lost as a result of not paying Zakaat is a punishment. There is no reward for sustaining such loss.

15. Hadhrat Asmaa Bint Yazeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that she and her aunt visited Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). They were wearing some gold jewellery at the time. When Rasulullah (sallallahu alahi wasallam) enquired from them if they had paid Zakaat on the gold, they replied in the negative. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "What! Have you not fear that Allah Ta’ala will put on your jewels of fire? Pay its Zakaat.” (Ahmad)

The following facts are clear from the aforesaid narrations:

· Zakaat is Fardh.

· The significance of Zakaat is very great.

· Failure to pay Zakaat results in calamity and misfortune setting over one. The calamity here on earth is depletion of wealth, elimination of barkat, famine, etc. The calamity in the Aakhirah for not paying Zakaat is the Fire of Jahannum.

· One who does not pay Zakaat is comparable to a Munaafiq.

· Zakaat has a resemblance to Haqooqul Ibaad (i.e. rights of people). Thus, it is an emphased ibadat.

WEALTH ON WHICH ZAKAAT IS PAYABLE

Gold and silver, be these in whatever form; in the form of cash, notes, jewellery, utensils (although it is haram to use utensils of gold and silver), etc. Stock-in-trade, i.e. goods purchased with the intention of reselling. Livestock:

Far-produce on Ushri lands.

Among the causes of the hardship of Muslims is also poverty. Zakaat is an adequate remedy for the alleviation of poverty. If Muslims abstain from extravagance and pay their Zakaat in full, there will not remain a single destitute person among the Muslims. The statements of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) are ample testimony for this claim.

Like all acts of ibaadat, there are numerous masaa-il (rules) pertaining to Zakaat. The knowledge of such rules has to be acquired from the Ulama or from reliable books on the subject.
Charity other than Zakat

Zakat is a compulsory obligation. One should not feel released from all other acts of charity once Zakaat is paid. There are many avenues of charity in which it is essential to spend on various occasions. After having paid Zakaat, one should not become heartless and refrain from other acts of charity.

1. Hadhrat Fatimah Bint Qais (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Undoubtedly, besides the obligation of Zakaat, there are other rights too in wealth.”

In substantiation of this claim, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) recited the aayat:

In this aayat Allah Ta’ala mentions Zakaat as well as other forms of charity for special occasions. (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah, Daarami)

Assisting those in debt, lending things to other and other forms of voluntary charitable acts come within the scope of the above aayat and hadith. Things of little value (i.e. in terms of material wealth) should be merely given without asking for their return.

2. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef: Spend in the Path of Allah.” (Surah Baqarah)

3. “Who will give a beautiful loan to Allah (i.e. with sincerity) ……..” (Surah Baqarah)

4. “You can never attain perfect piety until you spend from that (wealth) which you love. Whatever you spend, Allah knows well.” (Surah Aale Imraan)

5. “That (Jannat) has been prepared for those who fear Allah: such people who spend (in the Path of Allah) in prosperity and in adversity.” (Surah Aale Imraan)

6. “Verily, Allah Ta’ala has purchased the lives and the wealth of the Believers in return for Jannat.” (Surah tauabah)

7. ”And, whatever they spend, be it little or much (in the path of Allah) and what ever distance they travel (in the path of Allah) are recorded for them so that Allah grants them the best of rewards for their deeds.” (Surah Taubah)

8. “Fulfil the rights of relatives, of the needy and the traveler.” (Surah bani Israeeel)

9. “Whatever you spend (in the Path of Allah), He will compensate it.” (Surah Sabaa)

10. “They feed the orphans and the captives because of love for Allah.” *(Surah Dahr)

Besides these verses there are many other aayaat which also speak about the virtue of spending in the Path of Allah Ta’ala, other than by means of Zkaat. Some ahadith in this regard will now be cited.

1. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala says” ‘O son of Adam! Spend (in good works), I too shall spend on you.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

2. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Beware of the love of wealth. Such greed has destroyed people before you.” (Muslim)

3. Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Spending one dirham in one’s lifetime is superior to spending a hundred dirhams at the time of one’s death.” (Abu Dawood)

4. Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu wasallam) said: “Hasten in charity, for Charity prevents the affliction of calamities.”

5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever spends (in the Path of Allah) one date from a halaal earning-and Allah accepts only what is halaal – Allah takes it up in His right Hand. Allah Ta’ala then increases it manifold until it becomes as huge as a mountain.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

6. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Charity does not decrease wealth.” (Muslim)

As a consequence of giving charity in the Path Allah, one’s wealth will increase either by way of an increase in income or by barkat in one’s wealth.

7. Hadhrat Abu Thar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Never hold any goodness in contempt even if it be to the extent of meeting a brother Muslim with a smile.” (Muslim)

8. Hadhrat Abu Musa Ash’ari (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Sadqah in varying degrees is an obligation on every Muslim.”

The people asked. “If someone has not wealth to give? Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Earn something (by one’s labour); use what has been earned on yourself as well as in Sadqah.”

The people asked. “If someone is unable to work?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Let him help (by means of his labour) someone in need and difficulty. The people said: “If he is unable to do even this?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Let him show someone a good act” The people said: “If he is unable to do even this?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Let him not harm anyone. This too is Sadqah for him.” (Bukhari, Muslim) Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) described these acts of virtue as Sadqah (charity) because of the benefit for others. Like Sadqah benefits others so too do the acts mentioned in this hadith. These acts have been figuratively described as Sadqah is to spend wealth in the Path of Allah Ta’ala.

Refraining from harming others has been described in the hadith as an act of benefit to mankind. This description indicates the great importance of serving others and abstaining from doing anything detrimental and hurtful to people. This teaching is indeed a great rahmat (blessing)

9. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Every joint (in the human body) is liable for one act of charity daily. Justice meted out between two persons also sadqah. Assisting someone to mount a vehicle or helping in loading his luggage are also acts of Sadqah. A good word (which benefits others) is also Sadqah. Removing a harmful object (e.g. thorn, peel, etc.) from the road is also Sadqah.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Explaining the above Hadith, another Hadith also in Muslim Shareef states that in the human body are 360 joints; whoever renders this number of good deeds daily, has saved himself from Jahannum.

10. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “A noble form of Sadqah is to lend a camel (or any other animal) to a person who will obtain the benefit of its milk in the morning and the evening. (After having milked the animal in the morning and the evening, it is returned to its owner).” (Bukhari, Muslim)

11. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “It is an act of Sadqah for a Muslim to plant at tree or sow the land from which people, birds and animals derive benefit.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

12. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whatever is stolen from it (the farm) is also Sadqah for the owner (of the produce).” (Muslim)

Although the owner did not sow his lands for this purpose, nor does he regard the ft of his goods as a benefit for him, nevertheless, it is recorded as Sadqah for him.

13. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: that a prostitute was forgiven because she took pity on a dog which was on the verge of death due to thirst. She removed her leather sock and with her scarf lowered in into a well. In this way she obtained water which she gave to the dog to drink. Some asked: "Do we obtain thawaab for service to animals as well?" Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: "There is thawaab in (rendering service to) every living creature." (Bukhari, Muslim)

This applies to animals who are not harmful. Elsewhere in the ahadith permission has been granted to kill animals which are harmful.

14. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Render ibadat to Rahman (Allah, The Most merciful); feed (the poor) and be in the habit of making salaam (whether the Muslim in known or unknown to you), you will then enter Jannat in safety." (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

15. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Smiling when meeting a Muslim is also an act of Sadqah. Commanding goodness and prohibiting evil are also acts of Sadqah. Directing a lost person on the right road is also Sadqah for you. Assisting the blind is also Sadqah for you. Removing a stone, thorn, etc., from the road is also Sadqah for you. Pouring water from your bucket into the bucket of a brother Muslim is also Sadqah."

This hadith in fact explains that every act or service rendered to the creation of Allah Ta'ala, no matter how slight or insignificant that act may seem, is a deed acceptable by Allah Ta'ala. All such acts of service are beneficial and one obtains thawaab therefore.

16. Hadhrat Sa’d Bin Ubaadah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that when his mother died he enquired from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) in regard to Sadqah of much significance, which he wished to render on behalf of his mother.

"Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Water".

Thus Hadhrat Sa’d Bin Ubaadah (radiallahu anhu) arranged for a well to be dug for the use of people. The intention for digging the well was that Allah Ta’ala intention for digging the well was that Allah Ta’ala bestow the thawaab to his (Sa’d’s) mother. (Abdu Dawood, Nisaal)

17. Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "Allah Ta’ala will bestow the green (luxurious) garments of Jannat to the one who clothed a Muslim who had no clothes. Allah Ta’ala will give of the fruits of Jannat to the one who fed a hungry Muslim. Allah Ta’ala will award the finest and pure drink of Jannat to the one who gave a thirsty Muslim something to drink." (Abu Dawood, Tirmizi)
18. Hadhrat Anas Ibn Malik (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "There are seven things, the thawaab of which continuously accrues to a person even after death. Deeni knowledge which was taught to anyone; a canal dug (i.e. some form of irrigation), a well dug; a tree planted (from which people or animals derive benefit); a Musjid built; a copy of the Qur’aan left (for someone to recite); and, children who will make dua for forgiveness of their deceased parents." (Targheeb, Bazzaaz, Abu Nuaim)

A narration in Ibn Majah mentions Sadqah, Musaafir Khaanah (a place where a travelers stop over) instead of a well and a tree as is mentioned in the above hadith.

19. Hadhrat Sa’d (radiallahu anhu) narrates that on one occasion when Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) distributed some wealth among the people, he (Sa’d) requested Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to give also to a certain person. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: "At times I give to a man while another (to whom no gift is made) is more beloved to me. But I give the man (whom I do not love as much as the other) for fear of him not remaining firm on the Deen if not given. Allah will therefore, thrust this person onto his face into Jahannum."

(Muslim)

This hadith establishes the significance of assiting converts. Initially their Imaan is not grounded and they are unable to ungergo much difficulty. The danger exists of them reneging from Imaan if they experience much difficulty after having embraced Islam. To aid them by means of wealth until their Imaan becomes strong, is meritorious.

20. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: "I take oath by that Being Who sent me with the true Deen! Allah will not punish on the Day of Qiyaamah the one who had mercy on the orphans; who spoke tenderly with the orphan; who took pity on the orphans."

(Targheeb, Tibrani)

This hadith establishes the great significance of aiding orphanages.

All narrations of Qur’aan and Hadith enumerated in this section illustrate the tremendous importance and significance which the Deen places on service to creation. The narrations mention many individual acts of service which are beneficial to others as well as to those who render them. One more ayaat and one more hadith which embrace all service to creation will be cited here.

Qur’aanic ayaat: "Assist one another in (acts of) righteousness and piety." (Surah maa-idah)
Hadith: “The most beloved to Allah among mankind is the one who is of the greatest benefit to mankind.” (Targheeb, Isbahaani) May Allah Ta’ala grant all taufeeq.
Fasting

Fasting, like Salaat and Zakaat, is fundamental institution of Islam. The Fardh Fasting is a practice of vital importance. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Shareef: “O people of Imaan! Fasting has been decreed compulsory for you.”

The importance of fasting is abundantly established by numerous narrations of the Qur’aan and Hadith. It is clear from the narrations of the Qur’aan and Hadith that for attaining salvation, Salaat, Zakaat and Hajj and not sufficient. It is essential to fast the Fardh fasts of Ramadhaan.

Fasting is distinguished from other acts of ibaadat by its inconspicuous nature. Whereas other acts of ibaadat, e.g. Salaat, Zakaat, Hajj, are conspicuous in varying degrees. Fasting is totally concealed. Only Allah Ta’ala is aware if one is fasting or not. Only those who truly have the love or fear of Allah Ta’ala in their hearts will fast. Experience proves that weakness in love and fear for Allah could be remedied by engaging in such acts which produce muhabbat (love) and azmat (respect honour and awe). Fasting is greatly efficacious in this regard. Thus weakness in one’s Imaan and love for Allah is strengthened by fasting. One in whose heart the love and fear of Allah Ta’ala become embedded, will be strong and steadfast on the Deen. The natural effect of fasting is to produce strength in one’s Deen. This effect is referred to in the following two hadith:

1. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Allha Ta’ala said:
   “Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that Allah Ta’ala said:
   “All good deeds are for the one who renders them, but fasting. Fasting is exclusively for Me (Allah).” (Bukhari)

2. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that Allah Ta’ala said: “The one who fasts, abstains from eating, drinking and sexual relations for My Sake.” Another narration states that Allah Ta’ala said that the fasting person leaves off his desires and pleasures for His Sake. (Ibn Khuzaimah).

Fasting being exclusively for the sake of Allah Ta’ala reflects the high degree of sincerity underlying the act of ibaadat. The high degree of sincerity coupled with abstention form evil and futility produce glitter and strength in the Imaan of the fasting person. Great emphasis is therefore laid on fasting. This is very clear from the fact that Allah Ta’ala described the act of man’s fasting as being only for Him (Allah Ta’ala).
1. Hadhrat Abu Ummaamah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he asked Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to impose on him some deed of great significance. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said. Adopt fasting, for there is no act greater than it. Hadhrat Abu Ummaamah repeated his request second time Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) again advised him to adopt fasting. Hadhrat Abu Ummaamah put forward his request again, a third time, and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Adopt fasting, for there is no deed equal to it.” (Nisaai, Ibn Khuzaimah)

The superiority of fasting is in relation to certain special characteristics of fasting such as degree of sincerity, efficacy in strengthening weak Imaan, inculcating love and fear of Allah and its acting as a barrier against sin. These special benefits of fasting are attainable only if one fasts consciously and observes the respects and rights of fasting.

2. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

Fasting is a shield and a powerful fortress.” (Ahmad, Baihaqi)

Like fasting is a shield of protection against internal (spiritual) diseases, viz., sins. so too, is it a protection against external sicknesses, i.e. physical illness. In the majority of cases, physical sickness is the result of excessive eating. This cause is arrested in fasting.

3. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Every person has a zakaat (to pay) and the zakaat of the body is fasting.” (Ibn Majah)

Like wealth is purified by means of paying Zakaat, the body is purified by means of fasting. Zakaat is the elimination of impurities from wealth while Fasting is the elimination of impurities from the body. And, the role of fasting as indicated already, operates in both the physical and spiritual spheres of man’s life.

4. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Keep fasting; you will remain healthy.” (Tibrani)

Fasting produces both physical and spiritual health. Fasting produces spiritual peace and exhilaration.

5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) in a lengthy hadith, narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
"The fasting person experiences two (occasions of) delights: At the time of iftaar and at the time when he will meet his Rabb."

(Bukhari)

During the month of Ramadhan an additional ibaadat, viz., Taraweeh Salaat, has also been decreed. The performance of Taraweeh is Sunnatul Muakkadah which is an act, the performance of which is obligatory although it may be omitted for a valid Shar’I reason. One who is neglectful of Sunnatul Muakkadah is guilty of sin and is termed in the Shariah a ‘faasiq’. Taraweeh reduces sleep to some extent. Sleep is an act highly pleasing and loved by the nafs. Hence, by means of Taraaweeh Salaat one strives against the nafs and in so doing the nafs is disciplined. This ibaadat of Taraweeh is an act which is greatly efficient in the spiritual training of the nafs. During the month of Ramadhan, Allah Ta’ala has united two great and highly efficacious spiritual exercises in the form of fasting and Taraaweeh Salaat.

6. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Allah Ta’ala has ordained fasting in Ramadhan compulsory, and I have decreed (by the command of Allah) wakefulness at night (i.e. Taraaweeh, etc.) Sunnat. ‘Whoever in the state of Imaan and the belief of thawaab fasts in Ramadhan and stays awake at night (i.e. for Taraweeh), emerges from sin, purified as the day when his mother gave birth to him.”

(Nisai)

7. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Fasting and the Qur’aan will intercede on behalf of one on the Day of Qiyaamah. The Fast will proclaim: ‘O Allah! I prevented him from eating and carnal desire. Therefore, for my sake accept my intercession on his behalf.’ The Qur’aan will proclaim: ‘I prevented him from sleep. Therefore, intercession of both will be accepted.”

(Ahmad, Tibrani, Hakim)

8. In a lengthy aayat Allah Ta’ala says: “For the fasting man and for fasting woman …… Allah has prepared a great reward and forgiveness.”

(Surah Ahzaab)

9. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (adiallahu anhu), in a lengthy hadith, narrates that
Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“I swear by that Being in Whose possession in the life of Muhammad! The odour of the mouth of a fasting person in sweeter to Allah Ta’ala than the fragrance of musk.”

(Bukhari)

10. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates, in a lengthy hadith, that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“Fasting is exclusively for Allah Ta’ala. The thawaab of it (being limitless) no one knows besides Allah Ta’ala.”

(Tibrani Baihaqi)

11. Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khurdi (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“The Doors of the Heavens are opened up on the first night of Ramadhan. Not a single Door (among the Doors of Heavens) is then closed until the last night of Ramadhan. For every Salaat performed (this refers to Taraaweeh Salaat) during the nights of Ramadhan, Allah Ta’ala records one and a half thousand good deeds for every Sajdah (of that Salaat). And, for the fasting person, Allah Ta’ala creates in Jannat a mansion of red Ya’koot (a precious stone in Jannat). This mansion will have seven thousand entrances. (So huge will be these entrances that in each entrance will be located) a palace of gold adorned with red Ya’koot. When the Muslim fasts the first day of Ramadhan, Allah Ta’ala forgives all his sins committed from the first of the previous Ramadhan. Daily (i.e. during Ramadhan) from the time of Fajr Salat until sunset, seventy thousands Malaaikah supplicate for his forgiveness. In return for every Sajdah which he (the fasting person) makes of any Salaat, whether during the day or night, he will obtain (such a wonderful) tree 9so huge) that a horseman will take five hundred years to pass under its shade.”

(Baihaqi)

12. Hadhrat Salmaan (radiallahu anhu) narrates that during the last Juma’ of the month of Sha’baan Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) recited a Khutbah in which he said:
“O People! An auspicious month has dawned over you. In that month is a night which is susperior to a thousand months (i.e. ibaadat in this night is superior to the ibaadat rendered in a thousand months. Allah Ta’ala has made compulsory fasting in this month and has decreed fasting in this month and has decreed wakefulness at night (i.e. Tarawaeeh Salaat) Sunnat. A Nafl (non-obligatory or optional) act rendered in this month for attaining proximity to Allah, is equal to a Fardh act rendered in other months. A Fardh act rendered in this month is equal to seventy Fardh acts of other months. Whoever gives to a fasting person something for iftaar, his sins will be forgiven and he will be saved from Jahannum: he obtains as much thawaab as the fasting person (to whom he had given something for iftaar) while the thawaab of the person is not reduced in any way."

The people asked: 'O Rasulullah! All of us do not have the means to give something for the iftaar to another. (They were at the time under the impression that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) referred to a full meal.) Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"This thawaab is even for the man who gives another a date, a drink of water or milk (for iftaar)." (Ibn Khuzaimah)

Another special ibaadat during the month of Ramadhan is I’tikaaf during the last ten days. I’tikaaf during Ramadhan is an ibaadat which belongs to the class of Sunnat known as Sunnatul Kifaayah. This ibaadat is a collective Sunnat upon all. However, if a few, even one person, renders the I’tikaaf, the Sunnat obligation will be discharged on behalf of the whole community. The Ibaadat of I’tikaaf consists of secluding oneself inside the Musjid for the last ten days of Ramadhan. The time has to be passed in ibaadat. Some ahadith regarding the significance of I’tikaaf are enumerated hereunder.

1. Hadhrat Ali Ibn Hussain narrates from his father that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"He who observes the ten days I’tikaaf during Ramadhan will obtain the thawaab of two Hajj and two Umrah."

2. Hadhrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said in regard to those who observe I’tikaaf:

"They are prevented from all sins and they obtain thawaab as if they are rendering all good deeds." (Mishkaat)

By the practice of I’tikaaf, one gains the opportunity of continuous residence in the Musjid. The significance of remaining in the Musjid for Ibaadat has already been explained in Rooh number 12. Women who intend to observe I’tikaaf should do so at home. They should seclude themselves in a particular place at home. The special acts of Ibaadat of the month of Ramadhan terminate with the coming of Eid. The hadith explains great significance of the Day of Eid as well. In a lengthy hadith, Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When Eid arrives, Allah Ta’ala addresses the Malaaikah: ‘They (Muslims) have fulfilled My Fardh. They have emerged to make dua. I take oath by My Splendour, by My Grandeur, by My Grace and by My Loftiness that I will most certainly accept their petition.’ Allah Ta’ala then proclaims to the Believers”

‘Return! I have forgiven you and I have exchanged your evil deeds with virtues. They thus return from the Musalla (whenever the Eid Salaat was performed) forgiven.”

(Mishkaat)

Hajj

Hajj is Fardh when the conditions therefore are found. In the absence of the necessary conditions, Hajj is Nafl. Like Salaat, Saum (Fasting), and Zakaat, Hajj too is of fundamental importance. It is one of the Pillars of Islam.

1. Allah Ta’ala says:

“It is obligatory upon people to make Hajj of this House (Ka’bah) for the sake of Allah. It is obligatory on the person who has the means of reaching there.”

(Qur’aan)

If Hajj has become Fardh on a person, observance of Salaat, Saum (Fasting), and Zakaat will not suffice for salvation (Najaat). Hajj is a demonstration of love for Allah. The flavour of love which permeates the acts of Hajj distinguishes it from other Ibaadat. Thus those who posses love for Allah is deficient, it will be strengthened by their engagement in the acts of love which belong to the Ibaadat of Hajj. Love for Allah established in the heart will solidify one’s Deen. The presence of love for Allah in the heart establishes one’s Deen on a firm basis. Hajj is specially efficacious for strengthening one’s Deen.

1. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Making Tawaaf of Baitullah, to walk between Safa and Marwah and to pelt stones (at the Jimaar) have been ordained for establishing the remembrance of Allah.
An observer might wonder at the wisdom underlying the circumambulation, the running and the pelting, but the Muslim should not be concerned about the wisdoms beneath these acts. Render these acts believing them to be the commands of Allah Ta’ala and that His Remembrance will be grounded in the heart by observing these acts. The relationship of the Believer with Allah Ta’ala is strengthened and his love is tested. Without understanding the wisdom of these acts, the Muslim in love with Allah, executes them because of the Command of Allah Ta’ala. All Commands of Allah Ta’ala carried out because of His love.

The acts of Hajj are permeated with love. Love overwhelms intelligence regarding the acts of Hajj. Idhtiba (baring the shoulder) and Raml (walking with shoulders swaying in soldier-like fashion) acts done in Hajj were initiated in the beginning as a display of physical strength when there was yet kuffaar domination over Makkah. However, these practices were retained even after Allah Ta’ala destroyed the power of the kuffaar and established Islam over Makkah. Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) states in this regard:

“Insipite of the cause of these acts no longer existing, we shall not give them up, for we rendered these acts since the time of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), himself rendered these acts in Hajjatul Wida when there was not a single kaafir in Makkah.”

If Hajj was not dominated by the attitude of love, these acts (Idhtiba, Raml and running) would have been terminated because of already having served their purpose.

Hadhrat Aabis Bin Rabeeah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) after kissing Hajr-e-Aswad (The Black Stone) said: “I know that you are a stone. You can neither benefit nor harm anyone. If I did not see Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) kissing you, I would not have kissed you.”

Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) kissed the stone merely because he saw Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) doing so. It was the relationship of love with Rasulullah.
(sallallahu alayhi wasallam) which motivated Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) to kiss Hajr-e-Aswad, and by his statement, Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) clarified the Muslims do not regard Hajr-e-Aswad as an object of worship. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) placed his lips on Hijr-e-Aswad, and for a long shile remained in this state crying. When Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) turned around, he saw Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) also crying. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “O Umar! This is indeed an occasion of shedding tears.”

(Ibn Majah, Ibn Khuzaimah, Hakim, Baihaqi)

“When it is the day of Arafah (when all the Hujjaaj gather), Allah Ta’ala says to the Malaaikah: ‘Look at My servants. They have come to Me from far off, crying to Me in their state of forlornness and worry while they are wandering around in the heart. I make you witness that I have forgiven them.’”

(Baihaq, Ibn Khuzaimah)

A few narrations which indicate the nature of love of the acts of Hajj have been mentioned. All acts of Hajj, it will be found, are permeated with the flavour of love. A cursory glance at the various rites of Hajj will make this abundantly clear. Wandering in the hills of Muzdalifah and Arfaat; shouting and proclaiming ‘Labbaik’; wandering about bareheaded; donning two unsewn garments; wearing garments like the dead; refraining from cutting or trimming the hair and nails; not even being allowed to kill lice; running to and fro between Safa and Marwah; circumambulating the Ka’bah; kissing the Black Stone; glancing with melancholy at the Ka’bah; pelting the Pillars sacrificing animals; together with the many prohibitions and restrictions are all acts which are strongly influenced by Love for Allah Ta’ala. In this Ibaadat of Hajj, love over whelms intelligency. The Ibaadat of Hajj is for those in love with their Creator. Certain things in these acts are waived for women because of the Shariah’s consideration of Purdah.

Like the acts of Hajj are permeated with love, so too are the places, viz., Makkah Mukarramah and surroundings where these rites of love are offered. The holy places too play their part in strengthening the love of Allah in the hearts of the Mu’mineen who have come to offer their love to their Creator. It is mentioned in the Qur’aan Shareef in Surah Ibraheem, that Nabi Ibraheem (alayhi salaam) while making dua requested Allah Ta’ala to incline the hearts of people to his progeny who will settle around the Holy Ka’bah. Allah Ta’ala accepted this dua and its effect is plainly visible to all Muslims. There is not a single Mu’min whose heart is not attached to the Ka’bah.

Hadrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahu anhu) says that if Hadrat Ibraheem (alayhis salaam) had not specified ‘the hearts of some people’ in his dua, then even multitudes of Jews and Christians would have gathered at the Ka’bah. But, because Nabi Ibrahim (alayhis salaam) asked for only the hearts of Believers to be inclined to his progeny who settled in the vicinity of the Ka’bah, it (Ka’bah) has become place of love and veneration only for Believers.

Hadrat Ibn Abbas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that on the occasion when Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) migrated from Makkah, he turned towards the city as he was departing and said in grief and sorrow:

“How pure and beloved a city you are to me. If my people had not expelled me, I would never have left you to live elsewhere.”

(Mishkaat)

Since every Mu’min has a bond of love with Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), it is only necessary that this love will extend to the city which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) loved so dearly. Thus, love for Makkah Muazzamah is the result of the dua of two Nabis, viz., Nibi Ibraheem (alayhis salaam) and Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).

What has been so far explained is the true, actual and Deeni significance of Hajj and the places of Hajj. Besides these Deeni significance there are also some worldly benefits in Hajj although one’s intention and gaze must not be on the worldly advantages. Without even being concerned of the worldly benefits, they are acquired automatically.

Another Ibaadat similar to Hajj is Umrah which is a Sunnatul Muakkadah obligation. Umrah too is an Ibaadat of love and consists of certain acts which are rendered in Hajj. For this reason Umrah has been described as ‘Hajj Asghar’ or ‘Lesser Hajj’. Umrah is rendered during the period of Hajj as well. Thus two Ibaadat of the greatest significance are united on one occasion. Besides the period of Hajj, the Ibaadat of Umrah may be discharged at any other time also.

Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan:

“Fulfil Hajj and Umrah in full measure for the sake of Allah.”

It is necessary to observe all conditions, acts and etiquettes of these acts of Ibaadat.
In addition, of the greatest importance is sincerity of intention. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that whoever fails to perform Hajj inspite of having the means and inspite of their being nothing to prevent him, may die as a Jew or Christian. This stern warning applies to those who forgo the Fardh Hajj for no valid Shar‘i reason. The harshness of this warning indicates the absolute importance of Hajj-Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever intends to go on Hajj should make a haste.”

Hadhrat Ibn Mas‘ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“United Hajj and Umrah (during the Hajj period). Both acts of Ibaadat) eliminate poverty and sins in a similar way in which the impurities of gold, silver and iron are eliminated. The reward of a Hajj which was performed correctly is nothing other than Jannat.”

(Mishkaat)

The above hadith mentions a worldly benefit and a Deeni benefit, viz., elimination of poverty and elimination of sins. Sins here refer to Huqooqullah (sins committed against Allah Ta’ala and in which the rights of others were not involved). Regarding Huqooqul Ibaad (the rights of others), sins committed in this relation are not forgiven even by martyrdom. For the forgiveness of sins involving the rights of others it is essential to obtain first the pardon of those whose rights were usurped or destroyed.

“Allah Ta’ala accepts the dua of the one who performs Hajj and Umrah and if he seeks forgiveness, Allah Ta’ala forgives him.”

(Mishkaat)

Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Whoever sets out for Hajj, Umrah or Jihad but dies on the journey (before being able to render these obligations), Allah Ta’ala records for him the thawaab of the ghazi (one who returns victorious from the Jahaad field) and the thawaab of one who has performed the Hajj and Umrah.”

(Mishkaat)

In relation to Hajj there is another act of Ibaadah as well. This is the Ziyaarah (Visiting) of the auspicious Raudhah (Grave) of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).
wasallam). The majority of Ulama say that the visit to the gracious Raudhah of Nabi-e-Kareem (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) is Mustahab. This act too is permeated with love. While Hajj is love for Allah Ta’ala, Ziyaarah of the Holy Raudhah is love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Hajj produces progress in the love for Allah Ta’ala and Ziyaarah of the Holy Raudhah produces progress in the love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam):

Hadrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The one who after having made Hajj visits me after my death (i.e. visits the Holy Raudhah) is like one who has visited me while I was alive.”

(Mishkaat)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) has equated visiting his Grave to visiting him when he was alive. The tremendous significance of Ziyaarah of the Raudha-e-Mubaarak should thus be manifest. The benefit to be gained is indeed great. The effect of Ziyaarah is the inculcation of love in the heart for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) similar to the effect of love which generated in the hearts of Believers when they visited Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) during his lifetime. Increase in love for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) by Ziyaarah of the Holy Grave is readily felt in the hearts of the true Believers. This is a true and common experience for all those who make the Ziyaarah to the auspicious Grave of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Madinah Munawwarah too, is a place of holiness and love like Makkah Muazzamah. Hadrat Abu Hurairah narrates in a length hadith that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) made dua to Allah Ta’ala and said:

“O Allah! He is (i.e. Nabi Ibraheem-alayhi salaam) made dua to You for Makkah. I make dua to You for Madinah …….”

(Mishkaat)

Hadrat Aishah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“O Allah! Make Madinah beloved to us just as we love Makkah ….. and even more beloved than Makkah …..”

(Mishkaat)

Hadrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that when Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) returned from a journey, he would spur on his camel as soon as he saw the houses of Madinah. This, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would do so as to reach Madinah quickly. This action indicates the profound love which Nabi-e-Kareem (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had for Madinah Munawwarah.

Hadhrat Yahaya Ibn Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“On the surface of the earth there is no place which I love more for my grave to be located than Madinah.”

(Mishkaat)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) repeated this statement thrice. The aforegoing narrations will suffice to indicate the profound love which engulfs the acts of Hajj, Umrah, Ziyaarah and the Holy Places. The love of all these is indeed embedded in the hearts of the Believers. There is no need to provide proof for this. Believer who have the means should, therefore, not neglect these noble, important and great acts of Ibaadat. These acts are indeed a great treasure.

Qurbani

Qurbaani or sacrificing animals on the occasion of Eidul Adhaa is obligatory on those on whom Sadqah Fitr is compulsory. Qurbaani is an Ibaadat of such tremendous significance that even if it is not obligatory, one should endeavour to render it. There is great thawwab in even making Qurbaani on behalf of one’s naa-baaligh (under age) children. Qurbaani made on behalf of the dead is also very beneficial in that the thawaab reaches the dead. Some Qur’aanic aayat and ahadith will now be narrated in regard to this important sacrifice.

Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef:

“Sacrificing (animals) has been ordained on every Ummah so that the Name of Allah is mentioned on these particular animals which Allah has bestowed on them .....”

(Surah An’aam)

“We have made the sacrifice of camles and cows among the salient features of (the Deen) of Allah. There is benefit in it for you.” (Surah Hajj)

According to the Qur’aan Shareef, there are both worldly as well as Deeni (spiritual) benefits in the Ibaadah of Qurbaani. Allah Ta’ala has declared the sacrificing of animals as a salient feature of Islam. In addition to thawaab in the Hereafter, we derive the benefit of consuming their flesh and making use of their skins. The Qurbaani is an Ibaadah which has been instituted solely for our benefit. Hence, the Qur’aan Shareef says:

“Neither the flesh (of the sacrificed animals) nor their blood reach Allah. But, it is your taqwa (piety and sincerity of heart) which reaches Him. Convey glad tidings to the sincere ones.” (Surah Hajj)

Although sheep and goats are also animals for sacrifice, the Qur’aan specifically states that the sacrifice of camels and oxen is salient feature of the Deen. Sacrificing camels and oxen, therefore, be of greater merit.

The meaning of sincerity in Qurbaani is to make the sacrifice purely for the sake of Allah Ta’ala and to obtain thawaab. The intention must not be to eat meat. Although it is only natural that the flesh of the sacrificed animals will be eaten, the intention for making the Qurbaani should never be this. If the intention is consumption of meat, the Qurbaani will not be valid.

Allah Ta’ala commands Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam):

“perform Salaat for your Rabb and sacrifice (animals).” (Surah Kauthar)

The command of Salaat and Qurbaani are given to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) in the abovementioned aayat. Qurbaani being coupled with Salaat and commanded directly to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) as an obligatory duty for him to discharge, point of the emphasis which Allah Ta’ala lays on this Ibaadah.

Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“During the days of Qurbaani there is no deed of man more loved by Allah Ta’ala than sacrificing of animals. On the Day of Qiyaamah the sacrificed animal will arise with its horns, hair and hoofs. The sacrificed animal is accepted by Allah Ta’ala before the blood reaches the ground. Therefore, render the Qurbaani wholeheartedly and happily.” (Ibn Majah, Tirmizi, hakim)

This hadith in fact states the following:
· The greatest act of Ibaadah during the Days of Sacrifice is to make Qurbaani of animals.

· The full reward of the sacrifice will be obtained in the Aakhirah. Thawaab will be obtained for every hair on its body and for every drop of blood in its body.

· The act of Qurbaani is so dear to Allah Ta’ala that it is accepted immediately the act is rendered even before the first drop of blood reaches the earth.

· Muslims should offer the sacrifice with love and with the true spirit of sacrifice. They should not bicker unnecessarily about the price being asked and about the money being spent in obtaining an animal for sacrifice. Qurbaani is a great sacrifice and should not be despoiled by displaying a poor and miserly attitude.

Hadhrat Zaid bin Arqam (radiallahu anhu) narrates that the Sahaabah enquired from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) about the Qurbaani practice. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"It is the way of your father, Ibraheem (alayhis salaam)."

The Sahaabah asked: "What will we acquire by it?

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied:

"A good deed (is recorded for you) in return for every hair (on its body)."

The Sahaabah asked: "O Rasulullah! If there is wool on the body?"

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

A good deed in return for every strand (of wool on its body).” (Hakim)

Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to Faatimah (radiallahu anha):

"O Fatimah! Get up and be present at your Qurbaani (when it is about to be slaughtered). All your sins are forgiven as the first drop of its blood reaches the earth. Remember that on the Day of Qurbaani its flesh and blood will be brought and after increasing it by seventy times, it will be placed in your Scale of good deeds.

Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) asked:

“O Rasulullah! Is this reward exclusive for the Family of Muhammad? Truly, they deserve such great thawaab or is this thawaab for all Muslims as well.”

Rasulullah Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“For the Family of Muhammad as well as for all Muslims in general.” (Isbahaani)

Hadhrat Husain Ibn Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The Qurbaani rendered wholeheartedly, happily and with sincerity of intention will on the Day of Qiyaamah be a shield against Jahannum for the sacrificer.” (Tibrani)

Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“He who has the means but does not render the Qurbaani, should not come to our place of Eid Salaah.” (Targheeb)

One may realize the great displeasure which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) voiced against those who neglect this great act of Ibaadah. This great warning mentioned in this hadith applies only to those who fail in offering the sacrifice despite them having the means of sacrificing.

Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) sacrificed two sheep. When asked about this sacrifice, he said that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) commanded him to render these sacrifices. One sheep was for himself and the other was sacrificed on behalf of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) has tremendous right (huqooq) over the Ummah. It is not possible for us to fulfill adequately those rights. A Qurbaani offered every year by a Mumin on behalf of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) is in fact nothing great and no sacrifice. We should not allow this wonderful opportunity to slip by without having taken advantage of this great act of Ibaadah by means of which colossal thawaab is obtained so very easily. Those who have the means, should not be miserly and neglectful.

Hadhrat Abu Talhah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) sacrificed on sheep for himself and one sheep on behalf of his Ummah. In this regard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“This Qurbaani is for the one in my Ummah who believes in me and who acknowledges me.” (Musali, Kabiri, Ausat)

This sacrifice on behalf of the Ummah demonstrates the love which Nabi-e-Kareem (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had for his Ummah. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) remembered us in his act of sacrifice. It is indeed regretful that members of the Ummah, inspite of having the means, will forget to offer Qurbaani on behalf of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).

The meaning of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) having made a Qurbaani on behalf of the Ummah is that he included the Ummah in the thawaab of the sacrifice. It does not mean that one sheep can be sacrificed in the names of more than one person. A sheep and a goat can be sacrificed only for one person while a cow and camel can be sacrificed for seven persons.

Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Fatten your animals (of sacrifice-feed them well), for they will be your mounts on the Siraat (the Bridge over Jahannum).” (Kanzul Ummaal)

This hadith has two interpretations. (1) The animals will become the mounts on which people will safely cross over Siraat. If a number of animals were sacrificed by a single person he will receive in return a wonderful and strong animal of the greatest swiftness. The mounts may also be changed at various stages in the journey across the Sirat.

(2) The second interpretation is that by virtue of the barkat and thawaab of having made Qurbaani, one’s crossing over the Siraat will be swift and in great comfort. In Kanzul Ummaal there is a hadith which states that the best Qurbaani is that of an animal which is strong and healthy physically it should be free of all deficiencies.

Income and expenditure

Ways and means of income, earning one’s livelihood and spending such income should conform with the Shariah. Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

On the Day of Qiyaamah no one will be able to move (on the occasion of Hisaab-reckoning) until a reckoning of five things has not been taken…..”

(Tirmizi)

Among the ‘five things’ mentioned in the above hadith, two questions pertain to income and expenditure. One will be asked: ‘How did you earn your living and how did you spend your income?”

Earnings and expenses are also matters controlled and regulated by the Deen. In this sphere too, there should be no contraventions of the Shariah, Income must not be derived by unlawful means, e.g. riba, dealing in unlawful items, usurping the rights of others, cheating, defrauding, withholding the inheritance of any one, etc. Many people violate the Shari laws of inheritance and deprive the rightful heirs of their Islamic share of the inheritance. In this way the usurpers add to their income what is haram and what does not belong to them. Among the ways of earning which conflict with the Deen, is to become involved so intensively in trade and commerce that even Salaat is neglected. Aakhira is forgotten, Zakaat and Hajj are not discharged and no time remains for one to acquire the essential teachings of the Deen. One should not become so much involved that there remains no time to sit in the company of some saintly person, to learn from him the essentials of the Deen. Association with the pious-with the Auliya-is an important requirement for the spiritual progress of a Muslim. This fact of life should, therefore, never be neglected.

Income should not be expended in such ways, avenues and practices which are condemned by the Deen. Extravagance, spending in customs which have no Shari sanction, spending for the sake of gaining name, spending in unnecessary luxuries-luxuries which are far in excess of one’s needs, etc. are all evil ways which bring about ruin in both mundane and spiritual life. There is nothing wrong with earning and accumulating wealth provided that one abstains from extravagance, haraam and all ways and means unlawful in Islam. Wealth can and should be used constructively for one’s own benefit as well as for the benefit of others and for rendering service to the Deen. There are a variety of Deeni activities which require wealth. Therefore, a man of wealth can obtain great thawaab by earning and employing wealth in accordance with the Shariah. Aiding the poor and needy, contributing to Deeni projects such as Musjids, Madressahs, works of Tableegh, etc. are wonderful channels in which to employ wealth and thereby build up one’s capital in the Aakhirah.

Hadhrat Abdullah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The seeking of a halaal earning is the (next) Fardh (duty) after the Fardh (Salat).”

(Baihaqi)

Hadhrat Abu Khimari (radiallahu anhu) narrates lengthy hadith in which Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The world is for four (types) of persons. (One among the four) is a man whom Allah Ta’ala granted wealth as well as understanding of the Deen. He fears his Rabb and is kind (and renders service) to his relatives. And, in regard to the wealth he follows the commands of Allah and discharges rights. This man is the noblest .....”

(Tirmizi)

Hadhrat Abu Saeed Khudri (radiallahu anhu), narrating a lengthy hadith, said the Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Wealth is an object of pleasure. Wealth acquired in a rightful way (in accordance with the Shariah) and spent in a rightful way will be an aid for its owner.”

(Bukhari, Muslim)

Hadhrat Amr Ibnul A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Wholesome (pure) wealth for a noble person is good.”

(Ahmad)
Hadhrat Miqdam Ibn Ma’di Karuba (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say:

"There will come a time when only gold and silver (wealth) will benefit people.

According to Hadhrat Sufyaan Thauri (radiallahu anhu), wealth during the time of the Sahaabah was not preferable since their hearts were ennobled with strong Imaan. Since they possessed a very strong Imaan there was no need for them to seek strength and confidence in wealth. In view of the evils normally attendant to wealth, the Sahaabah and the early Muslims refrained from its acquisition. However, now (says Hadhrat Abu Sufyaan Thauri) wealth has become the shield of the Mu’min. Since Imaan is no longer as strong as it was during former times, poverty creates worry and frustration in people. The result is deterioration in the worldly and spiritual conditions of Muslims as they no longer are able to stand up to the rigours of poverty.

Hadhrat Sufyaan Thauri (radiallahu anhu) also said that if we did not have wealth, the wealthy worldly people (those puffed up with pride) would have despised us, held us in contempt and trampled over us in any way they wished. Hadhrat Sufyaan Thauri (rahmatullah alayh) also said that whoever is in possession of wealth should increase it and not squander it because in this age the first thing which will suffer in the event of poverty and want is one’s Deen. Since people, on account of weakness of Imaan, are no longer capable of enduring the rigours of poverty, they compromise their Deen for worldly comforts.

Hadhrat Sufyaan Thauri (radiallahu anhu) said that Halaal wealth does not tolerate extravagance or waste. Therefore, spend carefully and be not reckless. If you are reckless in spending, you will be overwhelmed by worry and frustration.

Hadhrat Abu Saeed (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“An honest and uprighteous trader will be with the Ambiya, Siddiqueen and Shuhadaa (on the Day of Qiyaamah).”

(Tirmizi)
The great significance of lawful trade is stated in this hadith. The lawful trader who is honest and uprighteous will enjoy the association of the Ambiya, Saints and Martyrs in the Hereafter.

Hadhrat Miqdam Bin Ma’di Karuba (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

(Bukhari)

Islam teaches the nobility and dignity of work and labour. The ahadith explains much significance of labour. Nabi Dawood (alayhi salaam) earned his living by making armour. However, this significance applies to only such occupations which are in accord with the Shariah. Haraam forms of labour and occupations, e.g. photography of living objects, musical instruments, cinemas, etc. are haraam forms of occupations. The proceeds from unlawful occupations are likewise unlawful. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“There was not a Nabi who was not sent as a shepherd.”

The Sahaabah asked: You also tended to sheep?”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied.

“I tended the goats of the people of Makkah …….”

(Bukhari)

This hadith too asserts the significance of manual labour. All Ambiya (alayhi salaam) were shepherds looking after the sheep and goats of people. Hadhrat Nabi Musa (alahis salaam) remained a shepered, tending the goats and sheep of Nabi Shuaib (alahis salaam) for eight or ten years. (Ahmad, Ibn Majah). The episode of Musa (alahi salaam) being a shepherd is narrated in the Qur’aan Shareef as well. This again brings out the significance of manual labour.

Hadhrat Thaabit Ibn Dhullaak (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) permitted hiring out land. This hadith too asserts the significance of permitted hiring out of land.
Income derived from land and property hiring is also a lawful occupation in Islam as this hadith indicates,

Among the noble ways of earning living is farming. Much significance of farming has been mentioned in the hadith. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that whatever man, animal or bird eats from any tree or farm planted by a Muslim, its owner obtains the thawaab of Sadqah thereby.

Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrating a lengthy hadith says that a man from among the Ansaar came to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and requested something. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) sent someone to bring a mug and mat from one house. These items Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) auctioned among the Sahaabah. With the money obtained for the items Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) bought some food and an axe. Giving these to the Ansaari, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Go (to the forest) cut wood and sell it. This is better for you than begging which will be a blot of disgrace on your face (on the Day of Qiyaamah).” (Abu Dawood, Ibn Majah)

This hadith establishes that a lawful occupation, no matter how menial and inferior, is better than begging. Asking is a disgrace, said Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam).

Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah Ta’ala loves a Mu’min who engages in a lawful means of earning a living.”

(Tibrani, Baihaqi)

A halaal trade or any halaal means of earning should not be despised. Many people consider certain forms of earning as lowly and regard such people with contempt. The hadith shareef in stating Allah’s love for the Mu’min who earns a halaal livelihood, clearly implies the dignity of labour and brings out the great significance of earning one’s living irrespective of how lowly and inferior the work may seem in the eyes of worldly people.

It is in a person’s own interests that he saves up some money so that he may be saved from worry and despondency. It is a fact that most people are not able to undergo hardship. When in need of money, they resort to practices which are unlawful and adopt haraam measures to obtain from waste and at the same time save up money. There is nothing wrong in saving. According to the hadith, even Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) would give his wives expenses at one time for the whole year. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) advised the Sahaabah to retain some wealth as this is better for peace of mind. This was specifically stated by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to Hadhrat Ka’b Ibn Malik (radiallahu anhu) who had expressed his desire to contribute all his wealth in the Path of Allah Ta’ala.

In one hadith Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“I detest a man who is useless. He is neither engaged in any worldly activity nor any Aakhirah activity.”

(Ahmad, Baihaqi)

Indolence and inactivity are detestable attributes. A man who is not engaged in Deeni work should involve himself in some lawful worldly activity and earn his livelihood. He should not remain idle and waste away his life. On the otherhand, those fully involved in Deeni activities, should repose their trust in Allah Ta’ala. He is the Provider. He will most certainly provide for them. Workers of the Deen should not in the least be worried in regard to their rizq.

Extravagance or waste is evil. The Shariah prohibits waste. Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Shareef:

“Do not waste. Verily, the wasters are the brothers of shaitaan.”

Hadhrat Mugheerah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah Ta’ala detests that you destroy wealth (i.e. by means of wasting).” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Hadhrat Anas Abu Umaamah, Ibn Abbaas and Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrate that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“Walk along the middle path.”

This means the adoption of moderation. Moderation in spending is the instruction of Islam. Spend only when necessary. If people are moderate in expenditure and abstain from extravagance, they will never be dependent on others. They will not be forced to ask others, thereby bringing disgrace upon themselves. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that to ask is disgrace. Over-spending and failing to budget one’s income lead to debt which in turns brings disgrace, worry and frustration. People are financially ruined and along with such worldly ruin comes spiritual ruin as well.

Among the worst of calamities is debt, especially if one has no means of paying the debts. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) has sounded dire warnings in regard unpaid debt. Even martyrdom is no absolution for debt. Debt will be demanded even in the Aakhirah. In this regard, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“I take oath by that Being Whose possession is my life that the man who is in debt will not enter Jannat even if he is martyred (in the Path of Allah); then is resurrected and again martyred; then again is resurrected and again martyred. He will not enter (Jannat) until his debt is paid.” (Targheeb, Nisaai, Tibrani, Hakim)

However, there are exceptions. If the debt was incurred on account of a real need and one has the intention of paying and at the same time makes effort to pay, then the warning stated in the above hadith will not apply to such debt. In such cases, even if the debt remained unpaid, Allah Ta’ala will settle the rights of the creditors on behalf of the sincere debtor who was genuinely unable to pay.

The discussion in this section shows that wealth if acquired lawfully and spent in accordance with the Shariah is a ni’mat (bounty) from Alah Ta’ala. Wealth becomes an evil when acquired and expended in contravention of the Shariah. When wealth, (like even wives and children) impedes one’s spiritual development and interferes one’s Deeni life then indeed it will be an evil. In Surah Taghaabun, Allah Ta’ala describes even one’s family as one’s enemy. This applies when the family obstructs one in the Path of Allah Ta’ala. The same reasoning will apply to wealth. The aayat mentioning that family can be one’s enemy also states that wealth can be one’s enemy. Thus when one’s family cause one to forget the Aakhirah they will be one’s enemies.
The Mu’min should make use of the bounties of Allah Ta’ala like an obedient slave and not a rebellious traitor.

Nikah and progeny

Islam lays stress on marriage. The actual order, if there are no impediments and no expediencies, is for man to get married. Hadhrat Ibn Abi Najeeh (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “The man who has no wife is the most dependent.” People asked: “Even if he has much wealth?”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Even if he has much wealth.” Then Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) added: “The woman who has no husband is most dependent.” People said: “Even if she has much wealth?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Even if she has much wealth”. (Razeen) The object of wealth is to attain peace and comfort. These states of tranquility are not attainable by unmarried people. Furthermore, there are great worldly as well as spiritual advantages in Nikah. In this regard Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “O assembly of youths! Whoever among you has the ability to discharge the responsibilities of a family-life (i.e. fulfill the rights of the wife) should get married because Nikkah guards the eyes and prevents from immorality (i.e. fornication).” Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Marry women, for they will bring for you wealth.”

(Bazzaaz)

If both husband and wife are intelligent, there will be barkat in the income of the husband. The husband will endeavour to earn more because of his added responsibility while the intelligent wife will not squander the wealth, but will economise and conduct the house budget in a way in which the husband is not able to do. This family will, as a result of this attitude of marriage partners, become prosperous and will have comfort and peace. And, this is the purpose of wealth. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that someone asked Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “Who is the best woman?” Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied: “The woman whose husband becomes happy when he looks at her; who obeys his orders; who does not oppose her husband with either her person or wealth.”

(Nisaai)

Thus, obedience and service to the husband elevate the wife to a noble status. In the words of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam), such a woman is the ‘best’.

It is an act of great thawaab and much significance for a woman to tend to the affairs of her home. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) exhorted women to do their housework themselves. Once Hadhrat Faatimah (radiallahu anha) requested Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) for a servant to assist her in the housework. Hadhrat Faatima (radiallahu anha) did all her housework herself. In answer to her request, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“O Faatimah! For Allah. Fulfill the compulsory duties (Fardh) of your Rabb and do the work of your house-folk.”

(Bukhari, Muslim, Abu Dawood, Tirmizi)

Which woman can consider herself to be superior than Hadhrat Faatimah (radiallahu anha)? But, the Queen of womankind, the Leader of the women of Jannat, Hadhrat Faatimah (radiallahu anha) did all her housework herself. This hadith clearly establishes the significance of women doing their own housework.

Hadhrat Ma’qil Bin Yasaar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Marry such women who are loving and produce children (in abundance) because (on the Day of Qiyaamah) I will view with other Ummats (and be proud) of your numbers.”

(Abu Dawood, Nisaai)
The numerical superiority of the Ummah will be a source of great pleasure for Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) on the Day of Qiyaamah. Abundance of children is thus a great ni’mat and has many advantages both in the worldly life and in the Aakhirah. After the parents’ death, obedient children continuously engage in dua and acts of thawaab on behalf of their deceased parents. Children who have received a thorough Deeni upbringing and Islamic guidance will perpetuate piety and virtue in the future generations. Children who died in infancy will be a great aid for their parents in the Aakhirah. Through the intercession of such children the parents will obtain forgiveness and be saved from the calamities of the punishment of Jahannum. Pious children who have attained adulthood, too will be intercessors on behalf of their parents in the Aakhirah. The greatest benefit is abundance of progeny in the increase in the numbers and strength of the Ummah in this world and the pleasure of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) in the Aakhirah.

Abstention from marriage is to be deprived of all these noble benefits. Therefore, it is abominable to refrain from marriage if there is no valid reason. Reprimanding a wealthy unmarried Sahaabi, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “O Ukaaf! (while you remain unmarried) you are (like) a brother to shaitaan. If you had been among the Nasaara you would have become a monk. Our (i.e. Islam’s) way is Nikah. The worst among you are the unmarried. The most effective weapon which shaitaan employs against pious men is women. However, those who are married are saved from immorality.” (Ahmad)

The full benefits of marriage are realized when both husband and wife fulfill the other’s rights. The marriage will then be imbued with love and understanding. There are many rights which are linked with marriage. Both partners have rights and so do the offsprings. Some important huqooq (rights) will be mentioned here. From these, one will be able to understand the other rights of marriage. Hadhrat Abu Musa Ash’ari (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) mentioned the significance of imparting Deeni knowledge to a bondswoman (woman of the right hand in the words of the Qur’aan). From this hadith it is apparent that the significance of imparting Deeni knowledge to one’s wife will be far greater. It is thus necessary for the husband to ensure that his wife has sufficient Deeni knowledge. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“I exhort you to be kind to women. Accept it (my exhortation). Women have been created from a crooked rib. If you attempt to straighten her, you will break her; her breaking is talaaq. And, if you leave her as she is, she will remain crooked. Therefore, accept this my exhortation of kindness towards them.”

(Tirmizi)

It is not possible that she will do everything to satisfy the husband. Any such attempt by the man to impose on her to conform in entirety to his wishes will only break her. This means that the marriage will be wrecked and talaaq will occur. It is therefore essential to overlook little faults and such acts which do not find favour with the husband’s tastes. The husband should be big-hearted enough to accommodate her slight faults in regard to his likes and dislikes. Extreme harshness as well as extreme laxity will allow shaitaan to instill in woman desires which are in conflict with the Deen. In so far as matters of the Deen are concerned, the husband, should not be lax so as to grant her leeway to violate the laws of Allah Ta’ala. But, in things of personal taste the husband should not make too much demands on her.

Hadrat Hakeem Bin Muaawiyah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that his father said to Rasulullah(sallallahu alayhi wasallam): “O Rasulullah! What are the rights of our wives over us?” Rasulullah(sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “When you eat, feed her; when you wear garments, clothe her; do not strike her in her face (even if she is at fault); do not curse her; do not dissociate from her except in the house.” (Abu Dawood) According to this hadith, there is reason to show displeasure towards her, the husband should not show his displeasure by leaving the house and staying away from her.

Hadrat Umme Salmah (radiallahu anha) and Hadrat Maimoonah (radiallahu anha) both wives of Nabi-e-Kareem-sallallahu alayhi wasallam were with Rasulullah(sallallahu alayhi wasallam) when Hadrat Ibn Umme Maktoom (radiallahu anhu), a blind Sahaabi entered. Rasulullah(sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said to both wives: “Both of you seclude yourselves (adopt Purdah) from him.” The two wives said: “But, he is blind!” Rasulullah(sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “What! Are you too blind?”
It is among that rights of the wife that the husband ensures that she remains in Purdah and not come into the presence of ghair-mahram males. They should not look at them nor should they (women) look at the ghair mahram men. In this measure lies the protection of the Deen of the wife, for she is thus guarded against the evil of intermingling with other men. At the same time there is great worldly benefit, especially for the happiness of the home, in Purdah. Some rights of husbands will now be mentioned. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates the Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “If (making Sajdah for anyone was permissible and I had to order anyone to make sajdah for another), I would have commanded the wife to make sajdah for her husband.”

The superiority and the great right of the husband over the wife are amply borne out by this hadith. Hadhrat Ibn Abi Aufa (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“I take oath by That Being in whose possession is my life that a women does not fulfil the haqq (right) of Allah as long as she does not fulfil the haqq (right) of her husband.”

The wife should not feel that she has discharged the rights and duties of Allah Ta’ala by only carrying out the obligations of Salaat, Saum, etc. Obedience to her husband is also a command of Allah on her. It is therefore, essential that she obeys and pleases her husband in all things which are lawful in Islam.

Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“The Salaat of a woman disobedient to her husband does not reach further than her head (i.e. it is not accepted by Allah Ta’ala. (her Salaat remains unacceptable) until she desists from her disobedience.

(Tirmizi)

The aforegoing narrations clearly illustrate the great significance and importance which Islam attaches to the institution of Nikah. Monasticism is not part of Islam. Nikah is a spiritual guard as well as a worldly guard. All Muslims have therefore to enter into the Nikah bond if there is no impediment. However, if there exists valid Shari reason for abstaining from Nikah, one will not be blameworthy. Exceptions have been mentioned in the hadith. Those who are not able to discharge the rights of marriage are not under obligation to marry. Once a man brought his daughter to Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). She persistently refused to get married. Upon enquiring from her the reason for her refusal, she explained her case and said that she will never marry. Since she was certain that she will not be able to fulfil the rights of a husband, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) did not compel her to marry.

If a widow feel that in marrying again her children’s life will be wrecked, then she is not under obligation to marry. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) praised such a woman and mentioned great thawaab for her in the Aakhirah because of her sacrifice for the sake of her children. In the interests of her orphaned children she abstained from marriage.

Hadhrat Yahya Bin Waqid (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) referring to future times of fitnah (mischief, evil and strife), said:

“.... (At that time) I prefer for my Ummat remaining single (unmarried) and (I prefer for them) dissociation form relationships (with people) and (I prefer for them) living on mountain peaks. I grant them permission (for this at such times of fitnah).”

(Razeen)

Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) and Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“There will dawn a time over people when the destruction of a man will be at the hands of his wife, parents and children. They will humiliate him because of his poverty and will make such demands which will induce him to engage in such activities (to gain more money) which will finally destroy his Deen.”

(Baihaqi)

If marriage will constitute a danger to one’s Imaan and Deen, then abstention there from will be allowed because the reason is valid in the Shariah. However, there are also such people who are like drones. They are merely lacking in determination and effort. They rely on others for their needs. Regarding such people, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Five types of persons will enter the Fire. (Among the five mentioned in this hadith, one is) a man who is weak in resolve. He has no understanding of the Deen. He is a burden on others; he has neither wife nor children and he does not earn his living. He lives like a drone.”

(Muslim)

Children too have rights (Huqooq). If parents discharge the rights of their offspring correctly, they will become more obedient and useful. The Deeni rights which children have over their parents have already been explained in Chapter Two and Chapter Three. Their worldly rights consists of training them in such ways and means which will enable them to achieve comfort and worldly benefit.

Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

Teach your sons swimming and archery and teach your daughters sewing.”

(Baihaqi)

The activities mentioned in this hadith are by way of example. All worldly activities of necessity come within the scope
Dissociation of the heart from the world and constant reflection of Aakhirah

Despite the fact that man is in the world and is part and parcel of this material world, it is essential for his spiritual progress that his heart remains dissociated from the world and associated with the Aakhirah. It is necessary that man at all times reflects on the Aakhirah. Allah Ta’ala has created us for a specific purpose, viz., His remembrance. We are to spend a short while in this transitory abode and then pass onto our next phase of life in our onward journey towards Allah Ta’ala. It is thus imperative that the heart of man does not cling to this world even though he physically is constrained to participate in mundane activities. Along with emptying his heart from worldly love, he has constantly to reflect and remind himself about the Aakhirah. This attitude will produce strength in the heart. Deen will become solidified and the Imaan in the heart will start to glow.

For attaining firmness of Imaan, it is necessary that one endeavours to meditate on the worthlessness of this world. Reflection is necessary. Always ponder on the fact of this earth being perishable and will one day pass into non-existence. Ponder especially on the shortness of one’s own life. How swiftly the time flies by. Soon will one be called into the presence of Allah Ta’ala and a reckoning will be demanded. Reflect on the wonders and the everlasting nature of the Life Hereafter. Once maut (death) arrives and in relation to man maut arrives with great swiftness all the events of the period after death will occur in rapid succession. The athaab (punishment) in the grave, the reckoning and the torment in Qiyaamah, Jannat, Jahannum, Siraat, reward and punishment are all things on which it is necessary that the Mu’min reflects continuously. Constant reflection on these issues will produce firmness of Imaan and the realization of the futility of this ephemeral life and the reality and permanence of the akhirah will dawn on one. The Imaan and intelligence of the Mu’min will then discern actual truth and operate from an elevated platform.

Some narrations in regard to this subject will now be related.

1. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef:

“Alluring (and adorned) has been made for mankind the love of desires regarding women, sons, mounds of gold and silver, beautifully marked horses, other grazing stock and farms. (But) these are things for use in this worldly life. And, by Allah is a beautiful end. Say (O Muhammad!): Shall I inform you of that which is better than these things? For these who fear (their Rabb) are such Gardens by their Rabb, beneath which flow rivers; therein will they dwell forever; (and for them therein) will be pure wives and (greatest of all) The Pleasure of Allah. Allah is the Overseer of His servants.”

15, Aal Imraan

2. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef:

“Whatever you have (of worldly possessions) will (one day) come to an end, (But) whatever is with Allah will remain forever.”

Sura h Nahl

3. “Wealth and children are a glitter of this world. And, righteous deeds which remain forever are best by your Rabb for obtaining thawaab and best for (pinning) hopes.”

Sura Kahf

4. "Know (and understand well) that, verily, the life of this world is (but) play, amusement, adornment, mutual pride (viejing with one another in material possession and worldly pomp) and mutual rivalry in accumulating wealth and children. In the Hereafter is a dreadful punishment (for the rebellious ones) and (for the people of Imaan) will be forgiveness and pleasure from Allah.”

Surah Hadeed

5. “You prefer the worldly life (to the Aakhirah) whereas the Hereafter is best and everlasting.”

Sura h A’laa

6. Hadhrat mastoor Bin Shaddaad (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“I take oath by Allah (and any) that the similitude of this life with the Aakhirah is like the (quantity of) water which remains on the finger after it was dipped into the sea.”

The insignificance of this world in relation to the Aakhirah is described in this hadith. What quantity of water will there be on one’s finger which has been withdrawn from the sea after having dipped it in? Whatever comparison that slight bit of moisture on one’s finger has with all the water in the oceans of the earth, that is the relation or comparison of this world with the Aakhirah. The worthlessness and insignificance of this worldly life in relation to the wonderful and everlasting life in the Aakhirah is quite apparent from this hadith.

7. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) once on passing by a dead goat, said: “Who among you desires to obtain this dead and decomposing goat for the price of a dirham (a silver coin)?”

The people said: ‘We do not desire it for anything (leave alone a dirham).’

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“I take oath by Allah that the world is more contemptible to Allah that what this (dead) goat is to you.”

8. Hadhrat Sahl Bin Sa’d (radiallahu anhu narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“If the world had the value of even the wing of a mosquito by Allah, He would not have given any kaafir even a drink of water.” (Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

9. Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Whoever love his world will harm his Aakhirah and whoever loves his Aakhirah will harm his world. Therefore, give preference to the abode which will be everlasting (i.e. Aakhirah).” (Ahmad, Baihaqi)
10. Hadhrat Ka’b Bin Malik (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Two Hungary wolves let loose in a flock of sheep do not cause so much damage to the flock as does the love of wealth and vanity cause to one’s Deen.”

(Tirmizi, Darmi)

Love of wealth and vanity or the desire for greatness and glory are spiritually destructive forces. They bring total ruin to one’s Deen. Love of wealth drives one to indulge in all sorts of unlawful activities which utterly ruins one’s Deeni life. The desire for name, fame and glory brings in its wake much corruption, hatred, revenge and other bestial qualities which also wreck one spiritually and harm one’s worldly life considerably.

The desire for rank and position is evil. However, if high rank comes to one without hankering after it, then it will be a ni’mat from Allah Ta’ala. In this regard Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah Ta’ala will say to a man on the Day of Qiyaamah:

‘What! Did I not bestow leadership on you?’”

(Musli m)

In the Qur’aan Shareef, Allah Ta’ala states:

“And, he (Nabi Musa) was (given) by Allah dignity.”

(Sura h Ahzaab)

“And, he (Nabi Isa) was (given) dignity on earth and in the Aakhirah.” (Surah Aale Imraan)

From these narrations it is clear that rank, dignity and honour, if forth coming from Allah Ta’ala, are favours which have to be appreciated. Nabi Dawood and Nabi Sulaimnan (alayhimas salaam) were even granted vast kingdoms. This was a great bounty from Allah Ta’ala.

Although it is improper to desire for rank and position for worldly and nafsaani motives, there is nothing wrong if such desire is motivated purely for Deeni purposes to render service to the Deen as was the case with Nabi Yusuf (alayhi salaam) who expressed the wish to be put in charge of the treasury of the land. However, it is not for everyone to express the wish for high posts and ranks. Inspite of such wishes being permissible if based on sincere motives, there is always the danger of spiritual corruption overtaking one.

11. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Whoever had control over even ten persons (on earth) will be ushered (into the Divine Court) in such a way…. That (if he had committed any injustice upon his subjects) his injustice will destroy him.” (Daarmi)

The grave danger attendant to leadership should thus be realized from this hadith.

12. Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) slept on a mat. The imprint of the mat had formed on the mubaarak (auspicious) body of Nabi-e-Kareem (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) then said:

“O Rasulullah! Grant us permission to prepare a (comfortable) bed for you.”

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“What relationship have I with the world? My similitude with the world is like a traveler with a tree under which he halts after a tiresome journey. He halts a while under the shade of the tree and then leaves it again to continue his journey.”

(Ahmad, Tirmizi)
13. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The world is the abode of a person who has no home; it is the wealth of the person who had no wealth. He who has no intelligence accumulates the wealth of the world (i.e. more than what is necessary).”

(Ahmad, Baihaqi)

14. Hadhrat Huzaifah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say in his Khutbah:

“The love of the world is the root of all evil.”

(Tazeen, Baihaqi)

15. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“This world is a continuous journey which recedes (further and further) while the Aakhirah is a continuous journey which approaches (nearer and nearer). Both (this world and the Aakhirah) have their sons. If you can, be not among the sons of the world. Today you are in the abode of practice (Daarul Amal) and there is no reckoning here. Reckoning will be for you in the Aakhirah and there will be no amal (practice).”

(Baihaqi)

16. Hadhrat Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) recited the following aayat:

(Translation of the aayat):

“Allah Ta’ala expands the breast of the one whom He intends to guide, so that he accepts) Islam.”
Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) then said:

“When Noor enters the breast, it (the breast) expands.”

Someone asked: “O Rasulullah! Is there a sign for this?

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Yes. He saves himself from this abode of deception (the world); he inclines towards the everlasting abode (Aakhirah) and he makes preparations for the everlasting abode before the arrival of death.” (Baihaqi)

17. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Remember much the severer of delights, i.e. Maut.” (Tirmizi, Nisaai, Ibn Majah)

18. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Maut is a gift for the Mu’min.”

(Baihaqi)

A gift is an object of pleasantness. The Mu’min should therefore be pleased with Maut. If there is fear for athaab (punishment) then arrangements should be made to be protected against such punishment (which follows after death). The protection against athaab is to be obedient to the commands of Allah and His Rasool (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and to resort to taubah for deficiencies.

19. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) took hold of his (Ibn Umar’s) shoulders and said:

“Stay on earth as if you are a foreigner or like one walking along the road.”

Like a foreigner longs for his homeland and a traveller is continuously on the move anticipating a quick arrival home, so too should be the Mu’min. His heart should never be attached to this world. His faze must be focused on Jannat, his original and permanent home. He must prepare himself for his return home.

20. Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) would say:

“When evening approaches do not wait for morning; when the morning approaches do not wait for the evening…..” (Bukhari)

21. Hadhrat Baraa’ Ibn Aathib (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When the Mu’min is about to depart for the Hereafter, Malaaikah (angels) with glittering faces come to him. They have with them kafan (burial shrouds) and fragrance from Jannat. Malakul Maut then arrives and explains (to the dying Mu’min): “O pure soul! Come towards the forgiveness and the pleasure of Allah Ta’ala…. The Malaaikah (with glittering faces) take possession of the soul and wrap it in the heavenly kafan and fragrance… They proceed with the (pure) soul upwards. Every group of angles living on earth, by whom they pass, enquire: ¿Whose pure soul is this?’ The Malaaikh (in whose possession the soul is) inform them (the other angels) of the identity of the person and (in informing them) call the soul by various beautiful and honourable titles…. They then reach the first heaven and the Doors thereof are opened up. The holy Malaaikah of the first heaven (a group among them) accompany the procession to the second heaven and the Doors are opened, up. In this way the procession goes from heaven Allah Ta’ala then orders:

“Enter the Book of Record of My servant in Illeeyeen and proceed towards the earth with him (for the questioning in the grave by Munkar and Nakeer).”

The soul is then returned to its body. The angels (Munkar and nakeer) then come to the person and ask:

“Who is your Rabb?”

The Mu’min replies: “Allah is my Rabb.”

They ask: “What is your Deen?”

He replies “Islam is my Deen.”
They then ask: “Who is this man who was sent among you?”

He replies: “He is the Nabi of Allah.”

A caller than (on the instruction of Allah Ta’ala) calls out from the heaven: "My servant has spoken the truth. Arrange for him the comfort of Jannat; Clothe him with the garments of Jannat and open up on him a window from Jannat. The sweet breezes and fragrances of Jannat thus come to him…..” (Ahmad)

The same hadith continues and narrates the evil and terrible condition which overtakes the kaafir soul.

After death and in Qiyaamah will occur the following events:

The sounding of the Trumpet (Soor), the resurrection of the dead, the torments of Qiyaamah, the reckoning, the fortunate will be given to drink from the Fountain of Kauthar, Punishment in Jahannum for certain sins (or for those who were not forgiven), intercession for the people of Imaan, entry into Jannat and the Vision of Allah Ta’ala.

These are all things to reflect on so as to creat life in Imaan. If one is not able to set aside a specific time for such meditation, then at least when going to bed at night, think about these events.

Abstaining from Sin

It is of vital importance for the Mu’min to abstain from all sin. This is essential of developing his Imaan. Sin darkens Imaan and creates weakness in it. On the assumption that there will not be punishment for sins, then too, it is necessary for the Mu’min to abstain from sin, for sin is disobedience which is the cause of Allah’s displeasure. No man wishes to displease even a worldly benefactor. The favours of Allah on man are innumerable. Allah Ta’ala is man’s greatest and true Benefactor. How can the Mu’min then displease Him?
Besides this consideration, there is also the danger of punishment for the commission of sin, such punishment may be both in this world as well as in the Hereafter. One form of worldly punishment is that a man given up to sin engrosses himself fully, body and heart, in the world to such a degree that he becomes fearful of the Aakhirah and thus detests it. He loses firmness of heart and Imaan. The Mu’min should therefore, not venture near to sin, no matter what type of sin it may be, whether the sin pertains to Huqooqullah (Rights of Allah) or Huqooqul Ibaad (Rights of creation). Various types of punishment for different sins have been mentioned in the ahadith.

Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When the Mu’min sins, a black spot forms on his heart. If he makes istighfaar and taubah, the black mark is removed and his heart is purified. If he increases his sin, the black mark increases. This is the corrosion of the heart spoken of by Allah Ta’ala (in the Qur’an) (Ahmad, Tirmizi, Ibn Majah)

Hadhrat Muaaz (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Guard yourselves against sin because the Wrath of Allah descends in the wake of sin.” (Ahmad)

Hadhrat Anas Bin Malik (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Should I not show you your sickness and its remedy? Your sickness is sinning and your remedy is to seek forgiveness (istighfaar).” (Baihaqi)

Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“The hearts too become corroded (by means of sin). Its polish is istighfaar.”

(Baihaqi)

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Verily, man is deprived of rizq because of the sins which he perpetrates.” (Ahmad)

6. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once ten of them were in the company of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) when he said:

“I seek the protection of Allah from five things which may over take you. When immorality becomes rampant in a people, they will be overtaken by epidemics and such diseases which never existed before. When a people are involved in giving short-weight and measure, they will be overtaken by famine, hardship and oppression of the authorities. When a people stops paying Zakaat, rain is withheld from them. If it were not for the animals in their midst, never would there have fallen rain for them. When people violate pledges and promises, Allah will overwhelm them with their enemies from other nations. Thus the enemy will take by force their wealth.” (Ibn Majah)

7. Hadhrat Ibn Abbass (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When khiyaanat (abuse of trust) becomes rampant in a people, Allah Ta’ala overwhelsms their hearts with fear. A nation perpetrating injustice will be overpowered by its enemies.” (Malik)

8. Hadhrat Thaubaan (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“There will soon come a time when all the nations (of the kuffaar) will unite against you (muslim)...”

Someone asked: ‘Will we be less in numbers at that time?’
Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: ‘In fact, you will be numerous, but useless…. Allah Ta’ala will remove your respect and fear from the hearts of your enemies (who will then despise you) and Allah will instill weakness in your hearts.”

Someone asked: ‘What is the cause of the weakness?’

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Love of the world and detestation for Maut.” (Abu Dawood, Baihaqi)

9. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When Allah Ta’ala desires to punish people (for their sins) he causes their children to die in abundance and makes their women barren.” (Jazaaul A’maal)

10. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah Ta’ala says: ‘I am the King of kings, Their hearts are in my Control. When servants (i.e. Muslims) are obedient to Me, I make the rulers merciful to them. When the servants are disobedient to Me, I cause the rulers to oppress them and be cruel to them…..” (Abu Nuaim)

11. Hadhrat Wahab (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Allah Ta’ala said to Bani Israeel:

”When I am obeyed, I become pleased; when I become pleased I bestow limitless barkat. When I am disobeyed, I become Wrathful and I curse (the disobedient ones). The effect of My La’nat (Curse) extends to seven generations.” (Jazaaul A’maal, Ahmad)

This does not mean that the Curse which descended on the wrongdoers, settles on the future generations as well. However, the future generations are deprived of the goodness and barkat which would have come their way if their forbearers were pious. The beneficial effects of the piety of parents are transmitted to offspring. But, if the parents are evil, there will be no goodness and benefits which could be transmitted to their offspring.
12. Hadhrat Wakee’ (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) said:

“When a man becomes disobedient to Allah Ta’ala then those who (formerly) praised him (the man), begin to find fault with him.” (Ahmad)

These narrations speak of sin and disobedience to Allah Ta’ala in general. The evils and harms which flow in the wake of sinning are stated in these ahadith. Some ahadith relating to specific harms of sins will now be cited.

1. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah Ta’ala has cursed the devourer of riba, the payer of riba, the writer (i.e. he who writes out the riba document) of riba, and the witnesses of riba. All are equal (in sin).” (Muslim)

2. Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“After the kabaa-ir (major sins), the greatest sin is that one dies leaving debt, but no wealth for its payment.” (Ahmad, Abu Dawood)

3. Hadhrat Abu Hurrah Riqaashi (radiallahu anhu) narrates on the authority of his paternal uncle that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“How! Do not be unjust. Hear! A man’s wealth is not halal (for another) without his voluntary consent.” (Baihaqi, Daar Qutni)

This hadith brings within its scope of warning all forms of injustices in which the rights of others were usurped and violated. Examples of such violation of rights are:

- Incurring debt and not paying.
- Depriving the rightful Shari heirs of their inheritance.
- Extracting funds for charitable purposes by exercising pressure, whether direct or indirect, on people. People are sometimes put to shame and contribute towards the charitable project what they cannot afford. Prominent people make use of their influence to extract contributions. This is in fact a form of exertion.

4. Hadhrat Saalim (radiallahu anhu) narrates on the authority of his father that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Aman who usurps even one cubit of land belonging to another, will be garlanded with the (weight) of that land as far as it extends into the seven earths.” (Bukhari, Ahmad)

In another narration by Hadhrat Tau’baan (radiallahu anhu) it is said that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) cursed the agent who arranged the bribe as well. (Ahmad, Baihaqi)

In the case of bribery too, exceptions. Where one is not able to escape the oppressions and injustice of an oppressor, but by giving a bribe, it will not be sinful to give a bribe in such circumstances, but it will always remain haraam for one to accept a bribe.

6. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) prohibited liquor and gambling. (Abu Dawood). All forms of intoxicants are covered by this hadith Insurance, lotteries, etc., all forms of qimaar (gambling) which are prohibited.

7. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“My Rabb has commanded me to destroy all musical instruments…..” (Ahmad)

8. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The fornication of the eyes is to look with lust; the fornication of the tongue is to speak lustful things; the fornication of the hands is to touch with lust; the fornication of the feet is to walk towards lust; the fornication of the heart is to desire evil;… (Muslim)
These forms of ‘fornication’ are stepping stones to the final act of zina (fornication). Intermingling with the opposite sex gives rise to such acts which lead to fornication.

9. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The major sins are: to commit shirk with Allah Ta’ala, disobedience to parents, killing an innocent person, and to take a false oath.” (Bukhari)

Shirk means to associate any created being or object in the worship or in the specific attributes of Allah Ta’ala, such attributes which belong to Him exclusively. Among the practices of shirk prevalent in our time are:

· Worshipping of graves of the Auliya of Allah Ta’ala. The Auliya are the created beings and servants of Allah Ta’ala. Worshipping their graves by means of sajdah, ruku, tawaaf of the graves is among the worse acts of shirk. Kissing the graves of the Auliya and adorning the graves with bed-sheets also are linked to the practice of shirk.

· Taking a vow in the name of some Wali of Allah Ta’ala. Vows (Minnat) can be taken in the Name of only Allah Ta’ala.

· Believing that Allah Ta’ala has assigned the affairs of the universe to created beings in such a way that the created beings act independently of the Will of Allah.

· The belief that the Auliya are able to grant children, wishes and prayers (dua). In consequence of this belief of shirk people direct their dua directly to the Auliya instead of directly to Allah Ta’ala.

Disobedience to parents applies to all such things which are not in contradiction to the Law of Allah Ta’ala. Obedience to parents is of paramount importance, but obedience to parents is not permissible in such things which are haraam. It is not permissible to obey parents if their wishes conflict with the Wishes of Allah Ta’ala.

10. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“(Among the major sins are): to devour the wealth of orphans, to flee from the battlefield of Jihaad and to slander innocent and chaste women (to accuse them of fornication and immorality).” (Bukhari, Muslim)

In another hadith Hadhrat Abu Hurairah also mentions among the great sins, stealing, banaditry and fornication. (Bukhari, Muslim)

11. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

Four qualities in man render him a total munaafig (hypocrite). If one (of these four) exists in him, a share of nifaaq (hypocrisy) is found in him; such nifaaq will remain in him as long as he retains that quality. (These four qualities of nifaaq are):

· Abuse of trust when trust is reposed in him.
· When he speaks, he lies.
· When he promises, he violates his promise.
· When he argues, he becomes abusive.

Hadhrat Safwaan Ibn Assaal (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Do not deliver an innocent person to the rulers so that he be executed (or oppressed) and do not practice magic.....” (Tirmizi, Abu Dawood, Nisaai)

All forms of injustices committed with the aid of the authorities in the land and all forms of evil satanic practices such as witchcraft. Fortunetelling, etc., come within the scope of this hadith’s prohibition.

The following are some evil acts prohibited in Islam and for which grave warnings of punishment have been sounded by Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam):

· To taunt a person.
· To call a person by a degrading nick-name.
· To cast suspicion against someone.
· To search for the faults of others.
· Gheebat (scandal ling)
· To gossip.
· To revile a person for no proper reason.
· Double-talk, to be two-faced.
· To slander.
· To deceive.
· Pride, vanity.
· Cruelty and oppression.
· Refraining from aiding one in hardship inspite of having the means.
· To create loss for another in his wealth.
· To cast aspersions against a person thereby running his reputation.
· To be unkind to juniors and disrespectful to seniors.
· To break ties with a Muslim for some worldly motive.
· Pictures of living things-people and animals.
· Shaving or cutting the beard.
· Imitating the kuffaar and fussaaq in dress.
· For women to imitate men in dress and for men to imitate women in dress.
Besides the above, there are many other sins and it is essential to abstain from all sin. Involvement in sin stunts spiritual development and the Noor of Imaan does not glitter. Sin darkens the heart. Sin hardens the heart and creates a detestation for Allah Ta’ala and for all pious men associated with Allah Ta’ala. Constant indulgence in sin creates in one an aversion for pious company. The consequence is that the one given up to sin recedes further and further from the Rahmat of Allah Ta’ala. He then loses all hope in rectitude and in the mercy and forgiveness of Allah Ta’ala. When overcome by this destructive condition, the Believer will be standing on the threshold of kufr.

It is essential to continuously resort to taubah and seek the forgiveness of Allah Ta’ala. Taubah and Istighfaar do not allow the darkness flowing from sin to engulf and permanently settle on the heart. Taubah secures forgiveness for all sins of violation of Allah’s Rights. However, if the sin involves the huqooq (rights) of others as well, a requisite for obtaining forgiveness is to rectify the rights of those whose rights were violated. This is to be done by either discharging the actual object if the haqq is in tangible form, e.g. money, etc., or by obtaining pardon if the right is intangible, e.g. slander, abuse, violence against the person.

13. Hadhrat Abdullah Ibn Mas’ood (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“A sincere repenter of sins is like one who has not committed sins.” (Baihaqi)

14. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Discharge the rights of the brother (Muslim) today-whether such rights pertain to his honour or wealth-before there comes the time (Aakhirah) when there will be neither gold or silver.” (Bukhari)

If arrangements are not made here to fulfil usurped or undischarged huqooq (rights), the demand for discharge will be made in the Aakhirah. But, there, man will have no means of paying his rights and fulfilling what he had cast aside here. Thus, he will be made to pay and discharge the rights of others in Qiyaamah by means of his accepted virtuous deeds. His deeds (the sole capital of the Believer in Aakhirah) will be taken and in proportion to the right usurped will be handed over to the Saahibul Haqq (the one who is entitled to the rights).

Sabr and Shukr

Among the attributes essential for man’s spiritual as well as worldly progress and prosperity are Sabr (patience) and Shukr (gratitude).

The conditions and circumstances which occur to man, be these voluntary or involuntary are of two types: pleasing or displeasing. If the circumstances occurring to man are pleasing, he should consider these as favours from Allah Ta’ala and offer his heartfelt appreciation and gratitude. He should consider such bounties more than what he actually deserved and verbally he should recite the praises of Allah Ta’ala. Furthermore, he must not employ such bounties of Allah Ta’ala in sinful avenues, e.g. spending wealth in un-Islamic customs; using one’s strength influence and knowledge in ways deprecated by the Shariah. This is the meaning of Shukr.

On the other hand, the circumstances arising may be displeasing, causing anxiety and difficulty to one. When man is confronted with such conditions, he should consider that in these untoward condition Allah Ta’ala has placed some benefit which is not discernable ordinarily. Such conditions are subject to Allah’s wisdom and they are for the betterment of the one involved in the displeasing condition. The attitude of the Mu’min in such circumstances should be one of resignation. He should not complain nor display impatience. If the displeasing occurrence is a command of the Shariah, he should adhere to it firmly and not permit frustration and worry to overtake him. If the condition is some calamity which has befallen him, he must bear it with firmness and not be overwhelmed by despondency. This is the meaning of Sabr.

Of the two attributes, Sabr is the more difficult. This attribute is more in demand since man is confronted more with circumstances which are displeasing and difficult to him. As examples, some conditions of displeasure will be cited here.

- The nafs of man becomes agitated and perplexed at the imposition of Deeni duties which have to be rendered. It thus attempts to escape such acts which are commanded by Allah Ta’ala. It desires the commission of haraam and seeks a release from the obligations of Salaat, Saum, etc. It becomes displeased when an unlawful source of income has to be banished. It feels a great burden in discharging the rights of others. In such cases man has to adopt courage and suppress the baneeful urges and dictates of the nafs. He has necessarily to overcome his urges of the nafs and proceed undaunted with the execution of the commands of Allah Ta’ala, irrespective of the displeasure the nafs suffers. Such displeasure and apparent difficulty will be short-lived. Firmness and harnessing the nafs into obedience will very quickly produce comfort and peace. The initial displeasure will be transformed into pleasure.

· The calamities of poverty, sickness, death, persecution by enemies, loss of property, etc. When confronted by such misfortunes, reflect on the possible wisdoms underlying these calamities. The greatest benefit to be achieved from such displeasing conditions is thawaab from Allah Ta’ala. Allah Ta’ala has promised great reward for the Believer overtaken by calamities.

When such calamities befall man, he should not unnecessarily publicize them nor should he meditate on these misfortunes. He should not make these misfortunes the occupation of his mind. Adoption of this attitude will create peace in the heart. However, if there are lawful ways and means of combating the calamity, these should be adopted.

· An oppressor creating obstacles in the way of the Deen. One is thwarted by an unjust person in the execution of one’s Islamic duties or attempts are made to bring disrepute and insult on the Deen. When confronted by such opposition, The Mu’min holds life cheap. Do not consider life to be of any importance in the endeavour to elevate the Word of Allah Ta’ala. But, this does not mean the creation of anarchy based on desire. Even in the endeavour to uphold the Shariah, the Shariah-the Law of Allah mut not be violated.

The above are some examples of conditions in which Sabr has to be adopted. Some narrations in this regard will now be cited.

1. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan”

“Seek aid with Sabr and Salaat.” (Surah Baqarah)
If love of wealth and love of fame over whelm man and impede the development of his Imaan-as it will most certainly do-he should engage in Sabr and abundance of Salaat, for this will most assuredly fortify him against the onslaught of this nafs. The form of Sabr advocate in this aayat is abstention from the desires and dictates of the nafs.

2. “We shall certainly test you by means of some fear, poverty, loss of wealth and life. And, give glad tidings (of thawaab) to those who adopt Sabr (in the face of these calamities). (Surah Baqarah)

3. Regarding the Preservence and fortitude of some nations of the past, Allah Ta’ala says:

“They lost not courage because of the hardships which confronted them in the Path of Allah. They were not weakened nor were they awed by the enemy. Allah Ta’ala loves such Saabireen (those who are steadfast and have patience).” (Sura Aale Imraan)

Men of Allah are steadfast in the face of the enemy. Hardships and obstacles confronting them in their journey towards Allah Ta’ala do not deter them. Their fortitude and steadfastness-their Sabr-are such that they do not descend to flattering the enemies of Allah Ta’ala. Their gaze is focused on Allah Ta’ala and they know that victory is theirs.

4. Allah Ta’ala says:

“Those who are patient (have Sabr in their Deeni activities), we will most certainly reward them for their good acts.” (Surah Nahl)

“…… the men who have Sabr and the women who have Sabr ..... for them all, Allah has prepared forgiveness and a great reward (Surah Ahzaab)

All forms of Sabr are included in this aayat. Sabr in regard to ibaadat, Sabr in regard to sin and Sabr in regard to calamities are within the purview of this aayat which promises great reward and forgiveness for the Saabireen.
5. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Shall I inform you of something by means of which Allah eliminates sin and elevates ranks? Performing a perfect wudhu when making wudhu is displeasing (to the nafs), walking much to the Musjid, and waiting anxiously for the arrival of another salaat after having performed one Salaat” (Muslim, Tirmizi)

6. hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates:

“My Beloved (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) made wasiyyat to me that I should not commit shirk with Allah Ta’ala even if my flesh is cut up and even if I am cast into a fire....” (Ibn majah)

Preservence on such occasions is a high rank of Sabr. However, in cases of brutality and torture, the Qur’aan hakeem grants permission to make a verbal declaration of even kufr provided that the heart does not deny Imaan. The extraction of anti-Imaan statements from a person under torture does not come within the Islamic definition of kufr and shirk.

7. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) once appointed Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) as commander of an army which was dispatched on an expedition by sea. In the darkness of the night while the ship was sailing, a caller from above the ship exclaimed:

“O occupants of the ship! Let me inform you of something which Allah Ta’ala has undertaken as His responsibility.”

Hadhrat Abu Musa (radiallahu anhu) answered:

“If you have something to tell us then speak up.”

The Caller called out:

“Allah Ta’ala has undertaken the responsibility of quenching the thirst on the Day of Qiyaamah of those who remained thirsty during fasting on hot days.” (Targheeb)
8. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"A person who struggles in the recitation of the Qur’aan (on account of his inability to recite properly), will gain a double reward from Allah.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

9. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The most beloved deed to Allah is such a deed on which there is constancy even if the deed is little.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

It is quite evident that Sabr is required in being constant in practicing a deed.

10. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Jahannum is veiled in pleasures and delights while Jannat is veiled in difficulties and hardships. (Muslim)

11. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"A Muslim’s sins are forgiven whenever he is overtaken by hardship and difficulty even if it be a thorn which pricks him.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

12. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“A man who remains with Sabr and with the niyyat of thawaab at a place overtaken by an epidemic and believing that only what Allah has decreed will happen, will attain the thawaab which a shaheed (martyr) obtains.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

13. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
“Allah Ta’ala will give Jannat in return for the two eyes on which patience was exercised.” (Bukhari)

This hadith refers to a man losing his sight. Blindness is indeed a great hardship. Sabr in this difficulty will be rewarded with Jannat.

14. Hadhrat Abu Hurairah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: that Allah Ta’ala said:

“There is nothing but Jannat for the one who is patient and hopes for thawaab when I take away someone beloved to him.” (Bukhari)

Sabri is of great merit especially on occasions of death of near and dear ones.

16. Hadhrat Abu Musa Ash’ari (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said that Allah Ta’ala orders the Malaaikah to erect a special mansion in Jannat for the one who had exercised patience and praised Allah Ta’ala when an infant had passed away. The name given to such a special place in Jannat is ‘Baitul Hamd’. (Ahmad, Tirmizi)

17. Hadhrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Allah Ta'ala loves three persons to whom He directs His special Gaze of Mercy .... (Among the three, one is) a man who is prepared to sacrifice his life in the Path of Allah, whether he actually loses his life or Allah Ta’ala grants him victory (over the enemy). In regard to such a person, Allah Ta’ala says: ‘Look at this servant of Mine! How he has dedicated his life to My cause! (Targheeb)

Sufficient narrations have been cited to indicate the significance and importance of Sabr.

Shukr will now be explained.

Shukr is an ibaadat. A characteristic of Shukr is that it simplifies the ibaadat of Sabr. A man who has adopted Shukr will take calamity and hardship in his stride. Since he realizes the tremendous bounties of Allah Ta’ala on him, hence his gratitude, he will understand that the hardship has been imposed on him by his Benefactor, Allah Ta’ala, in his own interests. His mind in thus conditioned to accept all hardships with resignations and without complaint. For the sake of gaining thawaab he will bear the hardships without being overwhelmed by frustration. On the contrary he will derive pleasure from the realization that the hardship has been imposed on him by his Benefactor, Allah Ta’ala.

A man of Shukr (gratitude) reflects on the ni’mats bestowed on him by Allah Ta’ala. Such reflection strengthens the bond of love between man and his Benefactor. He cannot, therefore, become despondent and break down in the face of difficulties which he realizes are trials from the side of his Creator and benefactor Who has always showered him with His numerous blessings and Bounties. Thus, Sabr, based on the attitude of Shukr becomes a simple matter for the one overcome by calamities and hardships.

Some narrations regarding Shukr will now be cited.

1. Allah Ta’ala says:

“Remember Me and I will remember you. Be grateful to Me and be not ungrateful. (Surah Baqarah)

2. “If you are grateful for My bounties, I will increase (these) for you. If you are ungrateful, then My punishment is severe.” (Surah Ibraheem)

3. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Whoever has attained four things has attained the goodness of this world and the Aakhirah. These are: A heart which makes Shukr; a tongue which makes Thikr; a body which adopts Sabr when overtaken by trials and tribulations; and, a wife who is chaste and does not abuse the wealth of her husband.” (Baihaqi)

It is a fact that the life of man is always confronted by some condition or the other. He may by involved in pleasing or displeasing circumstances. When enjoying pleasing conditions, man has to be grateful. He has to show Shukr. When apprehended by displeasing conditions, he has to adopted Sabr. Thus Shukr and Sabr are attributes which are to be applied at all times. Remember this well and you will live a life of peace and comfort.

Muslim social conduct

This section deals with issues which are of great importance for the development of the Ummah’s social life. Without a healthy social life based on piety, there will be corruption, mistrust and dissension in the community. There are certain factors which are essential ingredients for a successful communal life. Without these a community cannot hope to have love and unity among its members. Among these essential factors, one is consultation. Consultation in affairs should be based on honesty and true sympathy for the one to whom the advice is given. If there is no mutual trust among people, there will be no confidence on the advice given. Mutual trust, love and unity among people are possible only if people ensure that they do not cause harm, difficulty and discomfort for others while at the same time there should be concern to save others from harm and hardship. This attitude will bring about true unity and love among the individuals of a community. Consultation with others also facilitates the progress of mutual love and unity.

Three essentials have been mentioned in the foregoing explanation, viz., consultation, mutual relationship and straight dealings, Some narrations will now be cited in regard.

1. Hadhrat Sahl Bin Sa’d (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:
   “Calmness in affairs is from Allh and haste in affairs is from shaitaan.” (Tirmizi)
   Consultation impedes haste which leads to failure. By consulting with others, calmness is introduced into one’s affairs. In such procrastination pertaining to worldly matters, there is worldly benefit as well as Deeni benefit since the Deen has stated the significance of procrastination in mundane matters.

2. Allah Ta’ala says:
   “(O Muhammad)! Consult with them (Shaabah) in special matters. And, when you have arrived at a decision (after consultation, irrespective of whether your decision conforms to the advice given or not) then have trust in Allah (and proceed). Verily, Allah loves those who rely on Him.” (Aale Imraan)
The special matters refer to such affairs in regard to which no Wahi (Revelation) had come from Allah Ta’ala although they were important. Consultation has not been reported in regard to matters of trivial importance.

3. Allah Ta’ala says:

“Their (the Believers) affairs are decided by mutual consultation.”

(Surah Shuraa)

The Qur’aan Shareef praises the Mu’mineen on account of the praiseworthy practice of ‘shuraa’ or consultation by means of which they decide their affairs. The significance of consultation may be gauged from the fact that Allah Ta’ala ordered even Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) to consult with his Sahaabah regarding matters of importance. Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) say that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) consulted with the Shaabah in regard to the Battle of Badr.

4. Hadhrat Maimoon Ibn Muhraam (radiallahu anhu) narrates that when no direction on an affair could be found in the Qur’aan and Hadith, Hadhrat Abu Bakr (radiallahu anhu) would convene a gathering of intelligent and experienced men and consult with them.

It is not incumbent on the one who seeks advice or consults with others to act in accordance with the advice proffered. The episode of Hadhrat Abu bakr’s (radiallahu anhu) determination to wage war against those who refused to pay Zakaat is ample testimony for this. Inspite of all advising against the campaign. Hadhrat Abu bakr (radiallahu anhu) rejected their unanimous advice and acted in terms of his own decision.

5. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that the consultants of Hadhrat Umar (radiallahu anhu) were Ulama-young as well as elderly Ulama. (Bukhari)

6. Hadhrat Jaabir (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“When a brother (Muslim) seeks to consult, then give him advice.” (Ibn Majah)
Some rules pertaining to consultation will now be mentioned.

· If the consultation is a matter which requires concealing, it should be maintained a secret.

· The participants in the consultation are people of trust. This means that what has been discussed in the gathering should not be publicized outside. However, if the discussion pertains to the usurping of another’s property or to harming anyone, then it will not be permissible to conceal the conspiracy.

Matter communal or national importance—matters which concern the community collectively—should not be publicized. Should one come by some information which concerns the entire community or nation. It has to be conveyed to the responsible persons in whose charge are the affairs of the community. In this regard Allah Ta’ala states in the Qur’aan Shareef.

“When they learn of some affairs regarding matters of safety or fear, they quickly spread it (among the people). If they referred the matter to the Rasool and to those in charge among them, then those qualified in such matters will know it (i.e. what action to take).”

(Surah Nisaa)

At times publication of certain information is not in the interests of the community or nation. Great harm may result in the publication of such matters. The Qur’aan Hakeem, therefore, prohibits such publication which may be news for the general public, but harmful for the nation as a whole. The news media generally fall in this category of reprimand. Most newspapers spread rumours and at times publish such reports which are largely detrimental to the national interests. Information is published without thorough investigation while sometimes investigations were made, but the reports besides having news value harms people, communities or nations. Such detrimental publication of news comes within the prohibition stated in the above-quoted Qur’aanic aayah.

Ittifaaq or unity is indeed a great nimat. Allah Ta’ala says in the Qur’aan Shareef:

“Hold, all of you, firmly onto the Rope of Allah and do not split up.” (Surah Aale Imraan)
The 'Rope of Allah is the Deen of Allah. The desired goal of unity is attainable only if the community adheres to the Law of Allah Ta’ala. Unity without correct adherence to the Shariah is not possible. For the Ummah, unity will remain an empty slogan as long as the Deen is not firmly and correctly upheld. Obedience to Allah Ta’ala will bring about the blessing of unity. Hence, the Qur’aan Shareef says:

“And, Allah created unity in their hearts.” (Surah Anfaal)

Linking unity to obedience of the Shariah, the Qur’aan Shareef says:

“O People of Imaan! Obey Allah and obey the Rasool. Do not dispute among yourselves, for your hearts will weaken and your awe (and power) will disappear.” (Surah Anfaal)

This aayat commands obedience to the Shariah in all affairs. The Believers are ordered to take their direction from Allah and His Rasool As a result of such obedience unity in the community will become attainable easily. Allah Ta’ala will produce mutual love and respect in the hearts of the Mu’mineen for one another. Such unity which stems from the hearts of people will create awe and power in the nation. In the absence of this true unity, people will dispute. Their disputes will not be sincere, but will be motivated by personal baneful and lowly motives. Infighting and mutual recriminations will prevail.

This will scatter the community and destroy its power. The kuffaar will lose respect for the nation. They will no longer fear the nation of Muslims (as is the case today). Muslims will thus be overwhelmed and dominated by others. This aayat, therefore, mentions the evil of disunity. It is declared the basis of unity and points out that the actual aim and object of Believers should be Obedience to the Deen.

Hadrat Abu Darda (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Maintain healthy (loving, brotherly and straightforward) relationship among yourselves. Corruption among you destroys (your Deen).” (Tirmizi, Abu Dawood)

Ittifaaq (Unity) is established and maintained by means of discharging Huqooq (Rights). People have to respect and honour the rights of one another. Disregard for the rights of other creates disunity. The question of Huqooq (Rights) has already been discussed in Rooh Nine.

RECITITUDE IN DEALINGS AND CONDUCT

Those who have some concern for Deen pay some attention to rectitude in their dealings. They do consider this matter as an issue of the Deen. However, they commit errors in their mutual dealings because of not having sufficient knowledge of the rules pertaining to such affairs. This situation may be quite simply rectified by studying the book ‘Saffi Muamalat’ (also by Hadhrat Maulana Ashraf Ali Thanvi) as well as the fifth part of Beheshti Zewer. In addition, enquiries should be made with an Aalim whenever information is required in these matters. Following the direction of an Aalim will ensure that the activity is conducted along Shari lines.

Regarding social conduct, it must be observed that this facet of life has been totally neglected. Even pious people in these times have separated this aspect of life from the Shariah. It is not even considered to be part of the Deen. Even people with Deeni inclinations regard social conduct as being a worldly matter having no link with the Shariah. This erroneous understanding has resulted in great neglect in this field of life. Some Qur’aani aayaat and Ahadith will be cited to convey the significance and importance of a healthy social conduct in the lives of Muslims.

1. Allah Ta’ala states:

   “O people of Imaan! Do not enter the houses of other until you have obtained consent and made salaam on the inmates of the house ......If you then do not find anyone therein, then do not enter the house until permission has been granted for you. And, if it is said to you: ‘Return! then return. That is purer for you ......” (Surah Noor)

The Mas’alah (Rule) regarding Istithaan (seeking permission to enter) is explained in the above verse of the Qur’aan. The fact that this act of social conduct has been mentioned in the Qur’aan Shareef is sufficient to convey the importance which Allah Ta’ala accords affairs of social intercourse. It is not proper for a Believer to enter the premises of another person without having obtained his prior consent. If consent is refused, offense should not be taken, for the one refusing the consent may have a valid reason. Thus, in refusing permission, the inmates of the house are fully within their rights. In the hadith recorded in Bukhari and Muslim it has been explained that if after having made salaam (i.e. saying Assalaam-o-Alaikum) thrice, no permission or reply from within the house is forthcoming, one should depart and not linger around. There is great wisdom in this command of the Shariah. It is quite possible that the inmates of the house may be in such a condition which does not permit their appearance. They may be having a rest. There may be sickness in the house and the arrival of someone is likely to create some disturbance. The inmates of the house may be engaged in some important work. Therefore, no one should take offense if permission is not granted or if no one from inside answer the knock at the door.

This matter or Istithaan (seeking permission to enter) seems to trivial importance to most people and is not considered of any Shari importance. But, the very fact that the Qur’aan decrees its Command in this question establishes its significance.

2. Allah Ta’ala says:

“O people of Imaan! When it is said to you in a gathering: ‘Make space’. (for newcomers), then make space. Allah Ta’ala will grant you a spacious place (in Jannat). If (on account of some need) it is said to you: ‘leave (the gathering)!’ then get up and leave.” (Surah Mujaadalah)

In this command too is great wisdom. If the leader in the gathering asks or orders anyone to leave the gathering, he should be obeyed. If space is limited, the Believers should endeavour to draw together and make space available for others with an open heart. One should not become selfish and consider only one’s own comfort.

3. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) went to bed. He remained laying on the bed until he thought that she had fallen asleep. She says:

“Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) slowly removed the blanket, put on his shoes very quietly, opened the door silently and went out. He then closed the door silently.”

On this occasion Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) went to Jannatul Baqi, the cemetery. Upon his return, he explained the reasons for his actions:
“I thought that you were asleep. I did not wish to disturb you and I feared that if you awoke and found yourself to be alone, you may become scared.” (Muslim)

The hadith states with clarity that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) was averse to disturbing Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha). This demonstrates the importance of not disturbing others by means of our acts and attitudes. A believer must always consider the next person and not behave in a neglectful and inconsiderate manner. Such disregard for the privacy and peace of others is contrary to the Shariah.

4. Hadhrat Miqdaah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that three people (himself included) were once the guests of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam). He says:

“After Isha we should go to sleep. When Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) returned late at night he made salaam in such a way that if anyone was awoke the could hear it and if anyone was asleep he would not be disturbed.” (Muslim)

The few narrations cited above will convey the great importance of social conduct in the lives of Muslim. Islam lays much emphasis on such matters. Social conduct is an integral part of the Shariah. It cannot be separated from Islam. This subject has been dealt with in detail in our book, Aadaabul Muaasharaat’ as well as in the Beheshti Zwer from Part Ten onwards. A study of this subject should definitely be made by all Muslims.

The distinguishing characteristics of the nation Islam

It is essential for Muslims to be distinguished from the followers of other religions and cultures. Muslims should be recognizable from their external appearances. External appearance is among the salient features of Islam. In such external appearance, the identity of the nation is maintained and Muslims are guarded against assimilation into other non-Muslim cultures. Islam thus stresses the importance of external appearances.

Islam prohibits unnecessary adoption of the ways and appearances of other nations. Certain acts which eliminate a Muslim’s identity are haraam even if they are not the special characteristics of other communities. Thus, shaving or cutting the beard, wearing shorts which expose part of the satr, etc., are completely forbidden. If a Muslim along with the adoption of such haraam ways despises or mocks at such Shari prohibitions, his act of transgression progresses from sin to kufr.

Then there are certain things which are not exclusive to any particular community. The adoption of such things will be permissible. If a form of dress is particular with a non-Muslim community, it will be sinful for Muslims to adopt such dress even if the Shari requirements in regard to satr concealment are fulfilled by such attire. Another example of prohibited imitation is to eat sitting at tables with knives and forks. This way of conduct in eating. Therefore, it will not be permissible to adopt the ways of non-Muslims in this regard even if such ways have no religious undertones. If the ways adopted from kufr are of religious import as well, then it will amount to kufr, e.g. wearing a cross, etc.

Then there are such things which are of neither religious nor cultural import. Such things are of real use and benefit. Even if such things are the inventions of the kuffaar, there will be noting wrong in adopting them. This applies to inventions of transport, communications, weapons and other items of benefit. However, in such matters, the layman should not determine to permissibility or prohibition of anything. He should obtain the advice and direction of the Ulama who will properly inform him.

It is also prohibited to adopt the ways and appearances of such Muslims who happen to be fussaaq and bid’atis. It is also prohibited for men to take on the attire and appearance of women and vice versa.

Some Qur’aanic aayaat and Ahadith on this subject will now be cited.

1. Allah Ta’ala says:

“Shaitaan said: ‘I will teach them to ruin the appearance made by Allah.” (Surah Nisaa)

Examples of ruining the appearances bestowed onto us by Allah Ta’ala are shaving the beard, tattooing. Certain changes pertain to adornment and are waajib (compulsory), e.g. clipping of the moustache, cutting nails, removal of the hairs below the naval and under the arms Other changes are permissible, e.g. for a man to shave the hair on his head, to cut the beard after it had exceeded a fist-length, etc. Such permissible ways of adornment are decided on by the Shariah and not by custom. Custom is not on par with Shariah. Furthermore, customs is subject to change with the times and attitudes of people, but not so the Shariah.

2. Allah Ta’ala says:

“Do not incline to the transgressors-for then the Fire will touch you.” (Surah Hood)

The Qur’aan prohibits Muslims from inclining (or adopting) to the ways, cultures and customs of the kuffaar. Inclining towards them is punishable by the Fire of Jahannum as is stated in the above aayaat. It is evident that if one adopts a culture or the ways of a particular people, it will be because of one’s pleasure for such ways and customs. The heart having inclined towards the aliens, adopts their ways which it finds pleasing and attractive. But, Islam forbids its followers to incline towards the transgressors and the kuffaar.

3. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Amr Bin A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once he had on him two garments which were dyed a saffron colour. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) commented:

"These are among the attire of the kuffaar. Do not wear these.” (Muslim)

Such bright coloured garments are not permissible for men.

4. Hadhrat Rukaanah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“The turban tied on top of a topi is a differentiating factor between the mushrikeen and us.” (Tirmizi)

Wearing of turbans is common to both Muslims and non-Muslims The Islamic aversion for imitation of non-Muslims is so great that it considered it necessary to create a difference in the wearing of the turban even if such difference was not visibly discernable. Hence, Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) ordered Muslims who donned the turban to have a topi on as well. The turban will be tied on top of the topi.
5 Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said: “Whoever imitates a nation (in its way and culture) becomes one of them,” (Ahmad, Abu Dawood)
If a Muslim adopts the appearance of the kaafir and faasiq, he will be associated with them in the sin.

6. Hadhrat Abu Raihaanah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) prohibited ten things. Among these ten things prohibited was to line garments with silk in the style of the non-Muslims (of that time). (Abu awood, Nisaai)

7. Hadhrat Ibn Abbaas (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah curses those men who adopt the appearances of women and those women who adopt the appearances of men.” (Bukhari)

8. Hadhrat Ibn Abi Mulaikah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that it was said to Aishah (radiallahu anha) that a certain woman wears shoes which resemble the shoes of men. Hadhrat Aishah (radiallahu anha) commented:

“Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) has cursed women who imitate men. (Abu Dawood)

Such imitation is greatly in vogue in our day. In such imitation is a double sin. One sin is the imitation of the opposite sex which in itself is prohibited. The other sin is the imitation of the kuffaar by adopting their styles and fashions of dress.

9. Hadhrat Hajjaj Bin Hassaan (radiallahu anhu) narrates:

“We went to meet Hadhrat Anas (the prominent Sahaabi; on this occasion Hajjaaj was a little boy). My sister Mugheera told me that at that time I was a little kid and I had two plaits on my head, Hadhrat Anas (radiallahu anhu) rubbed his hand over my head, made dua for barkat and said:

‘Cut off these plaits because this is the style of the Jews.’ (Abu Dawood)
10. Hadhrat Aamir Bin Sa’d (radiallahu anhu) narrating from his father says that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

"Maintain clean the area in front of your houses and do not imitate the Jews.” (Tirmizi)

11. Hadhrat Ibn Umr (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Allah curses the woman who adorns the hair (of others by means of adding hair) and the one who desires such adornment of hair, those who tattoo and who are tattooed.” (Bukhari, Muslim)

Adorning hair by the addition of hairs for women is mentioned in this hadith. If the hair added is human hair, such adornment will be haram in all cases. If the hair is artificial and has not been made from some haram or impure substances, it will be permissible for a married woman to resort to such adornment with the permission of her husband and for the sake of her husband. But such adornment will not be permissible for unmarried women because in presenting an artificial appearance with long hair is deception. She will be deceiving others.

Tattooing is forbidden in all circumstances.

13. Hadhrat Ali (radiallahu anhu) narrates that once Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) had an Arabian cross-bow in his hand. On this occasion Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) saw a cross-bow of Persian origin in the hands of a Muslim. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) commented:

“Throw it (the Persian bow) away and take one like this (Arabian bow) ….” (Ibn Majah)

From this command of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) it is apparent that the objects-of use of other nations should not unnecessarily be adopted. This applies to weapons and all other items of use and benefit. If Muslims have their own equivalent, they should make use of their own products and not give preference to the products of the non-Muslims.
14. Hadhrat Huzaifah (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“Recite the Qur’aan in Arabic style and tone (i.e. correct and with simplicity) and refrain from the style and tone of the People of the Book (Jews and Christians.....)” (Baihaqi)

Even in reciting, the ways of other nations and of people who do not follow the Shariah should not be imitated.

16. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Amr Ibnul A’s (radiallahu anhu) narrates that he heard Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) say:

“A woman who imitates men and a man who imitates women are not of us.” (Targheeb)

It is very essential that Muslim adopt Islamic ways and methods in all their affairs, whether worldly or Deeni. There is great benefit in Muslims maintaining their Islamic identity in all their affairs and not only in matters pertaining to worship. The Qur’aan and the Hadith emphasise this. Hadhrat Abdullah Bin Umar (radiallahu anhu) narrates that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) said:

“My Ummah will be split into seventy three sects of which all, save one, will be in the Fire.”

People enquired: “Which group will be saved (from fire)?

Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) replied:

“That group which will be on my path and the path of my Sahaabah.” (Tirmizi)

‘Path’ in the context of this hadith refers to the way which has to be followed. Following a way in opposition to it leads to Jahannum. Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) did not restrict his ‘Path’ to any specific department of the Shariah. This hadith covers both mundane and spiritual matters. Affairs pertaining to our worldly life as well as Deeni life are included in the Path of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam) and his Sahaabah. What actually constitutes the Path of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wasallam)? This is not a question which everyone can expound on the basis of his opinion. In this matter, the masses have no option other than enquiring from the Ulama who understand these issues. They have to follow the Ulama. Without following the direction given by the Ulama, the Deen of the masses is not safe.
